OUR WAR AIMS

"What we demand in in this war, therefore is nothing peculiar to ourselves. It is that the world be made fit and safe to live in; and particularly that it be made safe for every peace-loving nation which, like our own, wishes to live its own life, determine its own institutions, be assured of justice and fair dealing by the other peoples of the world as against force and selfish aggression. All the peoples of the world are in effect partners in this inte rest and for our own part we see very clearly that unless justice be done to others it will not be done to us. The program of the world's peace therefore, is our program." — President Wilson's Message of January 8.

SOLDIER AND SAILOR INSURANCE

In a short time a million checks a month will be issued from the Bureau of War-Risk Insurance to the families of the men constituting America's fighting force.

There had been up to January 18, 1918, 473,116 applications for total insurance of $4,011,391,000. The average amount applied for still keeps near the maximum of $10,000. A steady effort is being made to make our fighting forces "100 per cent insured," and there are many military units in which every member is insured and in some of them every man insured for the maximum of $10,000.

The automatic insurance granted by the law ceases on February 12, but by that time it is hoped that our whole military and naval forces will be "100 per cent insured" with the result that the family or dependents of everyone having a family or anyone dependent on him will be provided with a monthly allowance, and insurance in case of his death, and the member himself, if disabled, will receive a monthly allowance, and if totally disabled, will receive in addition rehabilitation and special education and training to fit him for some work.

The efforts of the Treasury Department to have every member of the military and naval forces insured under this law can be greatly assisted by the people at home of the soldiers and sailors if they will join in urging them to take out the insurance offered.

CLASS ONE EXAMINED BY MEDICO

Will Be Classified According To Physical Ability And Fitness

APPEALS OF EIGHT

Twenty-Three Added By Exemption Board To Class On Thursday

The physical examination of men placed in class one by the Clark County Exemption Board is proceeding daily at the courthouse where Dr. D. L. Field is being assisted by Dr. F. W. Wells and Dr. I. N. Ruddell. There have been enough class one men summoned —about 150 so far —to keep the dotors busy through next Tuesday and Wednesday. Men examined will be classified for first line service or limited service or will be disqualified according to their physical condition. Only class one men will be examined physically at this time.

The Third District Appeal Board, in session at Indianapolis, is passing upon appeals from the classifications of registrants made by the exemption boards in the area covered. Eight cases appealed from action of the Clark County Exemption Board are included in the last list announced by the Appeal Board, as follows: Perry G. Clapp, Marysville, class four; Richard Myers, Jeffersonville class three; Walter Q. Dunlevy, Memphis, class one; Edward S. Bottorff, Charlestown class three; John A. Roederer, Jeffersonville, class one; James L. Leonard, Jeffersonville class one; William J. Graham, Jeffersonvile class one; Edwin J. Fackler Jeffersonville class three.

Anoher twenty-three were placed in class one by the Exemption Board Thursday as follows:

Omer Miller, Borden; Andis P. Stone, Carwood; John Everhart Montgomery avenue; Alonzo J. Dean, Bethlehem; Arthur W. Bruce, Cincinnati; Andrew T. Rhiel, Charlestown; Geoage H. Brishaber, Henryville; Otto J. Eberts, 830 East Maple street; William Russell McClanahan, Otisco; Wyatt B. Wacker, 723 East Chestnut street; Robert M. Wyatt 101 Elm street; Otto J. ### NEW REGULATIONS

Issued To Give Country Use Of Men With Partial Physical Disability

Washington, Feb. 1— New regulations for selective draft physical examinations were issued today by Provost Marshal General Crowder in preparation for extension of the policy of accepting for special and limited service registrants unfitted for general military duty. They will bring into the service under the next draft many men who otherwise would be exempted.

The local boards are directed to pass upon registrants or general military service only when they come within the standards of unconditional acceptance or rejection. All other cases must be referred to the Medical Advisory Board for further examination. Hereatter there will benounconditional rejecting of men who have remediable defects.

The new regulations will bring men under five feet and over six feet six within their scope. Such cases will be referred to the Medical Advisory Board in most cases. Similar procedure will be required for men below minimum or above maximum height.

ANY MAIL ORDER?

Boy, Page Kaiser Bill!

Tell him, when you find him, that "one German baker" in Pulaski county is selling 16 ounce loaves of bread for 5 cents.

Say that the baker in question, who conducts a small establishment, is not only loyal to America and her allies, but has enlisted his wife to help him in the bakeshop in order that he may add to their "bit".

The case is one reported to Dr. Harry E. Barnard, federal food administrator for Indiana, by R. S. Rogers, county food administrator for Pulaski county.

Reports that "American bakers" in Medaryville were selling bread at 13 cents a loaf were investigated and found to be true, but the loaves weigh 24 ounces instead of sixteen.

When You Have A Cold

It is when you have a severe cold that you appreciate the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mrs. Frank Crocker, Pana, Ill., writes: "Our five-year-old son Paul caught a severe cold last winter that settled on his lungs and he had terrible coughing spells. We were greatly worried about him as the medicine we gave him did not help him in the least. A neighbor spoke so highly of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy that I got a bottle of it. The first dose benefited him so much that I continued giving it to him until he was cured."

WAR WON BY LETTER WRITING

This Is One Of The Ways In Which Women Strike For Freedom

A soldier now in France has written to the Woman's Home Companion and he says:

"When the ordinary person is away from home for any extended period he is sure to have an attack, severe or slight of that commonest of diseases, homesickness. And how far is France from here and what a new and unfamiliar land it is to most of us! But the country will not be half so strange as the mode of living. The majority os us will live day in and day out in the trenches —large cavernous, interminable ditches, where it is always half dark and often cold and damp. There will be none of the comforts of our homes. There will be long, sleepless, watchful nights followed by monotonous hours of daytime. Occasionally there will be an unexpected attack or a charge 'over the top' and after hours of fighting there will come a heavy, overpowering weariness. What will be the thoughts of your boy at such times? Quite naturally his mind will turn back to his home, his parents, his friends, his sweet heart; the beloved scenes and habits that, as he lies somewhere on the vast lonely battlefield, seem so far away and so dear to him.

"So far but one proven remedy for nostalgia has been found. This is the letter from home. It creates the impression that home is not so distant, after all and the reader's imagination makes much out of a few simple, sincere lines written in the familiar, beloved style of the writer.

"Exaggerated as the statement may seem, I believe this war may be won largely by successful letter-writing on the part of the women at home. In proof of this I could describe scores of incidents that took place during the period of the first Officers' Training Camp at Leon Springs, Texas this last summer. Men, older men as well as very young fellows, who were a little more than a hundred miles from their homes would stampede the mail orderlies daily At noon when the letters and papers were brought down from the post-office, little excited mobs would gather within two minutes at he distributing points in the squad rooms. One could tell by the smiles and the frowns who was getting the mail and who was not. When a hard-working student-officer suffered from a particularly severe attack of the blues, his companions usually knew he had not heard from home for several days."

SCHWINDS ARE IN COURT AGAIN

Wife Who Got Baby From Husband, Seeks Custody, Divorce And $5,000

Mrs. Mary Agnes Schwind, 808 Walnut street, filed suit in the Clark Circuit court against Aloysius Schwind, asking also $5,000 alimony and custody of her infant child, now about five months old, possession of which she recently recovered in habeas corpus proceeding at Cleveland.

Mrs. Schwind allges they were married June 27, 1916, and that on October 9, 1917 her husband "clandestinely abandoned" her and took with him, without her consent, her child, Robert Joseph age eight weeks and wet to Cleveland. Later she sued for divorce but dismissed it after her husband as she alleges, wrote for her to go to Cleveland but when she got there, she alleges, he refused to give her a home and she had to stay with relatives at Akron, Ohio. She alleges other acts of cruel treatment and was granted a restraining order to keep Schwind from molesting her, visiting at her home or taking or attempting to take away the child. Mrs. Schwind was formerly Miss Mary Agnes Smith of this city.

DOING PATROL DUTY ON BORDER

Lieut. Russell P. Kehoe Is In U. S. Cavalry

Lieut. Russell P. Kehoe, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Kehoe wrote his parents this week and told them that he was thoroughly enjoying a temperature of 90 degrees in the shade. This is a good deal warmer than it is either here or where Lieut. Kehoe was first sent, Fort Riley, Kas. He is stationed now at Mission, Texas which is on the Mexican border and he and his command are doing patrol duty along the frontier. Lieut. Kehoe has thus reached a part of the country where trouble may develop and is serving his Uncle Samuel in a very important manner.

BREAK IN ICE GORGE IMMINENT

Stage Of Sixty Feet At Cincinnati Must Soon Smash Through

DAMAGE IS IMMENSE

New Ferry Boat Safe Yet; Three Mail Boats Wreck At Cincinnati

River men at Jeffersonville are surprised that the ice gorges here have not broken before this but they were still holding tight Friday morning in spite of several partial breaks at points above. At Madison the ice moved a quarter of a mile and then became fast again.

It is believed the run out of the ice cannot be long depayed in spite of the return of lower temperature, eleven degrees above zero having been marked Friday morning. The river has risen at Cincinnati to a stage of approximately sixty feet, which is about ten feet above flood stage. Locally it continues to rise but on account of all the ice holding this volume of water back the rise has been only moderate, a matter of half a dozen feet.

The ice is gorged at Fern Creek just below Cincinnati, and is expected at any time to go out there when it will probably break up all along the river. The gorge moved twice at New Albany Thursday and stopped again.

Locally the river remains perfectly clear of ice and there is a channel almost up to Sir Mile island, with heavy ice along the Indiana side however. The ferry boat continues to make regular trips here, making the round trip in an hour. The boat was carrying a large number of vehicles Friday but is ready to take shelter as soon as the ice begins to move.

The situation at Louisville will be serious when the ice comes. The Pilgrim is among the boats sheltered in the canal which has always hitherto proved a safe harbor but the experience of other supposedl safe harbors this year gives cause for serious apprehension.

New Ferry Boat In Ice

The new ferry steamer bought some time ago by the Louisville and Jeffersonville Ferry Company is caught in th ice at Cincinnati where she was stopped several weeks ago when the river froze over, but it is hoped that the time of worst danger has passed. George Spellman, mate on the excursion steamer Pilgrim of the same company has been in charge of her. The ferry boat is laid up just below the City of Cincinnati which has been sunk by the ice floes with her sister boat the City of Louisville and the Loucinda. Spellman jumped into the water to get ashore when it seemed the boat was doomed by the mountain-high floes. He went in to his neck but got safely ashore. He has now come home indisposed as a result of his experience. Chris Bennett is in charge of the ferry steamer which will be brought here as soon as river conditions permit, the boat being needed to supplement the George Rogers Clark in the local ferry service.

If the world is to be saved by genius it is the genius of common sense.

WAR DEMANDS TRAINING OF MORE NURSES

Thousands of Young Women Are Needed to Fill Ranks of Nurses In Red Cross Service

Thousands of patriotic young women throughout the country are looking for ways in which they can serve the government at the present time.

The Bureau of Nursing of the Lake Division, American Red Cross, Cleveland, points out that there is no form of service open to women more greatly needed than that rendered by the nurses of the country.

The Red Cross Nursing Service—for which most registered nurses are eligible—constitutes the reserve for the army and the navy nurse corps. It is calling for many hundreds of highly qualified nurses for service abroad in our own hospitals and those of our allies. It is also calling many hundreds for service in the base hospitals in our cantonments.

"We have," says Miss Roberts, "nurses enough to meet our present need, but in order to maintain our health standards at home during and after the war and to continue to care for our armies many more must be trained.

"The need for skilled nurses during the next few years will be the greatest the world has ever known and the number of students in the spring classes now being enrolled in the schools for nurses, throughout the country should be limited only by the teaching facilities of the schools and by the clinical facilities of the hospitals with which they are connected."

The committee on nursing of the general medical board of the Council of National Defense has encouraged those hospitals possessing sufficient clinical material to increase their facilities for the thorough training of nurses and in many instances this has been done.

Following are some of the advantages in nursing education and some points a young woman should consider in selecting a training school:

1 Nursing education not only prepares for a large variety of professional fields, but is an excellent preparation for home and family life and for public service in many ways.

2 Almost upon enrollment the student begins her service to the community in helping to care for the sick, as a part of her instruction and training.

3 Life in most schools is healthy, wholesome, simple and regular. It is full of vivid human interest, the student sharing in deepest realities of life.

4 The graduate of a good school steps at once into regular professional life and work with an assured livelihood. No weary struggle to get a foothold—to show what she can do. The hospital has carried her over that stage. Her work is ready and waiting for her if she successfully completes her training.

5 The student is at no expense for tuition, board, lodging, laundry, uniform, etc., in the great majority of schools. Only a few schools charge a tuition fee, for preparatory course. The student is also cared for in illness.

6 Salaries compare favorably with salaries of other trained women. In some fields they are higher than the average. Especially is this true of teaching and administrative work either in institutions or in Public Health Nursing. Opportunities for advancement are many and steadily increasing.

Choice of Training School.

(a) Be careful in choosing a training school. Be sure that its diploma will enable you to register in your state.

(b) That its educational standards are good.

(c) That it offers thorough training in medical, surgical, children's and maternity nursing.

(d) That the housing and living conditions are such as to ensure the health and well-being of students.

(e) That the working conditions are modern and the hours reasonable.

(f) That the general standing of the school and its graduates is good. Where any doubt exists on this point further advice should be sought, through officials of the State Nurses' Association or the State Board of Examiners.

Addresses and further information can be obtained by writing to the Bureau of Nursing, Lake Division, American Red Cross, Garfield building, Cleveland.

The American Red Cross has provided $122,000 worth of supplies for the relief of sufferers in Guatemala. A party of experienced Red Cross relief workers has also been sent to Guatemala.

The American Red Cross in France does not admit to its staff any American of draft age unless they present the proper credentials from the United States military or naval authorities, giving the reasons why they are not qualified for military or naval service.

At present there are 2,352,079 Red Cross members in Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky.

DEFENSE COUNDIL IS SUMMONED

Meets Saturday Morning To Arrange For War Council

ON NEXT THURSDAY

Latter Date Must Be Held Open By All; Of Great Moment

The Clark County Council of Defense and the members of all its committees have been called to meet at Red Cross headquarters on the uper floor of the federal building Saturday morning at 10 o'clock and a full attendance is desired of those concerned.

The meeting is for the purpose of arranging for the War Council to be held here all day next Thursday. At that time several speakers whose names were recently announced, will be here. There will be conferences on all aspects of the work supervised by the Council of Defense and its allied activities, and there will be a mass meeting at night.

The entire public should be keeping this date of Thursday open. It is one of the most important meetings held in Jeffersonville since war was declared and the series of meetings being held all over the state during this campaign is regarded as most important with a view to informing the public and inspiring it with the energy and determination that are the ultimate winning factors in the war.

WHOLESALE KISSES FOR SOLDIER BOYS

International Film Service

Louise Hardy of Cambridge, Mass., gave each member of Company G, Three Hundred and First Infantry of Camp Devens, a perfectly good, sure-enough kiss. The "boys" like this kind of a salute.

Miss Hardy calls her kiss the "god-mother kiss." She says that she is god-mother to the "boys," and that whenever any of the company have headaches her kiss will drive it away. And when the "boys" go over there, she will "go over there" with them, because she is a trained nurse and has volunteered for foreign service.

Shot by Own Trap.

Alfred Mier, an aged farmer, who resides alone on his farm near Bennetts Corners, nine miles southeast of Berea, O., set a trap for the thieves in his barn by running a wire from the door to two revolvers. He had been missing tools from the barn. Recently he forgot his trap and stumbled against the wire. One of the revolvers was discharged and the bullet entered his leg just below the hip. He was taken to a Cleveland hospital in a serious condition.

JOHN ALLEN STUDIES POLITICAL FIELD

Hat May Be In Ring For Office Of Sheriff By Next Week

John Allen, of Carr township, was in the city Thursday looking over the political field with a view to being a candidate for Sheriff of Clark County. Mr. Allen was chief deputy under Sheriff William Long for two years and added many friends to those he already had. He also made Mr. Long an able assistant. Mr. Allen is a Democrat and comes from a strong Democratic township. John is telling his friends that in all probability his hat will be in the ring next week.

SEVEN CARS OF COAL ON WAY

Part Started Sixteen Days Ago; Local Situation Is Very Disquieting

A notice has been received by Fielding L. Wilson, fuel administrator for Clark county, showing that five cars are on the way from one Indiana mine to this city and two cars from another mine consigned to Sellersburg. They left on January 16, 18 and subseqent dates. These are part of fifteen cars requistioned about one month ago and there are one or two subsequent requisitions still to be filled.

There was practically no coal in Jeffersonville Thursday or Friday but dealers are each day managing to get small quantities and are taking care of their most urgent orders. The deliveries are however smaller than they were but the demand is not quite so acute as it was ten days ago.

DROWNING OF HER FATHER

Turns Daughter's Mind; Katie Shubnell Fears She Will Freeze To Death

A fear thatshe would freeze to death has obessed the mind of Miss Katie Shubnell, age 23, of Bennettsville, according to a finding of insanity by a lunacy commission consisting of Magistrate Charles E. Lewis, of Sellersburg and Dr. Q. R. Hauss and Dr. W. M. Varble. The evidence showed that she had been inclined to brood ever since the death of her father by drowning in a cistern about a year ago. She feared that if she froze to death, as she had a belief she would, there would be no one to care for her younger brothers and sisters. Application will be made to the South eastern Hospital for the Insane at Madison for her admission for treatment.

FIREMAN ENDS PAINS IN BACK WITH VIN HEPATICA

Takes Great Nature Medicine With Marvelous Results

Mr. E. W. English, of 111 E. Third avenue, fireman of Commerce Street Station, Knoxville, Tenn., says: "I can certainly recommend Vin Hepatica, the Universal System Purifier and Tonic to anyone suffering with pains in back as I did.

"I had terrible pains in both my back and side, hurting me dreadfully in stooping. Sometimes I thought I never could get up after I once stooped over. Nothing would do me any good. I could not sleep well, had rheumatic pains in my joints and was all run down. I took Vin Hepatica on the recommendation of a friend and, after taking three bottles the pains have all gone. Have gained in weight and am doing fine.

The reason for this is that Vin Hepatica is not a patent nostrum, but a real medicine —a combination of eight of the finest herbal remedies known to medical science for just such troubles.

We strongly recommend Vin Hepatica. Come in, get a bottle and try it. It will do you good.

DEMAND FOR ACCOUNTANTS

Several Hundred Wanted By Uncle Sam; Salaries $2,400 To $,6000

Washington, D. C., February 1—The United States Government is in need of several hundred expert cost accountants to fill vacancies in the accounts section of the finance department of the equipment division of the Signal Corps, War Department, and in other branhes for duty in Washington, D. C. or in the field, according to an announcement just issued by the United States Civil Service Commission. The salaries offered range from $2,400 to $6,000 a year. Men only are desired.

The duties of appointees to the Signal Corps will consist of the determination of production costs of airplanes and airplane motors either as supervisors in charge at one or more of the several plants or as assistants; or appointees may be assigned to duty in Washington D. C.

Applicants will not be assembled for a written examination, but will be rated upon the subjects of education and experience as shown by their applications and corroborative evidence.

The Commission states that on account of the urgent needs of the service applications for these positions will be received until further notice.

Complete information may be obtained from the secrtary of the local board of civil-service examiners at the post office or with the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C.

A Hint To The Aged

If people past sixty years of age could be persuaded to go to bed as soon as they take cold and remain in bed for one or two days, they would recover much more quickly, especially if they take Chamberlain's Cough emedy. ### PROMOTE AMERICAN FLYERS WITH FRENCH

Those Actively Engaged in Aerial Fighting to Get Commissions in United States Army.

Nearly 300 American youths are either flying at the front in the French aviation service, or are finishing their training at various French flying schools in France.

They are all volunteers and were recruited chiefly from the ambulance services, where they were formerly drivers on the French front.

They are entirely separate and distinct from the hundreds of American youths who are in the aviation branch of the signal corps of the United States army and who are receiving their training in various schools taken over from the French army.

It is expected that all of these Americans now officiating with the French army will be taken over by the American expeditionary force under the command of General Pershing, soon after the first of the year.

Those who have been actively engaged in aerial fighting for some time like the members of the Lafayette Escadrille and a score of more other Americans attached to various French units, will probably receive captaincies in the United States army.

Others, who have only been at the front for a short time, will be made first lieutenants, and it is expected that all the rest—practically every man holding a brevet from the French schools, will be made a second lieutenant in the United States army.

This will be a marked promotion, as in the French air service the men automatically become corporals when pupils at the flying schools, and then sergeants when they receive their brevets as aviators. Their next promotion to sublieutenant may come at any time or never.

Raoul Givas Lufbery, the American ace, with 18 German machines officially to his credit, is only a sublieutenant in the French service, a step above the ordinary beginners, who are sergeants.

William Thaw of Pittsburgh, who was in the Foreign Legion during the first year of the war and then entered aviation and organized the American Escadrille, as the Lafayette unit was first called, has been made a first lieutenant in the French army. It is believed that both he and Lufbery will receive commissions as flight-majors in the United States army.

HOW TO WIN

As viewed by the leaders of the Democratic party in all parts of the State the place where the party will win the elections in 1918 is at the May primaries. It is urged that the rank and file of the democratic party get together in each congressional district, forget all personal interests other than the one central purpose of best serving the country and winning the war. Insure the candidacy of the biggest man in each district, a man who stands patriotically back of President Wilson to win this war; a man who has high ability such as times like the present demand in congress; place such a man on the ticket and there will be no question of the people electing him in any district in Indiana.

It is up to the people to attend to this patriotic duty at once, since the May primaries are drawing near and it is in this primary that the nominations must be made. It is up to each district democratic organization to see that the voters unite in this patriotic work and do it now.

Of equal importance is the election of members of the Indiana General Assembly. Each senatorial and legislative district in the State should at once organize to nominate men of ability, men who have the confidence of every voter in the district regardless of the party affiliations of such voters.

When You Have A Cold

It is when you have a severe cold that you appreciate the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mrs. Frank Crocker, Pana, Ill., writes: "Our five-year-old son Paul caught a severe cold last winter that settled on his lungs and he had terrible coughing spells. We were greatly worried about him as the medicine we gave him did not help him in the least. A neighbor spoke so highly of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy that I got a bottle of it. The first dose benefited him so much that I continued giving it to him until he was cured."

READY FOR THE FIRING LINE

Senator Thomas Taggart arrived in Indianapolis this week from the south where he has been since Christmas. The Senator displayed his old time "pep" and carried his smile. His friends noticed the improvement in his health with sincere pleasure. We believe Senator Taggart will be on the firing line in the Indiana campaign this year as actively as ever. This will be cheering news to all Indiana Democrats.

POOL ROOM WAS RAIDED BY OFFICERS

Four Louisville Men Taken In Room At Stauss Hotel Friday

MUCH BOOTY SEIZED

Bet Said To Be Telephoned In While Officers Were In Room

The cases of four Louisville men, arrested on a charge of running a pool room, were set by Mayor Newton H. Myers for trial next Tuesday in city court.

The arrests were a result of a raid made by the Jeffersonville police Friday afternoon on an alleged pool room in the Stauss hotel, at room 19, third floor. The four Louisville men taken in the raid gave bond of $200 each for their appearance to answer a joint charge of keeping a room for gaming. The men were: Charles Brown, Robert Kingman, George Webster and William Morris. Capt. William F. Ciseo, a former chief of police in Jeffersonville, wll known race horseman, went on their bond which was taken by Mayor Newton H. Myers.

The raid was carried out by Capt. James N. Masters, chief of police; Claude McBride, prosecuting attorney; Sergt. Robert Gleason and Patrolman Ellsworth W. Summers, Asa Prince, P. L. Edgerton and William Dolan. After the four men had been escorted to the police station the officers loaded up the paraphernalia in the place and took two wagon loads of it out to the police staion. The room was entirely dismantled, furniture, a safe, files instruments; old telegrams; three blackboards; four sheets canceled race tickets, etc., being included.

It is said that the method of runnning the pool room was the use of the telephone and it has long been reputed that the place was in operation. So far as it is undrstood the place was run entirely by Louisville men and for Louisville men but by being placed in Indiana was beyond the jurisdiction of the Louisville officers. The telephone is not listed, it is said, in the directory.

The complaint charges the men with "keeping a room occupied with apparatus, books and other devices or the purpose of recording and registering bets and wagers and of selling pool upon the results of contests of skill, speed and endurance of man and beast."

Prosecuting Attorney McBride said one of the men alleges he was employed by Edward Alvey. The Proecuting Attorney said that among the large quantity of parphernalia taken from the room were packages addressed to Edward Alvey.

During the raid Prosecuting Attorney McBride said one of the numerous telephones in room 19 rang and he answered it.

"This is Darby Cunnigham," Prosecuting Attorney McBride said the speaker told him. "I want to play $300 straight on 'Algamator;' is it a go?" "You are faded." Prosecuting Attorney McBride said he replied "the joint has been raided."

The telephone bells rang continually, said Prosecuting Attorney McBride.

Entrance to the hotel was gained through the main door, which faces Spring street. "We found three of the men in the room," Prosecuting Attorney McBride said "and such a scrambling you never saw. They were trying to make away with the evidence, but they were not quick enough. The men were taken to the police station, following which there was a search of the room."

The raid may seriously affect the Southern Telephone Company of Indiana, as it is claimed the company violated a restraining order issued several years ago, but which still is operative, prohibiting the furnishing of gambling nformation of any kind.

All of the paraphernalia was loaded into a wagon and taken to the police station to be held as evidence.

It was turned over to the custody of Sheriff John Dellinger.

SURVEY OF SEED SUPPLY AND NEEDS

Organization Perfected To Cover County; One To Four Square Miles

TO TABULATE RESULTS

Oregon Township Farmers Will Hold Institute On Wednesday

Next week, starting Monday, a seed survey will be made in Clark county as in ninety-one other counties in the state of Indiana. It will be under the direction of James B. Green. Hugh A. Stevens, county agricultural agent here, will have general supervision of four counties including Clark, Floyd, Jefferon and Scott counties. Townhip chairmen have been named and canvessers appointed each to cover four square miles of territory which is expected to mean from fifteen to thirty farmers to be viited by each canvasser.

Facts are to be obtained on seed conditions for corn, oats clover, potatoes; soy beans and cowpeas. Farmers will be requeted to give information as to their requirements, the adequacy of their supplies and whether they have a surplus and what price they are willing to sell it for. Other questions will have to do with labor, hom much is required whether it has been obtained and whether boys can be used.

This information will be tabulated at county headquarters which will be a clearing house for each part of the county to help the other and for each county to help every other county in the state.

Farmers' Institute

The annual farmers' institute of Oregon township will be held next Wednesday, February 6, at Otisco M. E. church. The instructors assigned by Purdue University, extension department, are R. A. Ogg, who will speak in the morning on "Why Clover Fails" and in the afternoon on "Farming to Fit Conditions" and Mrs. Lewis Taylor whose morning topic will be "Feeding the Family" and afternoon, "Women and Poultry." Arrangements have been made for full discussion. Sandwiches and pie will be served for dinner at noon.

Pork continues to command luxurious prices. Perhaps the man who, according to the old ditty, "kept the pig in the parlor" was not so far wrong.

HARRY E. PETERS

Will Seek Nomination For Circuit Clerk

In another column will be found the official annauncement of Harry E. Peters, that he will go before the Democratic primary in May and seek the nomination of the party for the office of clerk of the Clark Circuit court.

Mr. Peters, who has a wide acquaintance both in the city and rural districts, is a native of Marysville, a town located in a staunch Democratic township that has been rarely honored by the choice of an office bearer for the county though it always does its full share in helping to elect the Democratic ticket. Mr. Peters is a son of the farm who knows its toils and has made his own way by industry and application. After graduating from the public schools he took a course at the Marion Normal and also a business course at the Bryant & Stratton College.

Later Mr. Peters turned his attention to teaching. He was principal for three years of the township schools and for several years afterwards was a member of the teaching staff at the Indiana Reformatory, a place to try the metal of a teacher. When calls were issued for volunteers for the officers' training camp Mr. Peters resigned his position and was accepted for training, but an unfortunate accident to his arm incapacitated him for that line of activity and he was honorably discharged. He is now "doing his bit" at the United States quartermaster's depot in Jeffersonville.

It is th belief of Mr. Peters that the time has come when the Democracy of Clark county desires to look for new men to fill public office. He is without question well qualified by training, by experience and by personal ability and habits for this important office which he will worthily fill if he is the choice of the Democracy and as a candidate of that party he would add strength to the ticket in November. He is affiliated with the Odd Fellows and has not heretofore sought any policical office though he has been a faithful worker in the front line trenches.

GREAT FLOES GO CRASHING DOWN RIVER

Ice As Far As Madison Goes Out; Traffic Suspended On Bridge

MANY BARGES LOST

"Island Queen" Carried Along In Ice Stream; May Be Saved

Traffic on the Big Four Bridge was suspended during Friday night while huge floes of ice, covering areas as great as a large city b lock and in some cases towering high avove the water and floating at a greater depth below went thundering down the Ohio river, pounding against the massive bride piers and shaking the great structure with their impact. There was no real fear that the bridge would be endangered but in the darkness of the night it was not possible to see whether damage was being caused and the officials of the bridge company decided on "safety first". Traffic was resumed Saturday morning when it appeared the ice field had passed out without causing any damage to the bridge.

Hundreds of Jeffersonville people witnessed the majestic and awe-inspiring sight of the ice flowing out and it was considered that the ice was the heaviest seen here in a great number of years. It broke about four o'clock Friday afternoon and grew heavier after nightfall. The river had been rising during the day which helped the break to come but later in the night the river fell sharply again and had fallen perhaps three feet again by aturday morning.

The fine exiursion steamer Island Queen, of Cincinnati, which was carried away in the ice a day or two ago, is on her way down the river and may probably get to port here in safety. She passed Bethlehem with all lights on and a crew of twelve men at eight o'clock Friday night and members of the crew hailed the shore saying that all was well. She had not passed Fern Grove at ten o'colck Saturday morning but was believed to be at that time a short distance above Grassy Flag or some eighteen miles up the river.

The towboat Reba with one barge came past Fern Grove Saturday morning and another barge floating by itself. A coal hoist which passed there last night was wrecked early Saturday morning against the piers of the Big Four bridge. Watchers during the night saw a number of other craft go by, several barges, a gasoline boat, floats and other equipment.

Among the wreckage were twenty empty barges of the Diamond Coal Company which were torn from their anchorage at the foot of Penn street Friday afternoon soon after the ice broke and were carried through the Indiana chute. tOher barges were piled on the river bank at Locust street The contents of the ferry dock were c leared out and carried up the bank but the dock escaped injury and is boating in safety up to the present time.

On Saturday morning there was little ice flowing here and similar reports were received from Utica Fern Grove and Bethlehem. The river was said to be cdear up to Madison and beyand but to be gorged still at Sugar Creek between there and Cincinnati where the big gorge is still holding fast and backing up a head of twenty-three feet of water. It is the coming of this great flood that is feared here bu with the river clear here and below there is a probability that when that gorge bursts the water will run out without much additional damage though the passing of the next lot of ice will cause an anvious time. There may, it is said, be an additional twelve or fifteen feet of water here on account of this head of water at Cincinnati but that will pass quickly and will not bring a river of more than twenty-five to thirty feet apparently. There is a probability that before the haw that is expeced brings more water the river will be well back towards normal as there is no great volume above Cincinnati except for the gorge causing it to back up. There was a strong current at Jeffersonville all Friday night and aturday.

Island Queen Is Safe

The excursion steamer Island Queen has tied up behind Eighteen Mile Island, it was learned at noon today by telephone from all right and her crew is remaining on board. It would appear to be the intention of the crew to remain in harborage there but possibly he boat may later continue her voyage down to Louisville. The river is clear of ice along that part of the river.

About Constipation

Certain articles of diet tend to check movements of the bowels. The most common of thee are cheese, tea, and boiltd mik. On the other hand raw fruits, especially apples and bananas, also graham bread and whole wheat bread promote a movement of the bowels. When the bowels are badly constipated, however, the sure way is to take one or two of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper.

EIGHT ARRIVE AT REFORMATORY

Young Bandits From Indianapolis Among Number

Among eight arrivals at the Indiana Reformatory was Ernest Giberson, age seventeen, said to be a leading spirit in a band of youthful bandits at Indianapolis and one of four youths arrested there last November. He was given a sentence of from one to eight years for petit larceny but it is charged, when he was arrested, that he and other boys were engaged in the hold-up of a conductor on a street car and he is said to have confessed that and the theft of half a dozen automobiles. He was captured when surprised in the act of cranking an automobile that belonged to H. W. Brady.

The other arrivals from Indianapolis were George Gray, 19, and Horace Brown, 22. Gray was convicted on the charge of petit larceny and was given from one to eight years. He broke into a store and stole three revolvers. Brown was given from two to fourteen years for second degree burglary for breaking into a saloon.

The five other arrivals were: James Jackson and AdrianGrubbs Kokomo, Howard county, entering a grocery to commit a felony two to fourteen yars; William Foshee, petit larceny, one to eight years and William Carl, alias William Carlen, grand larceny, one to fourteen years, Terre Haute, Vigo county; James H. Howe, escaping from the State Penal Farm, two to five years, Greencastle, Putnam county.

OVER $100,000,000 IN GOLD

Produced In Alaska Yukon-Tanana Region

The United States Geological Survey issues the following:

The first gold deposis found in inland Alaska were in the Yukon-Tanana region which lies between Yukon and Tanana Rrivrs west of the international boundary. The earlist of the pioneer prospectors crossed the Chilkot Pass about 1880 and began mining in the interior of Alaska six years later after finding gold in the Yukon-Tanana region. Since then, this region has produced gold to the value of about $100,000,000.

Placer Mining Region

A number of reports have been issued by the United States Geological Survey, Department of the Interior, bearing upon this area and others adjacent in the Yukon Basin, and among the reports still available is Bulletin 538, on the portion of the region known as the Circle quadrangle. This quadrangle owes its chief present importance to the pioneer mines, which, though worked in a small way, have produced gold to the value of over $6,500,000.

South Of Arctic Circle

The town of Circle is one of the oldest white settlements on the Yukon. It was located before he surveyor had determined that the town was not on the Arctic Circle, as supposed, but 50 miles south of it. Lest the nearness of the Arctic Circle be regarded as indicative of ice and snow, it should be noted that there are neither glaciers nor permanent snow in the Yukon-Tanana region It is indeed a land of fertile valleys and grassy slopes and during the short but warm summers vegetation thrives, many grains can be ripened, and vegetables grow luxuriantly.

Notice Of Application For A Renewal Of Liquor License

Notice is hereby given to the voters and citizens of the City of Jeffersonville-Jeffersonville Township, Clark County, Indiana, that I will apply to the Board of County Commissioners of Clark County Indiana at their

for a license to sell spiritious, vinous, malt and other intoxicating liquors in less quantity than a quart at a time with the privilege of the same to be drunk on the premises, for a term of one year or for a period of time to be determined by the above Board of County Commissioners in compliance with the Indiana Statute of granting retail liquor license.

My place of business wherein said liquors are to be sold is located in the front room on the ground floor of the three-story brick building known as Nos. 333, 335, 337 Spring street, north side on lots 188 and 189. Said building being popularly known as the Reilly Hotel, on the West side of Spring street between Chestnut and Maple streets in the City of Jeffersonville, Jeffersonville Township, Clark County, Indiana.

I am a male inhabitant over 21 years of age, a citizen of the United States and have resided in Jeffersonville Township, Clark County, State of Indiana one year and in the City of Jeffersonville, wherein I desire to sell intoxicating liquors, six months, and am a qualified voter, thereof.

Perfecting Fireproof Paper.

Documents written on paper made from asbestos fiber, with inks prepared from the nitrates of iron and cobalt, have withstood a red heat for two hours without being damaged in any way. No damage resulted until the intensity of the heat was increased considerably and the document was exposed in it for ten hours. It is expected that further experimentation and study will result in the perfection of a paper and ink practically indestructible by fire.

MANY LICENSES TO WED, NOTWITHSTANDING

The number of marriage licenses issued during January in the office of Ernest E. Jacobs, clerk of the lark Circuit court, was 197 which was forty-one more than during January o lost year, and that in spite of the bad weather. It was 117 less than during December which is always a banner month.

Earth Grows Slowly Now.

In the early days of its history the earth grew rapidly by the addition of meteoric matter. It is still growing in the same manner, scientists say, though scarcely to an appreciable extent, for the mass of meteoric matter added yearly is reckoned to be only 20,000 tons. In the course of ages the larger planets have swept up practically all the fragments of the original disruption, and the only available source of supply of meteoric matter seems to be brought by comets.

What Was His Nationality?

When a building laborer in New York was injured, the policeman who went with the ambulance reported: "It's nothing; a man lost his balance and fell over a Limerick limousine." The lieutenant at the station wondered all the afternoon, until the policeman came in off his post and explained that the man fell over a wheelbarrow. Maybe you can guess the policeman's ancestry.

Well Heeled.

The shipwrecked sailor sat disconsolate on a lonely raft in the middle of the trackless ocean. In his hands he held the last remnants of a pair of shoes. "Though reduced to the lowest extremities and completely surrounded by water," he croaked hoarsely, "I can still take to my heels." With these words he made his semiweekly meal and spent the remainder of the afternoon picking the nails out of his teeth.

$100 Reward, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Catarrh being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers of Hall's Catarrh Medicine that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

ASSAULTED BY THREE, HE SAYS

Underwood Man Sues For Damages; One Assailant Was Dog

Elmer E. Elza, who resides near Underwood, has filed suit for damages in the Clark Circuit court, one of them against John Montgomery for $2,000 for injuries sustained when he was attacked, he alleges, by a fierce bulldog on his own premises and one against Milo and John Montgomery for $5,000 for alleged assault by the two defendants who are stated in the complaint to have knocked him down. Both affairs occurred January 25, 1918 it is alleged, and in fact they are said to have been the same incident, the men being accompanied by their dog when they went to call on Elzea. It is said there had been a dispute between them about some agricultural matters

TOO MUCH HURT TO APPEAR

Dave Ball lSashed Across Face; Charged With Permitting Game

Dave Ball, who was notified to appear for permitting a game of craps at his saloon at 730 Spring street, was too badly hurt by an ugly cut across the right side of his face to appear in city court Friday. John Harris, who says he was assaulted at the same saloon with a bottle and who had a wound on the head, paid a fine of $1 and costs for intoxication.

A FIXED PURPOSE

To work, to plan, to manage well, and not lastly in importance —to save—this is thrift.

What shall it profit a man though he make good wages if he saves no part thereof? In this uncertain life of ours no one is assured of continued good health and prosperity. Thereore it behooves everyone to lay aside something even though that amount be ever so so small.

Hurrah for THRIFT in our land!

A Hint To The Aged

If people past sixty years of age could be persuaded to go to bed as soon as they take cold and remain in bed for one or two days, they would recover much more quickly, especially if they take Chamberlain's Cough emedy. There would also be less danger of the cold being followed by any of the more serious diseases.

THE OLD RELIABLE BLOOD BUILDER

Still retains its supremacy. People still take Hood's Sarsaparilla because it is an old family friend, has proved its merit to three generations—in purified blood, expelled humors, restored appetite, relieved rheumatism, banished tired feelings.

It long ago became recognized as the standard blood purifier and general tonic. It originated in a Boston physician's successful prescription, and comprises medicinal roots, herbs, barks and berries such as are often prescribed for ailments of the blood, stomach, liver and kidneys. Buy it in the same style package your mother bought it in,—same fine appearance, same pl same certainty of good

1500 FEET OF FIRE HOSE PURCHASED

City Council Holds Second Regular Meeting Of Its Term

ONLY ROUTINE WORK

Meeting Held In Mayor's Office To Save Heating Big Room

The second monthly meeting of the new City Council was held Monday night in the mayor's office at the city hall, thereby saving the uel that would have been required to warm the council chamber. There was a full attendance of members present when Mayor eNwton H. Myers called the body to order at 8 o'clock. Approved bills were read, and passed, aggregating $2,575.39 on the following accounts: fire department, $885.46; police department, $455.22; streets and alleys $383.06; light and gas $792.49; books and printing $23.25; contingent $33.93; city hall $1.49; water rent $2,118.75.

The financial report for the month of January, submitted by James E. Gray, treasurer, was referred to the finance committee. Receipts during the month were $5,101.60 including $1,401.60 for general fund; disbursements $15,289.18 including $743.85 for general fund; balance on hand $8,903.54, distributed as follows — general fund $3,800.76; interest fund $1,948.50; sinking fund $1,513.04; improvement sinking fund $187.32; improvement funds $1,453.92. The disbursements included $11,000 paid on principal of bonds and $3,016 paid in interest.

Bonds for $5,000 each of the three members of the Board of Metropolitan Police Commissioners—Willacy J. Schwaninger, Alfred C. Pfau and Elmer M. Frank—were approved by the Council.

A. J. Monroe, superintendent of the city eruptive hospital, submitted an application for reappointment to that position and the same was referred.

Mr. Odell made a motion that the clerk present the bill for arrears of wharfage to the Louisville & Jeffersonville Ferry Company with notification that unless the bill be paid within ten deys the matter will be pleced in the nds of the city attorney to g suit.

Mr. Claude Myers raised the stion of the matrimonial bus referring to conditions on avenue at the interurban and suggesting there be some way of prevent be described as a nuisance. No action was taken.

Mr. Andrews objected to the city fire department answering calls to Port Fulton and other suburbs, which bear no part of the cost. The Mayor suggested a plan whereby a pro rata share of the cost should be charged against the adjacent towns of the proportion of such extra-territorial runs to the total number of runs made by the department. The matter was left for consideration.

Reports were made by chairmen of a number of standing committees.

A representative of a Chicago firm submitted samples of fire hose, the fire commitee having reported the necessity of additional hose to replace some nearly worn out. Several quotations had been considered by the fire committee previously. After consideration the Council authorized the purchase of 1500 feet at a cost of $1 a foot. It is said to be the first hose bought by the city for about eight years.

When You Have A Cold

It is when you have a severe cold that you appreciate the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mrs. Frank Crocker, Pana, Ill., writes: "Our five-year-old son Paul caught a severe cold last winter that settled on his lungs and he had terrible coughing spells. We were greatly worried about him as the medicine we gave him did not help him in the least. A neighbor spoke so highly of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy that I got a bottle of it. The first dose benefited him so much that I continued giving it to him until he was cured."

PROGRAM OF WAR COUNCIL ANNOUNCED

All Day Meeting Thursday To Be Held At High School Building

NIGHT MASS MEETING

Important Sessions; Providing Powder And Shot For Home Folk

The sessions of the War Council to be held in Jeffersonville Thursday for the benefit of all of Clark county, will be held at the high school building and the program of the morning, afternoon and night sessions is printed below.

It must be emphasized here that this is a public meeting for the benefit of all the people — in the nature of a great patriotic rally to inform the people about the War, its aims and purposes and what we each at home may do to help Uncle Sam to early peace through swift victory.

The conferences in the morning and afternoon will cover the various different features of the activity this ar behind the trenches, far from the post of danger but right at the post of duty none the less. The night meeting will be a great patriotic rally.

J. E. Taggart, c hairman of the Clark County Council of Defense, which is responsible for the local arrangements received a telegram from Dr. Alexander Cairns who is the member of the speaking team sent by Washington. Dr. Cairns is in the office of Herbert Hoover, federal food administrator, and will come with a message right from headquarters. His subject will be "Feeding the Multitude". Dr. Cairns has been referred to at some places he visited as "just back from France" but this is an error and he wishes it understood that he has not been "over there". He is however posted on this vitally important aspect of the battle we are waging for democracy and liberty and will bring a message of utmost importance.

At other cities these war councils are being attended by crowds running into the thousands so that Jeffersonville is put upon its metal to have a big turn out — men, women and children.

Some of the spaces in the program are blank as it is not certain until the team arrives Thursday morning exactly who will speak at certain hours. Following is the program arranged by the local committee and following is the list of speakers as recently announced:

Col. W. S. Wood To Have Supervision Of All Q. M. Depots

TO REORGANIZE WORK

Confers With Gen. Goethals Striking Hard Blow For Efficiency

Nothing had been heard Tuesday morning at the U. S. quartermaster's depot regarding Col. W. S. Wood last reported at Chicago. The following dispatch from Washington to the Louisville Evening Post indicates that his new job will be far more important than the old one and it appears to mean a new plan to co-ordinate the work of all the general supply depots of the Quartermaster's Department:

Winthrop S. Wood, until one month ago in command of the Jeffersonville army depot left Washington Monday for Chicago at which place he will transact important business of confidential character, assigned him by Major General George W. Goethals, acting quartermaster general, after which he will visit other points, reaching Jeffersonville probably the latter part of the month when he will formally assume command again of the depot.

This assignment will be accompanied by a general one coming directly from Gen. Goethals, which places Col. Wood in a supervisory position over all of the depots in the United States, probably twenty in number, a position of such great responsibility and importance as to emphasize the confidence placed in him by his superior officer.

Col. Wood was ordered to Washington for the purpose of assisting in mapping out plans for reorganization of quartermaster corps which reorganization Gen. Goethals is effecting in such a way as to promise results which will reflect highly upon his executive and organizing ability, qualities which caused him, although an army engineer, to be called by

MUCH GOOD KINDLING HELD AT COUNTY JAIL

Kindling is accumulating in considerable quantities at the county jail where it is taken from the quartermaster's depot for distribution by the Jeffersonville Chapter of the Red Cross. Many would take a load of the kindling in return for a contribution to the Red Cross if they could get teams to haul it away.

IS YOUR INCOME $1,000 OR MORE?

Early parenthood is productive of warriors, but not of good brain workers, for, says Doctor Redfield, "when we look over those intellectually superior men who have done so much for the world's advancement we find them to have been predominantly the sons of elderly parents and only rarely sons of men less than twenty-five."

About Constipation

Certain articles of diet tend to check movements of the bowels. The most common of thee are cheese, tea, and boiltd mik. On the other hand raw fruits, especially apples and bananas, also graham bread and whole wheat bread promote a movement of the bowels. When the bowels are badly constipated, however, the sure way is to take one or two of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper.

GERMAN CENSOR HAS FIRM GRIP ON NEWSPAPERS

Drastic Regulations Are Issued to the Editors.

FEAR OF AMERICA IS SHOWN

Required to Comment Only in Terms of Praise Concerning Events of a Military and Political Nature—Go Into Veriest Details as to What German Papers May or May Not Print—Admit Eating Dog.

Sensational evidence of the extent to which the Prussian government has subjugated the press of Germany to the interests of the kaiser and his war party has been supplied to the department of state at Washington.

Copies of secret and drastic regulations issued to the German editors show not only that the German newspapers are prohibited from printing news that is bad but are required to comment only in terms of praise concerning events of a military and political nature.

Among the regulations issued is the following setting forth how the German papers must comment on the dispatch of Pershing's expedition to France:

"Petit Parisien (a Paris newspaper) informs us that five American divisions, numbering 125,000 men, may be expected in France in the autumn of 1917. It is urgently requested not to reproduce this information without some comment. We do not wish to underestimate the ability of America to accomplish things, but we must not, on the other hand, overestimate it. In order to bring a division over from America, 75,000 tons must make the trip twice. Therefore, from the mere fact of lack of space, the transportation of such a body of troops within certain fixed time limits is impossible. Moreover, it is impossible to train these troops properly by autumn. These facts, which have recently been discussed in the German war news, cannot be too strongly emphasized in the discussion of the French news."

All Details Covered.

The regulations go into the veriest details in saying what the German papers may or may not print. For example:

"Advertisements in which dog flesh is offered for sale are not allowed. Their acceptance is forbidden."

Some of the regulations which cover a two-months period following the entrance of the United States into the war last spring follow:

"News about excesses and unrest in Prague may not be published.

"The publication and discussion of the resolutions adopted at a strike meeting of the Leipzig unions and of a telegram sent to the imperial chancellor is not permissible.

"There is no objection to the printing of the manifest of the independent socialist party in case it is adversely commented upon, even without irritating sharpness.

"In the interest of a victorious carrying through of the war, which is endangered by every stoppage of work, expressions of the press which recommend a strike or express themselves otherwise in favor of a strike are forbidden. Utterances which are directed against strikers are, indeed, not subject to censorship, but it is supposed thereby that they are kept free from immoderate sharpness which could offer material for irritating the people.

"Reports concerning disturbances in Koenigsberg, in Prussia, and concerning a warning from the commander of the First army corps, which followed [illegible] mittee.

Can't Discuss Situation.

"The discussions of the Austrian lower chamber may for the present be published only in such light as they are sent out by the official correspondence bureau."

Last spring a large number of Russians were repatriated from Switzerland through Germany with definite purpose of spreading German propaganda in Russia. Here was one of the regulations issued to the press concerning this:

"The printing and discussion of the article 'Terrible Conditions in Warsaw for Obtaining the Necessities of Life,' in No. 33 of Napszod, of July 12, are not permissible."

Importations from neutral countries and the occupied territories must be carefully concealed, for example:

"It is not desired to discuss or even to mention the German importations from abroad, especially from Holland.

"Offers of food from the occupied eastern war zone may not be published. The acceptance of such advertisements is forbidden."

Other regulations, marked confidential, follow:

"Reports concerning the Chilean bark Tinto with German seamen from the crew of the cruiser Dresden may not be published.

No Comment on Raids.

"In connection with order P. R. 11—7389 No. 1, it is requested to call attention again, in reference to the possibly intended May celebration, to the duty of the home army to support by faithful work the men in the field, who are struggling in the difficult and decisive battles.

"Concerning the most recent bomb attack by a German flying machine on London, nothing may be published.

"Attention is drawn to the frequent ill-humor at the front often caused when it appears from the selections of captions for the reports of the war events, that the press out of need for sensation, or awkwardness, does not permit the recognition of which event is the most important.

"Reprinting of articles of neutral or enemy papers concerning the conditions in the Russian army is permitted.

"The publication which permits to be recognized the effectiveness of geology or kindred sciences in the service of the army are not permissible in the technical as well as in the daily press.

Political Letters Barred.

"It is not permissible that third persons appeal to members of the army in newspapers, brochures or pamphlets in order to call upon them to take up positions toward any political news whatever. It is especially requested to hinder such appeals.

"The publication of letters from the field of a political nature is forbidden.

"The publication of anything concerning the state of the clothing material business and concerning the purchase of clothing material in the occupied districts, as well as in Switzerland, is to be avoided.

"It is forbidden to publish anything concerning a fire in the flying station at Lawiecka.

"It is desired that the great enemy flying machine losses in the month of May be strongly emphasized by large headings or in some other particular manner.

"The Austrians on the Isonzo front have had very good successes. It is desired to continually take notice thereof. The whole strength of Italy is fighting against Austria, while Austria is forced to use strong forces in other directions. The Austrian success is naturally also pleasing to us, entirely aside from the satisfaction which it must awaken if our allies accomplish successes with their carrying on of the war.

Praise Austrian Gains.

"It is therefore requested to discuss continually the occurrences on the Isonzo in this sense.

"For the present nothing may be published concerning the explosion which took place in the morning at the Friedrichsstrasse station in Berlin.

"Attention is called to the fact that the prohibition communicated in P. R. [illegible] figures and communications [illegible] area: 1, concerning the production of iron and steel and their half and semi-plate manufacture; 2, concerning the transportation of coal, coke, briquette and ore; 3, concerning the stock, sale and use of such production is also to be applied to the countries allied with Germany.'

"Warning—Police authorities have again been notified to seek out and to bring to ruthless punishment originators and communicators of untrue military, political, financial and economic reports. Past warnings have not prevented new, nonsensical and unfounded rumors.

"Attention is again drawn to the order of February 23, 1917, P. R. 11—6675 in accordance with the public expression of sentiments hostile to Germany, and the spreading of untrue reports concerning the war, concerning the political, financial and economic situation of the German empire is forbidden, and transgressions are subject to punishment."

OLD SEA PORTS COME TO LIFE

Revival in Shipping Brings Prosperity to American Seaboard Towns.

ONCE BUSY MARTS OF TRADE

Same Spirit That Made Old Salem Rich Now Seen in Merchant Marines's Development—New Ports Springing Up.

Washington.—One effect of the present rapid expansion of the American merchant marine is a sudden and unprecedented revival of business at certain American ports which a few years ago were thought to have passed their zenith.

Bath, Me., is cited as an example. In the prosperous nineteenth century days of sailing ships Bath was the country's leading shipbuilding port. It declined steadily after the introduction of steel as a building material.

Now Bath, building both steel and wood vessels, is so prosperous that the housing of the workmen taking jobs there is a pressing problem. The same is true of several other North Atlantic ports, while in other sections ports are springing up where none existed before.

Close observers of the present revival in shipping say that before the United States shipping board's present construction plan is completed—a plan by which a vast new merchant fleet is to be brought into being—the development of American ports will parallel on a larger scale that which took place in the "good old days of the square riggers."

In earlier times, as at present, everybody in a port touched by the prosperity of seagoing was keenly interested in shipping. Present-day secrecy about contracts, sailings and dividends, had its prototype in the secrecy that enveloped such matters more than a hundred years ago, in a score of American ports, notably in Salem, Mass.

In those days, we are told, "rival merchants sometimes drove the work of preparation for voyages night and day. Ships which set out for foreign ports were watched when they slipped their cables and sailed away by night."

Personal Touch in Voyages.

In those times there was a more personal touch in voyages than now, as every man making a voyage was allowed a certain space in the hold for goods of his own. People in the home port of a ship outward bound intrusted their savings to their seafaring neighbors for ventures in far countries.

This spirit of commercial adventure is finding expression today on a larger and less personal scale, say the experts of the shipping board; and these students of conditions trace the present enthusiasm of the nation for seafaring to beginnings in definite periods in which our old-time ports were at the height of their prosperity. In so doing, they cite Salem as a good example of what a venturesome people may gain upon the sea.

Salem at one time stood at the head of the cities of the United States in the value of its imports.

In 1812 it had 125 ships in the deep-water trade, and of these, 58 were East Indiamen. These vessels brought home cargoes of fabulous richness—silks, indigo, spices, ivory and other products of the far East.

There are old people living in Salem who remember when the city's ancient warehouses were full of "hemp from Luzon, pepper from Sumatra, coffee from Arabia, palm oil from the west coast of Africa, cotton from Bombay, duck and iron from the Baltic, tallow from Madagascar, salt from Cadiz, wine from Portugal and the Madeiras, figs, raisins and almonds from the Mediterranean; teas and silks from China; rum, sugar and molasses from the West Indies; ivory and gum-copal from Zanzibar; rubber, hides and wool from South America, whale oil from the Arctic and Antarctic, and the sperm from the South Seas."

Pioneers in Commerce.

Salem ships were pioneers in opening new routes of commerce. Salem merchants were the first to bring pepper from Sumatra, rubber from South America and coffee from Mocha. The Salem ship Recovery, Capt. John Ropes, was the coffee pioneer, and between the landing of her first cargo of ### Singing Requires Strength.

Students should remember that singing right requires great physical strength, observes a vocal teacher. The late Madame Nordica remarked that it required the training of a prize fighter. The human race is not physically as strong as it was a hundred years ago. The abdominal muscles seem to have suffered the greatest relapse; hence the scarcity of really great singers. In singing more than in anything else it is the "survival of the fittest."

F street in Washington is an institution like the monument, the government clerk and band concerts in the parks. It dates back far enough to tax the memory of Washington's few oldest inhabitants, but no records of its origin are filed in the city hall.

TELLS MEANING OF RED CROSS HOME SERVICE

Civilian Relief Director Begins Series of Articles Explaining Importance of Assistance to Enlisted Men's Relatives

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of a series of five articles prepared by James L. Fieser, director of civilian relief for the American Red Cross in Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky. The subjects of the other four articles in the series are: "What Red Cross Home Service Is," "Financial Aid in Home Service," "What Has Been Taught Home Service Workers," and "Organizing and Training 30,000 Home Service Committeemen."

By James L. Fieser,

Director, Civilian Relief, Lake Division, American Red Cross.

Two new words—Home Service—are taking important places in the vocabulary and activity of the 356 American Red Cross chapters in Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky.

At war's outbreak ten months ago to the few chapters then organized Red Cross work and popular knowledge of it centered only around preparation of hospital supplies, equipment of base hospitals and supplying their personnel, and provisions of relief in times of disaster.

Then came the unfolding of a multitude of other chapter obligations—solicitation of war funds, driving for increased membership, organization of school auxiliaries, turning out huge quotas of knitted articles, surgical dressings and Christmas packets.

Among these obligations—model of 1917—was the organization of Home Service committees, better known in some communities as civilian relief committees. Frequently the activities of the Home Service committees were belittled by other chapter committees. This because importance of Home Service had not been clearly defined. Now, through the efforts of the Bureau of Civilian Relief of the Lake Division, headquarters at Cleveland, chapters have come to a clear understanding of the vitalness of Red Cross Home Service in relation to war and complete victory.

But to the general public, notably in the so-called rural communities, Home Service is little better understood than it was by the chapters a matter of five months back.

So, what is Red Cross Home Service and why?

Home Service must be the nation's assurance that the enlisted and conscripted man's family shall not suffer for want of any essential thing within the power of the nation to give.

The Public's Conception.

"Yes," says Mr. Average Citizen, "but isn't the government providing war risk insurance, and will it not provide separation allowance where necessary? Isn't it a fact that but few men with dependents have been called to arms?"

Mr. Average Citizen is correct, but he is thinking only in terms of money relief. And it is to convince him that administration of money relief is only one of many features of Home Service that this series of articles on the rudiments of Home Service have been prepared.

Scan this brief summary of the opportunities confronting Home Service committees in your county and you will agree that the opportunities have become the duty and privilege of an upstanding, patriotic, American citizenship.

1. Conservation by service of human resources wherever deterioration is threatened in a soldier's or a sailor's home.
2. Temporary relief of families in which there has been a delay in payments, or in which there is an emergency.
3. Responsibility for regular and continued assistance in cases not covered by government allowance—this includes families in need and resident in the United States of men who are in the service of our allies.
4. Personal service to the returned soldier or sailor, especially when he is disabled.
5. An information service which will save time, trouble and anxiety for lonely relatives of enlisted men.
6. Advancement of home standards wherever possible, but especially when the lack of help is likely to cause family disintegration.

Sustains Soldiers' Morale.

"Men may be the best soldiers in the world (I quote you from the Manual of Home Service issued by American Red Cross headquarters, Washington), but if things are not well with their families at home, they lose efficiency through worry, and the morale of the army—that all important factor—begins to fail.

"So it is the patriotic duty as well as the humanitarian opportunity of Home Service workers of the American Red Cross to care for lonely families of our fighting men. It is to be remembered that they soon will be 'fighting men' in real earnest. Not only our enemies, but our allies, and the American people as well, will be watching them.

"Every report from the training camps and from the French front mentions the excellent spirit of our troops. Will they maintain this morale while thousands of miles from home, through trench life and battle, to the victorious end?

"THE ANSWER WILL BE DETERMINED LARGELY BY THE HOME SERVICE OF THE AMERICAN RED CROSS."

HELPS FATHERLESS FRENCH CHILDREN

Miss Luisitia Leland is chairman of the New York committee and secretary of the national executive committe of the "Fatherless Children of France," an organization which has active committees in 140 of the most important cities in the United States. Its object is to raise funds to support French children whose fathers have been killed in the war. The organization's plan is to keep the child with the mother and to establish a friendly relation between the "adopter" in the United States and the "adoptee" in France.

"GERMANY LOOKS LIKE THE DEVIL"

American Dentist, Back From Berlin, Says Only Soldier Presents Good Appearance.

"The German soldier looks fine, but everything else in Germany looks like the devil."

This is the summary of Teutonic conditions by Dr. William Law, a native of Flint, Mich., who is back visiting his parents after practicing dentistry for 13 years in Berlin, where he served the kaiser's family professionally.

Doctor Law's family was able to leave with Ambassador Gerard's party, but the doctor himself was too ill to travel and remained in Berlin until October 23, 1917. Doctor Law, after many delays in Europe, arrived here recently.

"There are today 100,000 to 125,000 empty stores and residences in Berlin, where normally in peace times the number would not exceed 16,000 to 18,000," said Doctor Law. "The big change has been wrought because many businesses have gone bankrupt, as people are moving in together to conserve necessities of life. Stores that are open have little or nothing left in them.

"The people cry for peace, and the leaders of the military party say: 'We've offered peace to the entente and they refuse it.' So the people go on. They are the most patient lot I ever saw.

"The soldier gets plenty of food taken from that en route from some supply house, perhaps to a hospital. The man at the hospital, who checks on the food, gets part of the graft.

"I think the people of Germany can exist for another year. However, there is no tea or no coffee and the beer is about like water and tastes like varnish. When a person hasn't shoes now he goes barefoot, or else gets wooden soles put on the old ones.

"Every bit of oil is gone, even to castor oil, which has been used for lubricating purposes. Every sort of factory is engaged in making things for war, therefore there is a shortage in everyday necessaries.

"The military party of Germany will die fighting, whether they are killed by the allies or by their own people in an uprising after Germany has been crushed. The winning of the war for the allies now depends on how big a fleet of airplanes America can send to France."

WEIGHING PRISONERS URGED

New Basis of Exchange Suggested by French Officer.

The proposed exchange of prisoners between France and Germany brought out a suggestion from an army officer who has had charge of prison camps.

"You know," he said, "we feed our prisoners well and they are strong and hearty. The Boche, on the other hand, is pinching our fellows pretty badly. Most of the nourishment they get is sent them from France. The only fair way is to exchange these prisoners by weight—so many hundred pounds of Germans for the same weight in Frenchmen.

Birds' Nest Soup.

The birds' nests from which the far-famed Chinese soup is made are built by a species of swallow that abounds on the coasts of Java, Ceylon and Borneo, and consists of a gelatinous substance obtained from marine plants. The nests are boiled either in chicken broth or in milk of almonds, and the result very much resembles vermicelli soup, except that it is far more costly.

The meeting will be held at the courthouse as at present arranged and a number of good speakers are coming, assigned by the state speakers' bureau. There will be coneferences morning and afternoon and a mass meeting at night.

At a meeting of the County Council of Defense at which arrangments were made someother matters of interest were taken up. An executive committee was named consisting of J. A. Taggart, chairman of the Council of Defense; Clifford Allhands, H. W. Strauss, Arthur Talkngton. Committees will be named on morals and on solicitation of funds to pass upon entertainments and other proposed methods of raising money from time to time.

Resolutions were also adopted calling upon the state fuel administrator to send an inspector at once to fix prices locally for coal. It is alleged that a divrsity of prices are being charged.

HIS TASK IS

Secretary Baker to this big task.

While in Washington Col. Wood worked closely in touch with Gen. Goethals and numerous men of great ability and experience, some of them civilians, called by Gen. Goethals to aid in putting the department in that shape which will guarantee o his superiors and the American people prompt and satisfactory results in the way of furnishing supplies vital to Americans at home and abroad.

Naturally the fine reputation which Col. Wood enjoyed as a result of his constructive work at Jeffersonville preceded him here, and was, in fact responsible for his being called here. He expressed pleasure when ordered again to Jeffersonville because of his great attachment for the people of the Falls Cities. While he declined to discuss the signal recognition given him in assgnng him to task second only in importance to that of Gen. Goethals, yet his friends in and out of army, especially those in Congressional life here, were not slow in evpressing their gratification.

In a ward Col. Wood's task will be to co-ordinate work at all of the depots along lines followed by him in making the Jeffersonville institution such an outstanding success. Col. W. H. Hart, now in charge at Jeffersonville, under orders issued to Col. Wood will remain as his chief assistant. Col. Wood will necessarily be absent much of the time on his inspection trips and Col. Hart will then be in charge.

The gratifying results attending the faithful use of the new medicinal combination, Hood's Sarsaparilla before eating and Peptiron after eating, are seen in purer blood, stronger nerves, improved condition of the whole system.

They are results that make this course of treatment the most economical for sufferers from impure, impoverished blood, weak, unsteady nerves—no other accomplishes so much for each cent expended.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Peptiron aid each other, and to take both is to derive a four-fold benefit.

Looking To The Future

PLANS FOR BIGGER AND BETTER REFORMATORY UNDER CONSIDERATION; MEET WITH GOVERNOR NEXT WEEK

PLACE RUNNING LIKE CLOCKWORK

The eyes of the management of the Indiana Reformatory have turned already from the past and are looking to the future, thinking and planning for the new and better buildings which are to rise on the ruins of the old, rather than dreaming on the disaster that has befallen the place.

Already chaos has been in large measure reduced to order. The men have their assigned places and duties, are being well taken care of in every way, have their proper sleeping quarters, accommodation for eating and are hard at work clearing up the debris. Even in the short space of time between visits to the institution on Wednesday morning and Wednesday afernoon the difference could be seen in the removal of quantities of the brick which had littered the ground knee deep over great areas.

The institution firemen were still playing water on the ruins Thursday. A great heap of what looked like live coals in the ruins of the storeroom was explained to be the remains of three carloads of flour which perished there. Harry Ferguson, storekeeper, saved a fourth car Wednesday morning which had just arrived and was not in the storeroom. It was on fire when he got to it and a little later it would have been added to the losses. It was the only edible saved from the ruins.

Wednesday morning the men ate picnic fashion as best they could but at supper time the army ranges were "doing their bit" in fine style and from now on the eating question may be said to be solved. Ed Kleespies and a force of government carpenters rushed the construction of temporary eating arrangements.

That the total loss will be little if any s hort of half a million dollars was the statment made by Major D. C. Peyton Wednesday afternoon following another tour of the w reck with the members of the Board of Trustees. To replace the buildings on the scale that will no doubt be adopted will probably cost considerably more and probably there may be a new investment of a million dollars in the plant by the time it is entirely restored. Practically one-half of the institution was lost.

Plans For Immediate Future

Major D. C. Peyton, superintendent of the Indiana Reformatory, which is lying onehalf in ruins, is laying his plans for restoration already though hardly able to be up from his sick bed. Wednesday afternoon he conferred with J. H. Weathers of New Albany; Alvin Padgett, of Washington and J. L. Dailey, of Indianapolis, members of the Board of Trustees on what requires to be done at once to take care of the immediate situation. At a meeting o be held next Monday the situation will be more fully canvassed as to the future and Supt. Peyton will lay before the Board his ideas on reconstruction. A few days later it is planned to meet with Governor James P. Goodrich, at Indianapolis, and on what he says will depend the next steps.

The immediate situation is well in hand. Fires were still smoldering in varous places Wednesday night with streams of water playing on them but by morning the ruins were practically cold. C. barracks practically escaped thanks to its fine construction but it was threatened for some time and seemed doomed. Its six hundred cells will house all the inmates temporarily but the first floor of B barracks, which was transferred into a dormitory recently, will be available for use again in a day or two although the second floor is entirely gone. The temporary dining room is in the foundry trade school and in another part of the same building there have been established the ten post bake ovens loaned by the U. S. quartermaster's depot and each capable of cooking for from 125 to 150 men. In another part storekeeper Ferguson is in charge of supplies.

As soon as possible Supt. Peyton plans to build temporary wooden additions to the new school building which is on the north side of the institution and here there will be temporary kitchen and dining room which will permit the resumption of work at the foundry. Work will also be resumed in trade school building No. 2 where the tin shop, broom shop, machine shop and other departments are located.

Company Sustains Loss

The company which disposes of the product of the fibre reed plant, one of the larger industries at the instituion where chairs are made of paper, will lose nothing as everything at the Reformatory was the property of the state. The Indiana Holloware Company, however lost about $5,000 worth of property in the store room adjoining the foundry. This loss was covered by insurance. This company disposes of the surplus product of the foundry. It was the only part of the property insured.

The administration building would cost over $100,000 to rebuild, it is estimated, and the trade school building not much less than that sum. The stores lost were valued at $40,000. Thirty officers who had rooms in the administration building lost much of their belongings. Temporary offices have been opened in a vacant storeroom opposite the institution where stuff was salvaged during the fire.

Foresight Was Justified

It is the hope of Supt. Peyton that when the place shall be rebuilt the buildings may be so distributed as to avoid this fire risk. Several years ago he sought appropriations for a new chapel and storeroom to be removed from the other buildings and had his advice been followed the fire would have been restricted to the building where it stared.

Numerous offers of assista were received —from Frankfort, Ky., Reformatory and nearly all through Indiana state institutions among hem. The help however was not required.

The cause of the fire cannot be determined but it probably started from an elecric wire and was discovered when small but spread so rapidly nothing coudd be done Capt. Schmid, assistant fire chief in Louisville, declared he had never seen a fire spread so rapidly.

Will Need More Room

A matter for consideration in connection with the rebuilding will undoubedly be the provision of more room, for the institution was inadequate for the growing population although during the past few years the stae penal farm, in Putnam county, one of the newer institutions of the state has relieved he pressure to some degree. The average population for the last fiscal year was slightly lower than for the year before bu greater than for any other year and the population is now normally around thirteen hundred in an institution designed for one thousand. Neither chapel nor dining room would comfortably accommodate more than the latter number and doubling up in cells had also to be adopted on many accasions.

Major Peyton was unable to say how the money could be provided but it is the understanding that this must be a matter for the Legislature and that half a million will lack a good deal of sufficing for the restoration of the place along lines to be adopted. The Governor will however be able, from his emergency fund to make immediate provision. It is thought likely a special session of the Legislature will have to be called since normally it would not meet unti next January following the general elections of next fall.

Discipline Proves Itself

There is plenty of opportunity for praise for all those who had the opportunity to assist in fighting the fire but perhaps the feature most deserving favorable mention is the loyalty among both officers and men of the institution. That among the latter is in a sense the more notably though not more marked. The cadet force, consisting of selected inmates, distinquished itself by its good behavior and loyal help and the entire experience spoke strongly in favor of the fine spirit of army discipline, based on respect rather than fear, which has been built up at the institution under Major Peyton. The later though obviously a sick man is full of pugnacity and is confident of the future of this great model reformatory institution.

When the men were checked up one was missing but he was found within ten minutes. Not one wes injured more than to a very slight degree and the men are working cheerfully to restore order out of chaos.

Official Statement Issued

The following statment was issued Wednesday night after the Board of Trustees had been in session:

"Fire of unknown origin broke out in the trade school building, which was unoccupied at the time about 12:30 a. m. Wednesday, and spread from there to the store room, the chapel, one cellhouse and one dormitory. All inmates are safe and unharmed. After the fire broke out the inmates were removed to th enew school building. Contrary to some early public statments the men were not removed under the direction of firearms but were simply marched under the direction of the officers of the institution who are not permitted to carry firearms.

"The Louisville, Jeffersonville and New Albany fire departments were immediately called and ably assisted the institution in fighting the fire. The power plant, he hospial and school building are intact. Cellhouse C is a modern building and sufficient to accommodate all of the inmates. The heating and lighting sysems are intact and the institution will be able to comfortably sleep, feed and keep the inmates. The discipline of the inmates was excellent throughout the night and there was no misconduct on the part of any of them.

"The board of trustees was in session Wednesday morning looking after the welfare of the institution. Work was begun immediately Wednesday morning on clearing away the wreckage preparatory to rebuilding."

Fire Started In Barrel

The fire was discovered by Scott Smith, a night watchman, in a barrel containing trash, just a the top of stairway. Two chairs near it were burning and he ran to give an alarm. The institution fire department was called, but there was practically no water pressure and the fire gained headway so rapidly that when Capt Phelps attempted to arouse men sleeping in cellhouse C one side of his face was burned.

One Fireman Hurt

James Yourell, pipeman of the No. 5 Engine Company, Louisville, was the only one injured at the Reformatory fire. He was hurt when some masonry at the entrance to the main building fell on him Wednesday morning at 7 o'colck. He was taken to the city hospital in Louisville.

The Louisville fire department rendered efficient aid. No. 5 motor engine was on the scene an hour and a half after the start of the fire afer making a ten mile run through New Albany.

However "Amoskeag" the pride of the Jeffersonville department, died work inferior to none and the entire work of the Jeff department, under its new chief, Peter Myers, at its first big fire about the biggest the city has ever experienced was deserving of the utmost praise.

Lost His Library

Dr. Gilbert E. Mowrer, who had rooms in the administration building, estimated his loss at $500, consisting chiefly of his library. He got out his miscroscope, instruments and other articles liable to damage by water but could not save all the others.

Whose Wach Is This

A military wrist watch was found Wednesday morning in the court at the Reformatory, likely dropped by some officer attending the fire. It may be had upon application at the institution.

PATRIOTIC RALLY CALLS TO PATRIOTS

Fine List Of Speakers Is Announced For Meeting Tonight

MAJOR FROM FRANCE

War Council In Session But Got Late Start; All Invited

Today is the day of the Clark County War Council for conference upon matters of vital interest to everybody. All are invited to attend the great patrotic rally to be held at 7:30 at the high school building. There will be a strong array of speakers besides other features of interest. Among the speakers will be the following:

Dr. Alex Cairns of Washington sent by the office of Herbert Hoover, federal food administrator and himself a Chautauqua lecturer of note.

Dr. Cairns is a member of one of the six teams that are touring the country to bring home to the people actual conditions. The head of each team visited France in person and while Dr. Cairns was not one of those who crossed the water he will bring a message informed with the facts that were brought home by the six men who went. He declares that conditions in France as to German brutalities, are worse than have been told in the press. The commissioners talked with German prisoners who told of inhuman deeds they had themselves performed at the orders, they asserted, of their superiors and facing death should they disobey.

Another speaker tonight will be Major W. C. Hyde, Canadian army, recently back from the western front. This will be the first opporunity many here will have had to listen to a man face to face who has actually been at the front as a combatant.

Earl Sample, of Greenfield, an eloquent speaker, will also deliver a patriotic address at the night meeting.

Gets A Late Start

The War Council got a late start through the failure of the speaker to arrive who had been placed first on the program and who was to handle the question of food and fuel conservation. With only a moderate attendance a start was made at a little after 11 o'clock when Edgar S. Maple of Sullivan gave an address on "The United States Boys' Working Reserve." The subject has been so misunderstood here and the registration of boys last year was in consequence so small that it was a pity a larger number could not hear an exposition of the purpose and method of this enrollment and of the manner in which the boys are going to help Uncle Sam win the war.

At noon a war lunch was served for the visitors and others by the domestic science class of the

Leslie had been suffering with a severe toothache so that his face had become badly swollen. Returning from school the following day his mother asked him what the teacher said to him and he replied, "She did not say anything, but the kids all got around me to watch me swell."

About Constipation

Certain articles of diet tend to check movements of the bowels. The most common of thee are cheese, tea, and boiltd mik. On the other hand raw fruits, especially apples and bananas, also graham bread and whole wheat bread promote a movement of the bowels. When the bowels are badly constipated, however, the sure way is to take one or two of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper.

FAMOUS "ACES" DOWNED; FRIEND AND FOE LOSE

Dangers of Flying Pictured in Career of Leaders.

WILL NOT TAKE NEEDED REST

Aviators Become Exhausted After Long-Time Fighting at the Front and Often Fall Easy Prey to Fresher and Less Experienced Men—Many Able Germans Downed—French Lose Thirteen "Aces."

The autumn of 1917 has been exceptionally destructive for the fighting "aces" of the warring aviation corps, many of the greatest and most famous flyers in both the allied and the enemy ranks having fallen. A great number of them had been flying for two and even three years, and were almost deemed invincible. It is my belief that after a man has flown and fought at the front for a long time he becomes exhausted, and unless he takes a rest, which few devoted aviators will consent to do, he falls an easy prey to some fresher though less experienced man, writes Paul Ayres Rockwell in the Chicago Daily News. At the head of the list of fallen airmen comes the glorious Frenchman, Capt. Georges Guynemer, who had, by official count, destroyed 53 German airplanes, and who had surely accounted for at least twenty others. He was killed in aerial combat above Poecapelle, September 11, by the German Lieutenant Wissemann, who was slain a few days later by Second Lieutenant Fonck. Guynemer was the finest and most romantic figure this war has yet produced. His final citation in French army orders follows:

"Georges Guynemer, captain commanding escadrille N 3; died on the field of honor September 11, 1917. A legendary hero, fallen in the full heaven of glory, after three years of ardent struggle. Will remain the most pure example of the qualities of the race; indomitable tenacity, tireless energy, sublime courage. Animated by the most unshakable faith in the victory, he bequeaths to the French soldier an imperishable souvenir, which will exalt the spirit of sacrifice and provoke the most noble emulations."

Another great Frenchman who will fly no more is Captain Matton, who shot down nine enemy machines. He did not return from a flight over the German lines on September 10. Later it was learned that he had been wounded, captured and taken to a prison camp, where he died. These are the only French "aces" who have been killed, though several valuable pilots are no more.

Many Able Germans Downed.

Now read the long list of German losses: Capt. Baron von Richtofen, commander of the notorious "tango" escadrille and credited by the Wolff communiques with 61 victories, has been forced by serious wounds to give up active flying. He was last mentioned in the enemy's communique of September 3, which chronicled his sixty-first triumph. Shortly after, he was reported killed in action, then a British prisoner. An Amsterdam dispatch of October 22 reported the baron's marriage to the daughter of a multimillionaire munition maker and stated that the kaiser had given the noted "ace" a place on his staff as inspector of all German aviation schools.

Von Richtofen made his first appearance in the enemy communiques on January 24, 1917, when his seventeenth victory was chronicled. Why had he never been spoken of before? Berthold's fifth victory, Wintgen's fifth, Baldann's fourth, Hohndorff's fourth were cited, the same for Mulzer, Leffers, Von Althaus and many other Boche "aces." Yet, although Von Richtofen was a nobleman, a fact rare among the German "aces," and in consequence standing an unusually good chance of being signaled, his debuts were passed over in silence. Jacques Mortane, the French aviation writer, is of the opinion that Von Richtofen's first 16 victories were invented for him owing to the fact that when he appeared on the scene in the communique the Boche authorities were sorely in need of "aces" to convince the German public that their aviation was superior to that of the allies.

Big Losses in 1917.

Lieut. Werner Voss Crefeld was killed September 24, along with his fifteenth victim. Lieutenant Gontermann, who had destroyed 39 allied airplanes and observation balloons, was killed accidentally early in November. Lieutenant Wolff was slain in an air fight September 15, after he had triumphed over 33 allied machines. Lieutenant Dostler, mentioned as having shot down 26 allied airplanes, was killed in combat in mid-November. Lieutenant Baron von Richtofen, brother of the noted captain, was reported killed by the British in September. But a later report from Germany indicates that he was only wounded. He was credited with twenty-four victories. Among his victims was the wonderful English flyer, Capt. Albert Ball, who fell May 7, 1917, after having gained 43 victories.

Lieutenant Hohndorf, the former spy, was killed in combat September 12, after destroying 12 allied planes. Second Lieutenant Festner, who had 12 victories to his credit, also fell in September, as did Lieutenant Mulzer, who had shot down ten adversaries.

Since August, 1914, 35 German "aces" have been killed, and only 29 remain alive. The Boche leaders today are Lieut. Hans Muller, with 29 victories; Lieutenant Berthold, 28; Lieut. Chevalier von Tuscheck, 28, etc.

French Lose Thirteen "Aces."

All told, but 13 French "aces" have been killed or made prisoner. They are:

Newest French "Aces."

A word about some of the new French "aces."

Second Lieutenant de Rochechouart de Mortemart, Prince de Tonnay-Charente, is the first prince to become an "ace," although there are several noblemen among the "aces" in the French, English, Russian, Italian, German, Austrian and Turkish armies. When the war began the Prince de Tonnay-Charente was serving in a light cavalry regiment. After much campaigning on horseback and in the trenches, he passed into the aviation, going to the front with the famous escadrille N 23. Shortly after he arrived at the escadrille, on June 4, 1917, he came back from a sortie with two stay wires cut by bullets. Every day in May and June he delivered combat to enemy machines. On June 16, after a combat in the course of which his airplane was riddled by bullets, he shot down his first victim. His second victory occurred near Dannevaux on September 3. September 18 he probably destroyed a German plane near Bethincourt; the 20th, his third official Boche fell near Douaumont; his fourth near Comieres on September 22 and his fifth in the Forges wood, October 20.

Quette's Wonderful Climb.

Sergeant Quette's station in life before the war was entirely different. He is a typical Parisian "child of the people" and is a lover of stirring sensations, brave in every sense of the word. He was first a machine gunner with the escadrille 64, where he always volunteered for the most perilous missions. It was Quette who, on January 3, 1916, while in full flight, crawled out on the lower plane of his airplane to reattach a magneto wire which had come loose, allowing his pilot, by this heroic balancing feat, to continue his mission. On July 2, 1916, his pilot having been wounded during a combat, Quette aided him to land safely within the French lines, just back of the trenches.

After training as a pilot Quette was soon awarded the military medal, with a fine citation: "A young pilot, full of courage and sangfroid. Has distinguished himself in many circumstances and delivered numerous combats, during which his machine has been often hit by the enemy's fire. Shot down an enemy airplane July 22, 1917, after a hard combat. Twice wounded and twice cited in the course of the campaign."

Four Victories in Twelve Days.

On September 7 Quette badly damaged an enemy machine near the reservoir in the Aisne region. During a patrol September 9 he attacked the German trenches with his machine gun. On September 10 he destroyed an airplane near Filain; September 16 he triumphed over another at the same place; on September 22 he shot down two Boche planes, one near Courteau, the other near Corbeny—four official victories in 12 days!

The leading Italian "ace" is Captain Baracca, with 21 victories. Major Piccio, who is probably the dean of all the fighting "aces"—he is forty years old—has 15 victories, and the Duke Ruffo di Calabria and Captain Baracchini 13 each. The Italian aviation is far superior to the Austrian and there are many Italian fliers who have destroyed five or more Austrian machines.

Greatest Living Aviator.

Last, but not least, I speak of Maj. W. A. Bishop, the greatest living war aviator, who has shot down and destroyed, by the British official count, 47 German airplanes. Major Bishop, who is but twenty-two years old, is a Canadian, born at Owen Sound, of Canadian parentage. He graduated with the class of 1914 at the Kingston Military college and on the outbreak of war enlisted in the Seventh Canadian cavalry. On arriving in England he was versed, at his demand, into the royal flying corps, and came out to the French front in January, 1916. Less than three months later he was chief of escadrille and patrol commander. In his first 57 combats he shot down 21 enemy airplanes and two observation balloons.

Major Bishop is the only Canadian officer who has received the military cross, the distinguished service order, the Victoria cross, and a letter of felicitation from Sir Douglas Haig. The exploit which gained for Bishop the Victoria cross is almost unbelievable, and unique in the annals of aviation.

Biggest Feat of the War.

One morning he set out alone on patrol. He directed himself toward an enemy airdrome, but on arriving there found no machines on the field. He continued on to another aviation camp, 20 kilometers within the Boche lines. Seven airplanes were lined up in front of the hangars, with their motors turning. Bishop descended to within twenty meters of the ground and opened fire. A mechanic who was running a motor was hit and fell over. One of the Boche pilots wished to avenge him, and rose to pursue the daring Canadian. The latter let the Boche approach, then fired 15 cartridges, sending his enemy to earth.

Another Boche started to rise, but before his machine could leave the ground Bishop had wounded him so badly that he lost control of the airplane, which crashed into a tree.

By this time two other German pilots had got into their machines and came after Bishop. The latter rose to a higher altitude, getting his opponents separated, and then calmly shot them to earth.

Reaches His Lines Safely.

He started back for his own lines. Four German airmen, who had seen from afar his exploits, escorted him at some 300 meters distance to within a kilometer of the trenches, but they did not attempt an attack. On landing, Bishop found that his machine had been literally riddled by bullets from the machine guns defending the German aviation field.

Major Bishop returned to Canada in September on three weeks' leave of absence, and while there married Miss Burden of Toronto. Just bfore going home he fell 4,000 feet in a flaming airplane. When he crashed to earth his clothes were afire, but he was unhurt. I am told that the British war office is now keeping Major Bishop at an English aviation school, to teach young pilots some of his marvelous fighting methods.

JURYMEN TOOK TASTES

Members Had Taken Tobacco Out of Their Mouths When Halted.

The contents of a quart bottle of whisky introduced as part of an exhibit in the case of Silas Casto, at Ripley, W. Va., charged with illegally bringing intoxicants into the state, was disappearing rapidly after it had been passed into the hands of the jury until Judge O'Brien, presiding in the case and a great foe of liquor, thundered:

"Don't give that jury whisky."

Counsel for the defense refused to admit the bottle contained whisky. The bottle was passed to the witness, who, at the request of State's Attorney Sims, withdrew the cork and smelled it.

"It's whisky," the witness said. Then it was passed to the jury, who began sampling the goods, three having partaken before they were halted by the judge. Other jurors had removed the tobacco from their mouths when the judge halted the proceedings.

WOMAN SETS RIVER AFIRE

Throws Burning Rag From Houseboat and Scum on Water Ignites.

Mrs. R. A. Derhart, who lived in a houseboat on the Blue river, a small stream on the outskirts of Kansas City, Mo., set the river afire. While cleaning the stove in the houseboat, with a rag, the rag caught fire, and she threw it out the window into the river.

The river was covered with a scum of oil from a nearby factory. The oil blazed up and the houseboat caught fire. The boat being moored to the bank, Mrs. Derhart was able to save herself.

PLAN BACKYARD GARDEN EARLY

People Urged by Department of Agriculture to Begin Now.

BIG CROP NEEDED FOR 1918

Determine Location and Area to Be Planted to Vegetables as Soon as Practicable—Each Town and City Should Be Able to Supply the Needs of Its Own Population—Order Your Seeds Early.

How shall we get ready for home gardening activities in 1918 is a question now reaching the United States department of agriculture from all sections. To these questioners the department is giving the following advice:

Determine the location and the area to be planted to vegetables as soon as practicable. Clear it of rubbish and as material suitable for a compost heap is available, start one. Arrange, if possible, for the necessary fertilizer for the season's garden from local sources, such as stables, streets or abattoirs. Add these materials to the compost heap so as to insure as large a supply as possible of suitable material with the smallest practicable use of commercial fertilizers. This is desirable to insure plant food and to save expense. Commercial fertilizers are scarce and high, and in garden work even when such materials are abundant and relatively cheap they cannot entirely replace stable manure and compost. Each city or town should be able to supply the major part of the needs of its gardening population if the fertilizers produced within its limits are husbanded for their use.

Get Seeds Early.

As soon as the spring catalogues are available, select the list of seeds needed to plant the area to be used for gardening. In choosing the list, have in mind the selection of those sorts which did best last season, those which the family relished most, and determine the quantity with care in order that only the seed necessary to meet your requirement be purchased. The supply of some of the important varieties of garden seeds is limited, and in order that all may obtain the quantity needed to meet their needs, everyone should co-operate to make the supply available produce a maximum crop.

Place your seed orders early.

Plan Your Garden in Advance.

In planning the garden have due regard to supplying the family with fresh vegetables as well as those desired for canning or drying, but refrain from entering the field of commercial vegetable production unless you are an experienced practical gardener with suitable soil and location and adequate capital to finance the operation.

Planning the garden on paper—that is, drawing a right plan to scale on which are indicated the spaces to be devoted to early planted and later crops, the best planting dates, etc—is an interesting winter evening employment for the entire family.

See that garden tools are properly protected and are ready for spring use. Have fruit trees and small fruits pruned and sprayed at the proper time.

Secure Farmers' Bulletin No. 818, "The Small Vegetable Garden," and books on gardening and prepare yourself to make every seed count.

Paroled Convict Finds Bride-to-Be Waiting for Him.

True to her promise to wed Thomas Carrigan, alias Thomas Patrick Hogan, bank robber, if he was given a pardon, Miss Pearl Morris of Topeka, Kan., was married to Carrigan by Rev. Father J. P. Melles, Catholic chaplain of the penitentiary at Jefferson City, Mo. The ceremony was performed a few minutes after the bridegroom was released under his parole. The couple will go "somewhere in Kansas" to live.

Carrigan was convicted of robbing a bank at Phillipsburg, Laclede county, of $1,800 by blowing the safe. He was sentenced to ten years and came to Jefferson City in 1914.

Miss Morris, who was engaged to Carrigan before he went to prison, has been unremitting in her efforts to get a parole for him. She declares she will make a good man out of him. She formerly lived in Kansas City, but gave her home address as Topeka.

USE OF WINE ENCOURAGED

Advised by War Cabinet in View of Beer Shortage.

The British war cabinet, with an eye on the shortage of beer as a cause of industrial unrest and the consequent increased demand for spirits, has decided to allow the release from bond of wine up to the full amount released in 1916.

In releasing this quantity the war cabinet expressed the hope that all those who could afford to drink wine will refrain from drinking beer.

"Postwomen" Discharged.

Women letter carriers are not a success, according to Postmaster Colin W. Selah of St. Louis, who says the work is too heavy for them. He gave them a 15-day trial on several city routes and after observing their inability to carry on the work, finally announced that their services would be required no longer.

Ball vs. Roller Bearings.

Ball bearings are a German invention, and it is only a few years ago that they made their appearance on the market. Roller bearings, both cylindrical and conical, are an American invention. The advantages claimed for the rollers over the balls are that they can sustain both the radial and the axial strain and they are more easily replaced when they become worn.

If people past sixty years of age could be persuaded to go to bed as soon as they take cold and remain in bed for one or two days, they would recover much more quickly, especially if they take Chamberlain's Cough emedy. ## GIRLS INVADING GLASS FACTORIES

Are Now Employed in Plants in New Jersey.

BARRED FROM BEING BLOWERS

Union Rules Reserve Glassblowing for Men and Automatic Machines, But the Girls Are Utilized Now in Place of Boys as Snappers-Up and Carriers-In—Presence Has Wholesome Effect on Conduct of Men.

Girls who have tried their hand at farming, flagging trains, ticket selling, munition making and a score of other jobs for which there is shortage of men in these busy war times have now broken into the glass industry.

For the first time in South Jersey, where glass factories have flourished for more than a century, women and girls are being employed in this season's fire. One of the big companies at Bridgeton, N. J., was the first company to employ girls on an extended scale in its warehouse; now they are being employed at other big glass factories at Millville and Salem.

Can't Be Blowers.

Glassblowing is to be reserved entirely for the men and the automatic machines. Women are barred from it by rules of the Glassworkers' union, besides several years of apprenticeship and considerable skill are required to make expert glassblowers. Union men say that if a woman even set foot on a blower's bench in any of the factories of this region it would doubtless cause a general strike.

Women and girls, however, are not prevented by rules or lack of experience from taking the jobs formerly held by the boys who snap-up and carry-in the bottles as they come from the blowers' molds. They also grind and polish the bottles. Both white and colored girls are employed.

William Waddington, superintendent of the Bridgeton plant, says his company now employs 28 girls. Those on the day run work 8½ hours a day and six days a week, while those on the night run work five nights and are paid for a full week.

The girls who work as "snappers-up" receive $13 a week, while those who "carry-in" get $11.50. The snapping-up and carrying-in are the principal tasks for the girls at this factory. They wear bloomer overalls.

"A Good Thing."

The carry-in girls take the bottles, hot from the molds, on long-handled carriers and place them in the lehrs, where they are tempered. In the course of a day a carrying-in girl handles thousands of bottles and walks several miles.

"I laughed at the idea of employing girls in a glass factory at first," said Superintendent Waddington. "Now that I have seen how it works out I believe that it is a good thing. It is surprising the difference that it has made in our shops. With the girls around the men are more careful about their language. There is a lot of rough talk in most glass factories, but here the men are more careful."

LONG WAY THE SHORTEST

Canadians Traveled to Mainland With Letter Carriers.

After walking across the ice on Lake Erie, from Pelee island to Put-in bay, nearly twenty miles, four Canadians made the trip to mainland with the mail carriers and then by automobile to Port Clinton, from which place they journeyed to Leamington, Canada, their destination.

After reaching Leamington they could look across the channel about sixteen miles to Pelee, the place from which they had started, but had traveled several hundred miles to get to their destination. The men had expected to get to the Canadian shores by crossing the ice, but the open channel made it impossible.

New Electric Furnaces.

The success of electric heat in Japan and varnish oven work has led to considerable investigation along the line of what might be termed low temperature heating; that is, heating with temperatures up to 600 degrees Fahrenheit. The results of these investigations have brought out numerous other applications, among which are electric core baking ovens, electric bread baking ovens, ovens for making cereals, drying woolen articles and equipment for sherardizing.

THE MANAGEMENT

Genuine Home Thirft means managing the home so well that none of the Father-energy it takes to earn money, or none of the Mother-energy it takes to spend it, is wasted by foolish purchases, extravagant housekeeping or niggardly economy.

In order to achieve these ends the housekeeper must learn how to take care of her savings, even the smallest ones, by business mehods, how to balance her household budget, how to pay her bills by checks, and how to manage her bank account to the best advantage.

[illegible] CHARMED BY NAVY

Runaway Boy Has Exciting Time on First Sea Trip.

STORY DRAGGED FROM HIM

Experiences With Merchantmen Leave No Fear in His Heart While the War Lasts—Three Days and Nights in a Boat With Nothing to Eat—Ship That Rescued Him and Companions Torpedoed Five Days Later.

By VIRGINIA EVANS SEWALL.
Daughter of the Late Admiral Robley D. ("Fighting Bob") Evans, U. S. N.

He was pointed out to me as "the man who has been torpedoed twice." I looked for a man who would probably appear "grim" or "haggard," or some of those things which we unconsciously expect in connection with such experiences, but this boy was in nowise different from hundreds of others who were crowding the army and navy Y. M. C. A. that evening.

I called him over to the desk where, with other volunteers, I was trying to help during the crowded times of the early summer. He came, willingly, with a cheerful grin on his rather ugly, round face.

"Did you'se call me, ma'am?"

"Is it true," I asked, "that you've been torpedoed twice?"

"Yes, ma'am, twicet."

"Will you tell me all about it?"

The Whole Story.

He looked rather blank for a second and then said:

"Well, ma'am, I wuz on one ship an' she wuz torpedoed, an' then I wuz on another ship, an' she wuz torpedoed, an' that's all there is to it."

Taking a long breath and looking much relieved to have rid his mind of this effort, he turned to go, but I said:

"No; come back here and tell me all about it from the beginning."

With a simplicity and directness that were very attractive, he began:

"Well, I wuz livin' in Gloversville, N'Yawk. I wuz born in N'Yawk, and I wuz a leather wolker—makin' good pay I wuz, too—an' a frien' of mine, he comes back—he'd been away —an' he says to me, he says, 'Gee! it's excitin' in the war zone.' So, I beats it away from Gloversville to Philadelphia—didn't tell me mother nothin' about it—an' when I gits to Philadelphia I gits a job on a boat—she was named de S. S. Glitterine."

"Sounds more like a tooth wash than a ship," I murmured.

"No, ma'am, dat wuz a ship, an' we went away on her, an' Gee! but we went to some funny places, an' in de end of Febewary we left a place dey calls Archangel and wuz goin' to Christiania, an' one night while I wuz washin' de supper dishes—I wuz de thoid steward—dere came a awful bump—see, lady, just like dat—Bump! —an' I says to m'self, I says, 'Gee!' I says, 'somethin's happened,' an' I beats it out on deck, an' say, lady, you know dem decks dey runs along dis way, you know, fore an' aft, dey calls it in de navy? Well, say, dey didn't run dat way no more—no, ma'am! there was a great hole right in front of me—say, lady! it wuz so big I couldn't a-jumped acrost it! So I beats it back into de cabin and gits me life-belt—dey won't let us go on deck without 'em—and I beats it outside again. An' say, it wuz goin' dis way" —holding his hands up over his head.

"Yes," I said, rather breathless. "Go on, what did you do then?"

"Do? Well, lady, dere wuzn't nothin' to do, 'cept jump overboard."

Cold and Waves.

"Mercy!" I said. "Can you swim?"

"Who, me? Me, lady, I can't swim, an' it wouldn't have done me no good if I could, 'cause dat water's too cold —say, Gee, it wuz cold—an' dem waves! I tells de fellers over to the training station about dem waves an' dey don't believe me; but, honest to heavings, dem waves wuz high like them barricks—an' two or three times dem waves they come up an' fell on top of me, an' Gee! I sez dis is de finish of me, I says; but de fellers in de life-boat, dey has a little round light in de bows—a soichlight dey calls it, lady, an' dey seen me wid dat an' dey picks me up in de boat."

"How long were you in the boat?"

"Aw, Gee! lady, dat wuz awful! We wuz dere tree days an' tree nights, too; an' didn't have nothin' to eat, just a little bit of water, and say, Gee! I wuz hungry, an' then we got picked up by the S. S. Giltry. An, say, lady, dat's the funny thing—five hours after we wuz picked up by her she was torpedoed. I certainly wuz sore."

"How old are you?" I asked.

With a slightly dreamy look that usually accompanies their best lies, he answered, "Eighteen."

"No," I said, firmly, "tell the truth now—how old are you?"

Then, confidentially, he replied:

"Well, ma'am, I says I'm seventeen, but I ain't yet!"

When You Have A Cold

It is when you have a severe cold that you appreciate the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mrs. Frank Crocker, Pana, Ill., writes: "Our five-year-old son Paul caught a severe cold last winter that settled on his lungs and he had terrible coughing spells. We were greatly worried about him as the medicine we gave him did not help him in the least. A neighbor spoke so highly of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy that I got a bottle of it. The first dose benefited him so much that I continued giving it to him until he was cured."

Mrs. Barker took theplace of Mrs. L. G. Rothschilde, of Indianapolis, on an address to the the women but there was no attempt to hold sepert sectional meetings. Others who were to speak this afternoon were Dr. E. M. Linton, Indiana University, on the Red Cross; and Prof. R. S. Trent of Indiana University, who will speak on war savings and thrift stamps. A patriotic address by one member of the eam was scheduled for the late afternoon.

WAR BRIDE WORKS

Waitress in a Restaurant to Be Near Soldier Husband.

There is one little California war bride who has a world of pluck. She is Mrs. Betty Tuttle of Berkeley, who is working as a waitress in a Tacoma restaurant, so she may be near her soldier husband, who is a member of the Three Hundred and Sixty-third infantry.

"I believe it is the duty of every war bride to be near her husband," said Mrs. Tuttle. "I don't mind being a waitress at all. It was a little hard to learn to balance a tray of dishes, but I determined to persevere so that I could be near my husband until he leaves for the trenches. I only wish that I were a man and could look forward to fighting in France.

"I don't know what I will do when he leaves. Tacoma people have treated me fine, and my husband wants me to remain here until he returns. I guess that's about the best thing for me to do. I have always called my husband 'Daddy,' and I will miss him when he leaves.

"I suppose all of us must make sacrifices. I never had a position where I was treated with so much consideration, and then, you know, 'Daddy' is with the Three Hundred and Sixty-third infantry, and I see him quite often."

Responsibility on Heredity.

The oldest nations invariably have the most philosophers and learned seers. This has been thought to be due, observes a writer, to their greater accumulation of knowledge, but this new theory places the responsibility in large part upon heredity—the fact that men of civilized nation give their sons the mental equipment of civilization.

Birds' Nest Soup.

The birds' nests from which the far-famed Chinese soup is made are built by a species of swallow that abounds on the coasts of Java, Ceylon and Borneo, and consists of a gelatinous substance obtained from marine plants. The nests are boiled either in chicken broth or in milk of almonds, and the result very much resembles vermicelli soup, except that it is far more costly.

HAVING nothing else to talk about Indiana Republican bosses might be figuring what they are going to tell the voters about the breaking of their campaign promises and what excuse they will offer for adding a few hundred of thousands each year to the expenses of the State government.

WHILE the Indiana Republican machine has been planning to overtake Jim Watson's political goat, it is interesting to notice that while Harry New, Jim Goodrich, and the rest of them have been keeping the Republican national committee press agents busy "showing up" our war deficiencies, Watson has been keeping discretly quiet.

ANYBODY who is disposed to comment concerning the expert observations of Harry S.New on the lameness and "complete falldown of the war management" should remember that Harry was a captain in the Spanish American war being in charge of the distribution of embalmed beef to our soldiers.

Some people are mean enough to say that when Harry was commissioned a reguar uniformtd captain he was assigned to the commissary department, because that was perfecty safe, and because he had never had enough military training to know which end of the gun to put to his s houder when firing.

Anybody could pass out embalmed beef to an army without knowing it was poison until after the boys ate it.

"I CAN not understand why certain people are making all this talk about lack of equipment of our army, and Secretary Baker's statement makes a most c reditable showing in handling such a tremendous job in this as in other respects," says Colonel Ed P. Thayer of Greenfield. Colonel Thayer went with an Indiana regiment in the Spanish-American war.

"We only had 200,000 volunteers and 50,000 regulars in the Spanish American war, "continued the Coonel, "and when our regiment was mustered out at the end of the war we had never been fully equipped. Secretary Baker is handling fully eight times as big an army, and part of them 3000 miles across the sea, while our men in 1898 were here at home."

ELOQUENCE AT WAR COUNCIL ENTRANCES

Major W. C. Hyde, Dr. Alexander Cairns, Judge Earl Sample Speakers

FORMER IS CANADIAN

Speakers All See Acerica Victorious In War; Our Part As To Food

The War Council held in Jeffersonville Thursday was an undoumbteded success both in quality of speaking and in attendance. The latter was not so large as reported from some other parts of the state but was as large as those responsible for the meeting had attempted to secure since at the night session the assembly room of the high school building where all the sessions were held, was entirely filled and that with a representative as well as appreciative audience. Those who attended the sessions of the Council were amply repaid and this remark applies to all the sessions but in some sense especially to the night session.

The address of Major W. C. Hyde of the Canadian forces, with two years' experience in the artillery on the Somme and at Passchendaele Ridge pleased the audience which was delighted at seeing and hearing a man who had actually been through the furnace of war. He was warmly greeted at the close, attracting the audience as much by his unassuming modesty as by his military service, attested by the red ribbon of some decoration which he wore on his tubic. He said he had been told a few days ago to report to the Governor of Indiana for platform duty and had no previous experience.

The addresses of Dr. Alexander Cairns. and JJudge Earle Sample of Greenfield were the fine efforts of accomplished orators and drew much applause. That of the former was considered one of the finest addresses heard here in a long time for it was witty, wise, informative and practical:

Victory for the American arms was constantly in the thoughts of all nor did either of the speakers say anything to discoufrage this idea while pointing the way in which all may help to bring the time nearer. Judge Sample closed by saying: "I want to see the Stars and Stripes waving over German soil and if you and I will back up our boys aver there we shall without question see our colors flying there.

Even more explicit was Major Hyde who asserted that he had the utmost confidence in the readiness and ability of the American army which with its six months' training would be equal to any task. he asserted. "The Canadians did not have six months' training," he said, "but I think their actions speak for themselves."

Dr. Cairns not only saw the American arms and those of their allies victorious in this war but had a vision of all war abolished as a result of this war against war. He cited other evils which in times past had been tackled and defeated and had not dared again to raise their heads to trouble mankind, among others mentioning how chattel slavery had disappeared for all time.

Address of Dr. Cairns

Judge James W. Fortune presided at the night meeeting and introduced the speakers. It is not possible either to report the addresses or adequately to summarize them. That of Dr. Cairns fell naturally into three parts. In the first he gave an exposition of the high purpose of America in entering into this war quoting the great words of President Wilson in which occurs the memorable phrase as to "making tahe world safe for democracy." He asserted that America had no selfish ends in view. Passing on he referred to conditions as they exist in France. Heads of the teams of speakers of which he is a member have visited France and these commissioners brought back word of conditions over there.

"One of the questions asked our commissioners very often he said, "is as to whether the reported German atrocites actually are as bad as charged. Our commissioners verified any number of such cases. Mr. Trefz, the head of the team I belong to, talked to many German prisoners in France and heard from their own lips the stories of the inhuman deeds they had committed.

"One soldier admitted that he had stuck a bayonet through the breast of a woman and pinned her to the floor. Another said he had pinned a woman to a wall witah a bayonet thrust through her abdomen. Asked how they could be guilty of such acts of brutality, they replied that they had acted under orders from superiors and that they themselves would have been shot down if they refused."

Food And Our Duty

Passing on Dr. Cairns came to the all-important food question. In discussing this he said that all our esxportable wheat was exhausted by December 1 but about a month ago Lord Rhondda cabled Mr. Hoover asking if it would be possible to send 75,000,000 more bushels of wheat to the Allies by July 1 than had been promised. Mr. Hoover replied that he thought he could. That exchange of cables is responsible for the recent bread order issued by Mr. Hoover tightening and extending restrictions on bread.

In France the civilian population eats bread that has only 20 per cent wheat. They have no sugar, no butter and no cream. They have milk for breakfast only.

The necessity of saving meat, fat, sugar by using substitutes was convincingly urged.

A Soldier's Notes

The address of Major Hyde had very largely to do with the non-combatant branches of the service. He paid a high tribute to the Red Cross and spoke of the many unarmed men going bravely into the tehickest of the fight to tend the casualiies, a ask of the more noble self-sacrifice in view of the fact that the Red Cross is not sacred to the German. He told of one battle where the casualties numbered seven thousand but every wounded man was being cared for within twenty-four hours.

Another aspect of life spoken of was the service of the chaplains. Of one of these Major Hyde said he could not preach at all but whenever he did preach he was sure of a large congregation, that is the presence of everyone who could get there. This was because of the manner in which he got next to the men, going up with them right into the trenches and battle line and proving himself their friend in every way in total disregard of his own safety or comfort.

The afternoon session of the Council was well attended. Addresses were made by Dr. W. W. Black, Mrs. Barker, Prof. Cavanaugh and others.

Well Posted.

They were discussing literature and the conversation turned to English authors. "Have you read Carlyle?" inquired the literary connoisseur. "No," answered the literary pavenu, "but I've visited his Indian school."

POOR CONDITION OF SEED CORN

Old Corn Shown By Test Superior To That Of 1917

Seed corn tests completed this month by the soils and crops division of the agricultural extension department of Purdue University show that 82 per cent of the old corn tested will grow and that 42.5 per cent of the 1917 crop will germinate. However, several ears of new corn selected from the geld last fall and properly dried showed 100 per cent germination, but much of it refused to respond to the sand box tester.

Fifty-three ears of new corn from fourteen farms over the state and 71 ears of old corn from seven different farms were tested. The new corn was taken from that on display at the state corn show held in connection with the farmers' short course, January 16-17.

Early selected corn from the crib showed only ten per cent germination and in every instance field selected seed which was properly dried, showed up better than crib picked seed.

Preliminary tests are being made now by hundreds of schools in Indiana, and all show that the old corn is much better for seed than the 1917 crop, unless this seed has been dried by artificial means and cared for properly.

NO SESSION OF LEGISLATURE

If Possible, Says Governor; Situation At Indiana Reformatory

Sheriffs all over the state are being notified in answer to inquiries that they should hold all prisoners committed to the Indiana Reformatory for a time until arrangements may be made. There are some 70 or 80 inmates who have been authorizted for parole and are due to go out. These will leave just as soon as clothing which has been ordered in Louisville can be obtained. When the board of trustees meets Monday a large number more will be paroled and an effort will be made to get these out as quickly as possible.

One floor of the dormitory will soon be ready for use, reducing the number in the big cell house to about one thousand after a little. The clerk's force, the telephone and the records have been moved into part of th administration building. The broom, engineers' supplies, carpentering tinners, molding and a few other departments have resumed wark but the foundry will be hampered by the destruction of nearly all the patterns. Arrangements will be made as quickly as possible for the restoration of the clothing department which is required to provide the inmates with clothing.

Governor Goodrich states that he will exhaust every other possible means before calling the Legislature. The Reformatory and penal farm will supply all the brick needed for rebuilding.

H. H. Friedley, state fire marshal, will report to Gov. Goodrich at Indianapolis today.

THE ORDINARY LIFE OF MAN

Take 100 healthy men at the age of 25 and follow them. At 65 here is where you will find them:

36 will be dead.

1 will be very rich.

4 will be wealthy.

5 will be supporting themselves by work,

54 will be dependent upon friends, relatives or charity.

Or, to sum up only 5 out of the 64 living will be "well fixed." The rest will either not have saved anything because of their extravagance, or they will have lost their capital through trying to make it yield an absurd return.

COL. WOOD: HIS WORK OUTLINED.

Washington Dispatch Gives Flattering But True Picture

WHAT HE DID HERE

What He Will Do Even More Interesting; Will Arrive Next Week

The Indianapolis Star has a Washington dispatch relating to Col. W. S. Wood and the quartaermaster's depot here. Most has already been told in The News buta the following parapraphs are quoted as of interest.

Col. Winthrop S. Wood, who by his energy, executive ability and aggressiveness developed the Jeffersonville, Ind., army depot witahin one year's time from a small, inefficient plant to the biggest and best of the twenty depots in the United States, has just been assigned bq Maj. Gen Goethals, acting quartermaster general to have general supervision over all depots of the country. This important assignment represents a fine testimonial to the ability of Col. Wood.

Col. Wood's work at Jeffersonville attracted such attention that Gen. Goethals called him to Washington a month ago to assist in mapping out a plan for the reorganization of the quartermaster corps.

After working here with Gen. Goethals for a month Col. Wood is to be returned to the command of the Jeffersonville depot, but in addition he is to have the bigger responsibility of supervising the work of all other depots. Col. W. H. Hart, now in command will remain at Jeffersonville as Col. Wood's chief assistant. Col. Wood naturally is pleased that he will be permitted to keep in touch with the Jeffersonville depot, where he met with such signal success. Hea left Washington this week for inspection trips to Chicago and St. Louis and next week he will arrive at Jeffersonville.

Six million feet of flannel are used each month in the making of shirts for the Jeffersonville depot. The flannel used within a month would stretch out for a distance of 1,000 miles— greater than the distance from Washington to Jeffersonville.

Besides manufacturing shirts the Jeffersonville depot is making 500 sets of harness a week and recently it started a small, though a model plant, for making soldiers breeches and coats. Eventually the plant will be developed to manufacture 500 suits (breeches and coats) a day.

EXPRESS CAR AND TRAILER IN SERVICE

The traction line has put into service an express car and trailer to assist in moving the crowd of employes from the Government Depot to Louisville. The warmer weather has increased the number of employes at the depodt.

Ball vs. Roller Bearings.

Ball bearings are a German invention, and it is only a few years ago that they made their appearance on the market. Roller bearings, both cylindrical and conical, are an American invention. The advantages claimed for the rollers over the balls are that they can sustain both the radial and the axial strain and they are more easily replaced when they become worn.

The Capital's Fifth Avenue.

Pennsylvania avenue in Washington is usually listed among the world's famous streets, but to the Washingtonian this avenue has not half the importance and attractiveness of F street, the recognized parade ground of the fashionable on sunny afternoons. F street in Washington is an institution like the monument, the government clerk and band concerts in the parks. It dates back far enough to tax the memory of Washington's few oldest inhabitants, but no records of its origin are filed in the city hall.

Size of a City Lot.

The question is often asked, what part of an acre an ordinary city lot is. One 66x165 feet contains just a quarter-acre and contains 10,890 square feet. Ten acres, if square, would measure 660 feet along each side and a strip of that length and one-tenth the length, or 66 feet, would make an acre, and if but one-fourth as long or 165 feet would make a quarter acre. This is a good-sized city lot.

A Hint To The Aged

If people past sixty years of age could be persuaded to go to bed as soon as they take cold and remain in bed for one or two days, they would recover much more quickly, especially if they take Chamberlain's Cough emedy. # MAN POWER OF HUNS

Germany's Full Strength Is Now 5,500,000 Men.

3,130,000 Are on Various Fronts, the Remainder Are Guarding Neutral Frontiers.

Paris.—The Echo de Paris, referring to the distribution of enemy forces on the different fronts, says:

"On the Franco-British front there have been for several months past 152 German divisions, of which 54 were opposed by the British and the remainder by the French. Following the recent British offensive at Cambrai, this proportion was modified. There are now exactly 154 divisions on the Franco-British front, each comprising about 5,850 bayonets, and including artillery, engineers, etc., or about 12,000 men in all, thus giving about 2,000,000 German combatants on the Franco-British front.

"In view of the uncertainty of what Russian anarchy has in store for them, the Germans have left about a million men on the Russo-Roumania front. As a matter of fact, the movements effected have resulted not in a diminution of the number of fighting units on this front, but in their quality.

"On the Italian front Germany has sent to the assistance of the 45 Austrian divisions only seven divisions, or about 100,000 men.

"On the Balkan front she has sent only 30,000 combatants to re-einforce the Turks and Bulgarians. In Asia Germany has restricted her help to furnishing general staffs.

"Consequently Germany, whose total strength is 5,500,000 men, has on the various fronts 3,130,000 men, the remainder being required for guarding the Swiss and Dutch frontiers and for the occupation of, the invaded territories."

HIRSUTE CONSERVATION LATEST WAR MEASURE

Los Angeles, Cal.—Conservation of whiskers is the latest war-time measure advocated here. If every man and youth would refrain from getting a haircut and shave for a month, mathematicians figure something like $5,000,000 would be saved in labor, time, rent, electricity and gas.

This, however, admittedly would be hard on the barber and the opposition of the ladies to a month's growth of picturesque hirsute adornments on beau and husband is insurmountable.

USE COLOGNE BELL FOR GUNS

Great 56,000-Pound Relic of 1870 Dismantled and Sawed into Parts for War Purposes.

The Hague.—The great "kaiser's bell," whose sonorous voice many Americans may have heard above the roars of Cologne, has now been removed from its cage in the southern tower of the grand cathedral to be melted for war uses. It rang its funeral chant on New Year's night.

The bell weighed 56,000 pounds and it was necessary to saw it in pieces to get it down.

French guns captured in 1870 and 1871 were the material from which the bell was made, and it was first sounded on March 21, 1877, the birthday of William I. It took 27 bell ringers to operate it.

Favors Early Parenthood.

Early parenthood is productive of warriors, but not of good brain workers, for, says Doctor Reafield, "when we look over those intellectually superior men who have done so much for the world's advancement we find them to have been predominantly the sons of elderly parents and only rarely the sons of men less than twenty-five."

The Plattsburg Manual Advises the daily use of Foot-Etse in the Shoes There is nothing so good for the quick relief of Corns, Bunions, Chilblains, Blisters, Sore Spot or Callouses as this old standard remedy, Allen's Foot-Ease, the antiseptic powder to shake into the shoes. ### Watched Him Swell.

Leslie had been suffering with a severe toothache so that his face had become badly swollen. Returning from school the following day his mother asked him what the teacher said to him and he replied, "She did not say anything, but the kids all got around me to watch me swell."

About Constipation

Certain articles of diet tend to check movements of the bowels. The most common of thee are cheese, tea, and boiltd mik. On the other hand raw fruits, especially apples and bananas, also graham bread and whole wheat bread promote a movement of the bowels. When the bowels are badly constipated, however, the sure way is to take one or two of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper.

FRENCH WOMEN IN 1,000 TASKS

Girls Help in Mending of 30,000 Pairs of Soldiers' Boots a Week.

DO ALL KINDS OF LABOR

Old and Young Rendering Good Service in the War Industries—Only 30 Per Cent of Waste Is Ever Salvaged.

Paris.—French women, old and young, are nobly performing their tasks in war industries, thousands working in all kinds of industries within the sound of German guns.

They are praised for their intelligence and industry, from the little girl from the lycee to the old woman who has come back to work because she wants to see the Boche punished for what he did to France in 1870.

The French workers formerly had been lacemakers, and a few of them fisher girls. Of the former there were a few who were the children or grandchildren of English people from the great English lace centers at Nottingham, who had settled in France many years before and been absorbed into the life of the French people.

In the salvage centers at an ordnance base I saw them working in the biggest boot repair shop in the world, where 30,000 pairs of boots are repaired a week; and here I saw old uppers cut into disks, which in their turn were made into boot laces. These salvaged boots, swept up from the debris at the front, emerge finally in three classes: 1, those that can be used again by men at the front, and are often preferred to new, as they are softer in wear; 2, those for men on the lines of communication; and, 2, for prisoners and colored laborers.

Only 30 Per Cent Salvaged.

While I was going round these repairing shops I noticed an American officer being taken round also, and heard his cicerone giving him information on the importance of salvage—all of which he was carefully noting. There were Frenchwomen cleaning old web and leather equipment by revolving brushes; French girls sorting salvaged ammunition, the "empties" being sold to the French government; there were girls washing discarded haversacks, cleaning rifles, picking through masses of horseshoes to see if there was any wear left in them; there were girls sorting out old helmets and picking the few good ones to be washed, sandpapered and "camouflaged." All of these things had been swept up from the debris of the recent fighting. Yet only 30 per cent of waste is ever salvaged from the fighting lines.

They were repairing and riveting spurs; they were making wooden sticks for Watson's signaling fans; they were sharpening blades of horse-clippers; they were repairing wheels and cleaning the bolts and hubs of the wheels, and doing a thousand other curious routine things. Most of them sang at their work ribald little French songs, which occasionally changed to the defiant "Marseillaise" when they saw a stranger near them. Industry means happiness in France, where all who eat must work, even the dogs.

In the textile factory there were girls handling over five tons a day of old tents; others were repairing them upstairs at the rate of hundreds a week. They cut out disks for signaling, and the tabs for soldiers' greatcoats; they were making up the parcels that go in Tommy's greatcoat pocket, buttons, thread, etc., each one at a great table having her share in the process.

Help in Clerical Work.

There are French girls also helping in the clerical section of ordnance, working side by side with W. A. A. C.'s, filing papers, though they know no English, by numbers, and becoming very skilled and quick at a monotonous job.

The pay is that prevailing in the town in which they work and arranged with the French authorities. One of the great advantages of employing French women is, in addition to their quickness and skill, the fact that they live close at hand, thus saving the need for importing English people for unskilled work.

The French woman's labor has one characteristic that is recognized by the military employer. It is a little erratic. Six francs a day is the usual pay, and if a woman does not choose to work a consecutive number of days she stays away, and no one says anything. They are also a mobile labor, and if a group decide to move elsewhere owing to air raids and other causes, they depart with all their goods and chattels. Always they please themselves in purely personal matters while remaining on the best of terms with their employers. Of their strict honesty I heard constant praise.

Kaiser Changes His Name.

New Haven, Conn.—"Is Mr. Kaiser in?" queried a business acquaintance of the traveling manager of a chain of stores, as he entered the local branch here recently.

"Sh!" warned the local manager. "No such party here."

Then he confidentially informed the visitor that Mr. Kaiser was there, but for business and patriotic reasons he had changed his name to Kingdon.

AVIATOR DODGES HUNS 72 DAYS

Lieut. Pat. O'Brien of Illinois Tells of Wild Adventures in Germany.

JUMPS FROM MOVING TRAIN

American Strategy Triumphs Over German Efficiency—One of His Hardest Stunts Was Swimming River Meuse.

Chicago.—Pat O'Brien of Momence, Ill., is back from the fighting front.

In the British flying corps the young man from Momence is known as Lieut. Patrick Alva O'Brien. He is famous for several reasons. His real story began when he made a descent of nearly two miles in his airplane after a German bullet in the face had rendered him unconscious. The fall cost him a bump on the head.

He jumped out of the window of a moving train on his way to a German prison camp, and escaped. Then he spent 72 days in getting to Holland, a distance of 250 miles as the airplane flies. And the story ends with one of the longest interviews with a king on record—52 minutes by the royal stopwatch.

Many times during those 72 nights of travel through Germany, Luxemburg, and occupied Belgium, American strategy triumphed over German efficiency.

"Usually," said Lieutenant O'Brien, "when a bunch of fellows get together, they talk about women. But in our first prison, in Flanders, we talked only about escape and food, and got very little of either. There were eight officers going to an interior prison camp, and a guard with a rifle for every two prisoners.

Leaps From Train.

"We rode all day and all night. Twice I put up the window to jump, and lost my nerve. It looked too much like sudden death. As I put it up again, about four in the morning, the guard gave me an ugly look. I knew it was then or never and dove out.

"For nearly a month afterward I thought my left eye was gone. The scars are there yet. By the time the train stopped, a half-mile on, or more, I was up and stumbled to a hiding place. Those Germans looked everywhere—on the side of the tracks toward the border. I was in the opposite direction.

"It was a month before I got rid of my English uniform. I stole a pair of overalls one night. I got a cap the next and a shirt later. A Belgian gave me a scarf. That was all the help I got."

As an appetizer Lieutenant O'Brien ate turnip. The entree was sugar beet, and the meal closed with a cabbage stump that even the Germans scorned.

"And I never did like vegetables," he said. "I hope I never have to eat another."

One night a German soldier saw him swimming a river, and raised the alarm.

"I felt sure they would be on top of me in a few minutes," he said, "so I ran upstream and swam back to the other side. I knew the ways of the Hun pretty well by then. They looked everywhere on the other side, but not a German came near me.

Swam the Meuse.

"One of the hardest things I did was to swim the Meuse river. I had all my clothes on, to my boots, and the river was half a mile across. It nearly got me twenty-five feet from shore. I was choking, and I admit praying. My boyhood on the Kankakee saved my life.

"When I got up the bank I fainted. It was the only time I ever fainted."

Lieutenant O'Brien could not speak German. As a boy, a Momence baker of Teuton origin taught him a phrase of German, but he did not know what it meant. It was some "ten lifetimes" after swimming the Meuse he found the nine-foot death fence of the Holland frontier. Death all but got him then, as his improvised ladder dropped him on the charged wires.

"A few minutes later," he said, "I could have tripped the guard with my ladder. After he had gone I dug—dug as I never dug before in my life. My back was half an inch from death when I crawled under and into Holland."

GOING OVER TOP IS BETTER THAN FOOTBALL

Anniston, Ala.—Tom McClure, former Auburn football star, declares that going over the top in France beats charging into an opposing eleven. In a letter received here McClure tells of going "over the top" with the United States engineers four times. He was in the thick of the recent hostilities that resulted in several American casualties, but declares the game in France beats football at that.

MOVING PICTURES.

One day Edison caught sight of the camera which had hitherto had an easy time, but from that moment it was doomed. Edison harnessed it up with a set of gears and a revolving shutter and set it to work photographing speed, history, romance, humor and travel.

As soon as this was done moving pictures became enormously popular. The moving picture theatre immediately leaped into being and began to compete with the street car and the cigar store for the nickels of the populace. In consequence the limited supply of five-cent pieces became so overworked that a nickel which doesn't register at three tills each day is loafing on its job.

Moving pictures are making us acquainted with the world and familiar with the great men of all times. The scenery of Java, Sahara and Siberia are chestnuts to us, though we may never have traveled 100 miles on a railroad train. For five cents we can see King Solomon quarrel with fifty wives, in colors. We have seen so many battleships launched, kings crowned and buried, tigers shot, highwaymen treed, pugilists demolished and mountain peaks scaled, that most of us are extremely blase and the trees on the streets would have to walk off arm in arm to get more than a yawn out of us. This the trees will never actually do, but they are likely to do anything on a moving picture film, which is a great assistance to Nature, sometimes.

In moving pictures we may also see ferocious Indians chasing the brave hero down a macadam road and barbecuing him against a trolley pole; likewise we may discover the temperamental cowboys capturing a horse-stealing Mexican and lynching him in the wilderness around the corner from a hat factory in New Jersey. This teaches us not to believe all the moving pictures tell us. It is, in fact, one of the most accomplished of liars. It is possible in a moving picture factory to make a magnificent and awe-inspiring volcano out of a pile of sand, a roman candle and a barrel of soapsuds.

More people are watching moving pictures today than are watching chorus girls, which is a sign that the world is getting better. The picture melodrama is not a brain strengthener but it is an improvement over the old "ten, twent', thirt'," variety because the audience cannot hear the remarks of the characters. Moving pictures have been taken of practically everything in the world, including the pyramids and Washington's monument, but no one has taken a moving picture of a baggageman accommodating a crowd of hurried passengers. A standing or even sitting picture can handle this subject perfectly.

THE MANAGEMENT

Genuine Home Thirft means managing the home so well that none of the Father-energy it takes to earn money, or none of the Mother-energy it takes to spend it, is wasted by foolish purchases, extravagant housekeeping or niggardly economy.

In order to achieve these ends the housekeeper must learn how to take care of her savings, even the smallest ones, by business mehods, how to balance her household budget, how to pay her bills by checks, and how to manage her bank account to the best advantage.

We Back Vin Hepatica

Confidence in what we tell our customers is what has made us successful. Every day, regular customers and strangers ask us what we recommend for this or that trouble. When they say indigestion, liver, kidney or bowel trouble, we tell them to take Vin Hepatica. The universal system purifier is sure to do the work.

We know what it's made of and the care with which it is compounded, and that it is a real medicine.

You perhaps know L. A. Cantrell, of Chattanooga. He has suffered from kidney trouble, as well as catarrh of the stomach and head. Vin Hepatica he declares made him feel better than he has felt for forty years. "Vin Hepatica," he declares, with deserved enthusiasm, "is worth $1,000 a bottle." But it costs only $1. ### REFRESHMENTS

By Betty Tansey
of The Vigilantes

I do not believe that sugar and wheat are used to any better purpose in providing "refreshments" for social functions than they would be in ordinary meals for families.

I do not think that ice cream is less likely to deplete our resources in a way unfair to our soldiers and our allies when served by charming girls to their mammas and the mammas of otaher charming girls than if purchased at the sordid marts of the ice cream trade, retail.

Little cakes with pink icing on them appear to me to be as free from all patriotic traits or even from a natural tendency of the human race to self preservation when served in drawing rooms to women thrilled by bridge or books as when noted thru shop windows and taken home in a peper sack.

You may if you desire give a little dinnrr to friends without in any way abusing the rights of others to food or infringing upon the requests of our government for conservation of resources. This is the way the people of the Britaish Isles have kept up a tiny bit of social life. But "refreshments" in the middle of the afternoon to a lot of well fed women? It is not right.

Months ago it was announced that certain organizations of women had agreed to refrain from serving any foods at their meetings. This was heralded as being patriotic. It was plain, helf-preservative common sense of course. But it was the right thing to do.

Yet our club women, women many of them affiliated with organizatiois which stand for intelligence and the better things of life seem in many instances not to have followed this course but to be pursuing the even tenor of their ways before the war, not for a few of them once in a while but for all of them every week.

We object to patronizing hotels and restaurants at which the food regulations are ignored, and rightly so. How about the social functions at which "refreshments were served?"

Rich food in the middle of the afternoon for a group of already well fed women? Their very food cards ought to climb down out of their windows in shame at such consistency.

When You Have A Cold

It is when you have a severe cold that you appreciate the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mrs. Frank Crocker, Pana, Ill., writes: "Our five-year-old son Paul caught a severe cold last winter that settled on his lungs and he had terrible coughing spells. We were greatly worried about him as the medicine we gave him did not help him in the least. A neighbor spoke so highly of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy that I got a bottle of it. The first dose benefited him so much that I continued giving it to him until he was cured."

City Administration Seeks Way To Get Just Dues

The city administration is seeking to discover some way to compel a Louisville contracting firm to pay its vehicle license for a number of teams which are hauling for the government depot since there is at present iat is asserted, an unintentional discrimination in their favor against the city teamsters. The firm in question has a lange number of teams employed and is said to receive $7 a team per diem. In addition the government pays the drivers, Mayor Newton H. Myers said, and it is understood there is an allowance for ferriage. Local owners of teams are receiving, it is said, only $6 a day and pay their own drivers. The Louisville firm is sheltering behind the contention that the wagons and teams are under charter the government and not liable but Mayor Myers and Wilmer T. Fox, city attorney, are of opinion that they are liable for the license fee and could well afford to pay it.

Notice has been received by Ernest E. Jacobs, clerk of the Clark Circuit court, that Miss Kate Schubnell, of Bennettsville, will be received for treatment at the Southeastern Hospital for the Insane at North Madison.

Your Country Needs You! Your postmaster is a qualified recruiting officer

A WEEK before Secretary Baker made his statement, President Wison said: "My association and constant conference with the secretary of war has taught me to regard him as one of the ablest public officials I have ever known. The country will soon learn whether he or his critics understand the business in hand."

This was taken by the Indianapolis News as the text for one of the daily editorial demands for Baker's resignation and excuse for chastising Woodrow Wison for general inefficiency.

Now the best the same editor can say is that if we must tell our war secrets to the enemy in order to tell them to congress, then tell them, lest "rumors" continue to be exaggerated into "facts." Gerat care is taken to avoid giving any cred it either to Wilson or Baker for the war work accomplished. That would be admitting that Republican leaders, including the aforesaid editor, had been doing a lot of bad political blundering.

EXPRESSES GRATITUDE FOR HELP

Maj. D. C. Peyton Issues Card Naming Those Who Gave Aid At Fire

TO RELIEVE CROWDING

Governor Suggests Sending To Penal Farm; Legislature May Not Meet

The management of the Indiana Reformatory is greaty indebted to and deeply grateful for the sympathy offered and services rendered by many friends. The Jeffersonville, New Albany and Louisville fire departments r esponded promptly, worked heroically and intelligently and rendered valuable service. The United States Government Depot, in this city, through its com- Captain James L. Glascock, has given great help which is enabling us to house, feed and in every way care for the more than 1200 inmates The Southern Telephone Company of Indiana, the American Car and Foundry Company, Mr. Mat Akers, of the Big Four Railroad Company, as well as the Pennsylvania Railroad Co., and others rendered valuable service. The fire was most disastrous and appallingly destructive and the rapidity and completeness of its estructicn are indeed staggering.

Not only locally buta from all over the State and the neighboring State of Kentucky we have received expressions of sympathy as well as offers of assistance. Our friends locally in great numbers came to our rescue on the night of the fire. The newspapers have been most generous and kind and intelligently just in the handling of the situation.

May I not in this connection indicate our deep sense of gratitude for all this supporting sympathy and helpful assistance at this time when we are seriously burdened with the magnitude of the problem confronting us in the rehabilitation of the Indiana Reformatory.

Gratefully,
DAVID C. PEYTON,
Gen'l. Sup't.

To Relieve Crowding

Governor Goodrich has sent a letter to judges of courts having power tao commit men to state institutions suggesting that because of thea fire at the Indiana Reformatory they send as many as possible to the state penal farm which can at this time care for 500 more prisoners than are at that institaution. The Governor says he has no purpose to interfere witah the process of the courts, but only to submit the situation with the suggestion that where it is optional "with you as tao which institution the prisoner should be sent, to commit as many as possible to the penal farm."

Will Use State Resources

Every effort will be made by the use of the state's own resources to avoid the calling of a special session of the Legislature. Gov. James P. Goodrich who has been opposing such a session for the past six months or more, remains opposed to it now in view of the Indiana Reformatory situation, partly becausce of the expense and partly because of the numerous other questions that would undoubtedly be injected into the session, among them that of the confirmation of the federal prohibition mendment.

The Indiana Reformatory has extensive brick clay deposits and has been making brick on a considerable scale. The new school building, which is one of the best buildings left outside of C cellhouse, was built by Reformatory labor with brick made at the institution. The state penal farm in Putnam county makes brick on a arger scale and both these seurces of supply will be called upon. The ranks of the instructors at the Reformatory include experts in a number of lines of engineering and construction work and the Governor hopes to use these resources, backed with money from the emergency fund and possible strengthened by the state's borrowing power. The regular time for a meeting of the Legislature would be next January.

The present crowded situation will be relieved to a certain extent in two ways. Those already paroled will be sent out as quickly as possible and those due to be paroled by the Board of Trustees at its regular meeting Monday will be released as quickly thereafter as as possible. One of the problems is to provide them with clothing but orders have been placed to overcome this hindrance and as soon as possible there will be established a tailoring department at the institution. All prisoners committed to the institution will be held back by sheriffs at request of the institution. Information from Indianapolis is to the effect that Governor Goodrich may arrange for these to be sent temporarily to the state penal farm in Putnam county which has at present a population considerably below its capacity.

MOTHER DEAD SON IN FRANCE

Fear Expressed That James Vance May Have Been On Ill-Fated Ship

Word was received in this city by Mr. and Mrs. William Cogswell of the sudden death of Mrs. Vance yesterday afternoon at her home in Smiths' Grove, Ky.

Mrs. Vance is the mother of James Vance, who was formerly located in this city and made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Cogswell. He was en employe of the Pennsylvania, being a machinist. He is now with the American army, somewhere, perhaps in France but fear is expressed that he may have been on the ill-fated ship Tuscana, as he has not been heard from for some time. The last word received he was in Philadelphia.

Mr. Vance has many friends in this city, who will be grieved to hear of his mother's death.

COAL STILL SCARCE BUT INDDUSTRIES RUN

Coal is still scarce in Jeffersonville, according to Fielding L. Wilson, county fuel administrator, and at least one dealer was right out for a time Friday but received a little later. ### There Are Also 148 In Service Under Draft And Many Vounteers

55 NOT HEARD FROM

Results Of Work Of Clark County Exemption Board Summarized

The classification of 2,050 men registered under the selective draft law has been completed by the Clark County Exemption Board upon their answers to questionnaires, excepting only 148 who are already in service under the provisions of this act and fifty-five who have not reported.

The others are classified as follows: class one, 676; class two five; class three 111; class four 990; class five, sixty-five. Class five includes those in voluntary service who enlisted before being drafted.

All those placed in class one will have to undergo their physical examination and a list of thirty-eight of them have been notified to report at the courthouse for that purpose Tuesday. There are nearly ninety to report Monday and in the course of a week or two the examinations will be completed.

The following are the names of twenty-nine placed in class one Friday when the last seventy-seven were classified, the remainder being placed three in class three; four in class four and five in class five:

William O. Sink, Sharlestown; Clyde Smith, 908 Walnut street; James E. Cole, 123 East Front street; Richard Thompson, 731 Illinois avenue; Walter H. Dobbins, R. F. D. 1 Charlestown; Charles O. Long, Nabb; James E. Hamilton, Underwood; Thomas Taflinger Nabb; Clyde Clapp, Otisco; Frank D. Callahan, Missouri avenue; William Spieth, Henryville; Robert O. Blythe, Charlestown; Almo E. Pennington, Sellersburg; James V. Perry 430 Wall street; Carl C. Martin, Charlestown; Isaac C. Scott, R. F. D. 2, Jeffersonville; Floyd Kallembach, Underwood; James Hickersonfi 310 Fourteenth street George Bowe, Floyd Knob; Paul Morrison, Utaica; Charles R. Staley, Bennettsville; James L. Dowdle, R. F. D. 2 Sellersburg; John E. Jackson, Borden; Charles V. Nelson, Memphis; William T. Holden 806 West Front street; George F. Stutesman, Merysville William P. Flood, 236 Walnut street; Frank Morgan, Sellersburg Clyde Dunn, Charlestown.

The final classification is made after appeal to the District Board if taken and after physical examination by the doctors who certified the registrants as qualified, disqualified or qualified for limited service. The great majority of the 676 placed in class one will be qualified either fully or for limited service.

Besides the 148 in service another 102 are required to fill Clark County's first quota but no instructions have yet been received as to these.

FOOD ORGIES OUT OF PLACE

Excess Is Inappropriate In These Days Says Margaret Deland

Margaret Deland, the famous author, has written an article for the Woman's Home Companion in which she says:

"We can give up certain kinds of food, namely, superfluities. This is so obvious and so easy that one hesitates to mention it. It is not hard for any inteligent woman (I almost said any decent woman!) t ogive up, just now—icing her cake! (I use 'icing' as a generic term. I mean of course, that sort of thing.) I am reminded here of something which happened at a uncheon at which I was present given to two English ladies. It was a terrible luncheon. Food! Food! Food! And there we were, plump, already over-fed women, eating, eating eating! When it was over and we rose heavily from the table, burdened with that sensce of repletion which poor indolent, middleage knows so well, the two English ladies drifted together into a corner. Then, in their calm clear, penetrating English voices camse:

"'Dear Mary, it was a gorge'

"'Dear Jane it was a Roman orgy!'

"Which brings me back to sacrifice, which I maintain, is the easiest thing we have to do. We can give up the orgy.

"We are here in the world where there is not enough of certain kinds of food. (Poor Mary's ejaculation returns to me: we are all 'toired av the worrd.' But bear with it while I just sum the situation up.) There is not enough of certain kinds of food for everybody. Owing to the scarcity of wheat, there isn't enough white flour to go round; owing to the scarcity of other grains, there isn't enough mik to go round; owing to the scarcity of labor, there will probably very soon not be enough sugar to go round. Where these staples are used as superfluities — like white flour in the delicious little fancy breads, or sugar in after-dinner candy, or butter in elaborate desserts —it is, of course as easy as possible for right-minded persons to sacrifice them. Under the circumstances, the use of superfluities means 'excess.' (Somebody once said that the 'essence of vulgarity is inappropriateness' and certainly nothing is more inappropriate, just now, than excess!) But as for sacrifice why it isn't 'sacrifice' to refrain from cream when we hear a baby crying for milk."

SOLDIER MARRIED HERE LAST JULY

Magistrate Thomas Coward received a request from Peter L. Staab, formerly of 616 East Walnut street, Louisville, now a member of the 151st Field Hospital, 113th Sanitary Train at Camp Shelby, Miss., to announce his marriage on July 31, 1917 to Miss Louise Stoeve, daughter of John Stoeve, 733 South Clay street, Louisville. ### High Schools Will Study Attitude Of U. S. A. In Leaders' Words

S. L. Scott, county superintendent of schools, attended a meeting Friday of the State Board of Education of which he is a member. The Board considered the use of the new "Indiana War Service Textbook for High Schools" of which the first copy had just been received by Horace Ellis, state superintaendent.

The work originally was planned by the State Council of Defense and was authorized by the Governor. The state board edited and published the work.

A prayer of the Rev. John C. Cavanaugh offered before the recent state-wide war conference in Indianapolis appears in the front of the book. Then follow the regular chapters of the text.

First comes the April 2 address of President Woodrow Wilson before the Congress, and then follow in the order given: Address to soldiers delivered by Governor James P. Goodrich at Fort Benjamin Harrison, May 17; an address by Samuel M. Ralston former Governor of Indiana, delivered before the State Council of Defense Dec. 14; "Our Council of Defense" by George Ade; "A Patriotic Appeal" by Horace Ellis; "The Schools and the War" E. U. Graff, superintendent of the Indianapolis public schools; "Our Flag" Archibald Hall, a member of the state board of education; "War Time Savings" Evans Woollen, Indianapolis banker; "A Reserve of Man Power" by Isaac D. Strauss, director in Indiana of the United States Boys' Reserve; "The Service Flag" a poem by William Herschell; "The Necessity for Food Conservation" by H. E. Barnard Federal food administrator for Indiana; "The Carol of Liberty Clan" a poem by Walter S. Greenough; "Food Production" by G. I. Christie, state food director; "Fighting With Dollars" Frank E. Hering of the thrift stamp campaign in Indiana; "The Meaning of the War" Louis Howland; an address by President Wilson before the Congress Dec. 3 and "The Star-Spangled Banner."

The book contains 152 pages and pictures of the President, the Governor, Theodore Roosevelt and others.

FRENCH WOMEN IN 1,000 TASKS

Girls Help in Mending of 30,000 Pairs of Soldiers' Boots a Week.

DO ALL KINDS OF LABOR

Old and Young Rendering Good Service in the War Industries—Only 30 Per Cent of Waste Is Ever Salvaged.

Paris.—French women, old and young, are nobly performing their tasks in war industries, thousands working in all kinds of industries within the sound of German guns.

They are praised for their intelligence and industry, from the little girl from the lycee to the old woman who has come back to work because she wants to see the Boche punished for what he did to France in 1870.

The French workers formerly had been lacemakers, and a few of them fisher girls. Of the former there were a few who were the children or grandchildren of English people from the great English lace centers at Nottingham, who had settled in France many years before and been absorbed into the life of the French people.

In the salvage centers at an ordnance base I saw them working in the biggest boot repair shop in the world, where 30,000 pairs of boots are repaired a week; and here I saw old uppers cut into disks, which in their turn were made into boot laces. These salvaged boots, swept up from the debris at the front, emerge finally in three classes: 1, those that can be used again by men at the front, and are often preferred to new, as they are softer in wear; 2, those for men on the lines of communication; and, 2, for prisoners and colored laborers.

Only 30 Per Cent Salvaged.

While I was going round these repairing shops I noticed an American officer being taken round also, and heard his cicerone giving him information on the importance of salvage—all of which he was carefully noting. There were Frenchwomen cleaning old web and leather equipment by revolving brushes; French girls sorting salvaged ammunition, the "empties" being sold to the French government; there were girls washing discarded haversacks, cleaning rifles, picking through masses of horseshoes to see if there was any wear left in them; there were girls sorting out old helmets and picking the few good ones to be washed, sandpapered and "camouflaged." All of these things had been swept up from the debris of the recent fighting. Yet only 30 per cent of waste is ever salvaged from the fighting lines.

They were repairing and riveting spurs; they were making wooden sticks for Watson's signaling fans; they were sharpening blades of horse-clippers; they were repairing wheels and cleaning the bolts and hubs of the wheels, and doing a thousand other curious routine things. Most of them sang at their work ribald little French songs, which occasionally changed to the defiant "Marseillaise" when they saw a stranger near them. Industry means happiness in France, where all who eat must work, even the dogs.

In the textile factory there were girls handling over five tons a day of old tents; others were repairing them upstairs at the rate of hundreds a week. They cut out disks for signaling, and the tabs for soldiers' greatcoats; they were making up the parcels that go in Tommy's greatcoat pocket, buttons, thread, etc., each one at a great table having her share in the process.

Help in Clerical Work.

There are French girls also helping in the clerical section of ordnance, working side by side with W. A. A. C.'s, filing papers, though they know no English, by numbers, and becoming very skilled and quick at a monotonous job.

The pay is that prevailing in the town in which they work and arranged with the French authorities. One of the great advantages of employing French women is, in addition to their quickness and skill, the fact that they live close at hand, thus saving the need for importing English people for unskilled work.

The French woman's labor has one characteristic that is recognized by the military employer. It is a little erratic. Six francs a day is the usual pay, and if a woman does not choose to work a consecutive number of days she stays away, and no one says anything. They are also a mobile labor, and if a group decide to move elsewhere owing to air raids and other causes, they depart with all their goods and chattels. Always they please themselves in purely personal matters while remaining on the best of terms with their employers. Of their strict honesty I heard constant praise.

Kaiser Changes His Name.

New Haven, Conn.—"Is Mr. Kaiser in?" queried a business acquaintance of the traveling manager of a chain of stores, as he entered the local branch here recently.

"Sh!" warned the local manager. "No such party here."

Then he confidentially informed the visitor that Mr. Kaiser was there, but for business and patriotic reasons he had changed his name to Kingdon.

Is What This Lady Thinks About Cardui. It Made Her Well.

Springfield, Mo.—Mrs. Alice Fletcher, of this address, writes: "I cannot say too much in praise of Cardui, it has done so much for me. Shortly after my marriage, 14 years ago, I suffered terribly...with my back paining me, and my limbs pained me so bad. And also I had such awful bearing-down pains, and I became very weak and could not hardly do my work...

I went to my sister-in-law and she told me to get Cardui. So I took one bottle and it helped me so much, I got another bottle, and by the time I had taken the two bottles I was a well woman. I have never been troubled any more...I keep Cardui in my home...for I think it is a fine tonic for a woman raising a family.

I always take one or two bottles before and after my..., for it strengthens me so, and has such good effects on my nervous system."

Weak women, worn out with the work and care of the home, need a tonic, strength-building medicine, like Cardui, the woman's tonic. NCB-9

Your Flesh And Muscles

The five hundred members of the human body depend on pure and rich blood for their health and contractile energy which is the ability to labor. If they are given impure blood they become enfeebled, the step loses its elasticity, the arm its efficiency, and there is incapacity to perform the usual amount of labor.

What a great blessing Hood's Sarsaparilla has been to the many toiling thousands whose blood it has made and kept pure and rich! This medicine cleanses the blood of all humors, inherited or acquired, and strengthens and tones the whole system. It is important to be sure that you get Hood's Sarsaparilla when you ask for it. No substitute for it is like it.

Written in Fifteenth Century.

Written in the fifteenth century, a manuscript containing letters and minor works of St. Cyprian, bishop of Carthage, father of the Latin church, who suffered martyrdom in 258, was one of the most interesting objects when the dispersal of the libraries of Charles J. Groves of Boston, Mass., and others was begun.

The Old Octagon Coin.

The most valuable coin authorized in the United States is the double Eagle, worth $20, of course. But there was formerly struck in California what was called an "octagon" because of its shape, and it passed for $50. It was current elsewhere, but never legal tender.

When a Woman May Lie.

A Kansas City court has ruled that "a woman may lie to her husband when the provocation is great enough." From our meager experience, notes the Pennsylvania Grit, it appears as if the dear ones are provoked virtually all the time. And, mercy, how angry they do become when the subject of ages is broached.

GOOD NATURE

Good nature is a combined strength and weakness of mind which enables a man to endure placidly a scolding wife, an aching tooth, a late train, a thievish office holder, a chronic hope and insulting ticket agent, a small boy who has just asked his 1,111th question, an automobile suffering from mulishness and the telephone in all its phases and conditions.

Good nature is the breeding ground of laughter, the guardian of friendship, the lubricant of smooth-running families, the solace of fat men, the anæsthetic of misfortune and the curse of republics. With good nature a man can endure hard work, enjoy a large family, forget an insurgent corn and enjoy the jokes of Moses. Without good nature a man can possess twenty million dollars and get apoplexy because he has been short-changed five cents by a street car conductor. With good nature a man can run four blocks for a train that proves to be two hours late and can enjoy telling the incident for a week. Without good nature, a man will reach a station fifteen minutes early and try to sue the railroad company because he had to wait for the gates to open. Trying to endure the complications of modern life without good nature is like trying to run an automobile without lubricating oil. The result is heat, noise, sorrow and disaster.

Good-natured men are more valuable than statesmen to the world. A good-natured man can go through a mob of ten thousand people and make less trouble about it than an ill-humored man can make all by himself in a church. If it were not for the good-natured men who lose there would be no fun in winning baseball games, billiard tournaments, track meets, golf matches and political bets. If it were not for good-natured men, there would be no amateur theatricals, concerts or art exhibitions, and half the babies in the world would meet violent death while exercising their lungs.

Good nature is a precious boon to humanity, but it is much abused. There is too much of it for one thing. It should be rarer and used with less extravagance. Good nature is responsible for bad street car service, long sermons, thieving politicians, taxicabs that run a mile and a half in the same spot, short-weight coal dealers, trust magnates, pre-Adamite humor on the stage, hobble skirts, waste basket hats, detachable hair and man-eating automobiles. Having learned how to be good natured under all circumstances, mankind must now learn how to forget to be good natured when he is imposed upon. Good-natured men are forever going about on their merry ways, being imposed upon by villains, and meekly enduring it, thus encouraging said villains to continue in crime. One good ill-natured man can reform more ticket agents than a million good-natured travelers, and the man who can't stay mad from the disclosure until the election is a peril to the republic.

LIFE'S A FUNNY PROPOSITION AFTER ALL

Did you ever sit and ponder — sit and wonder—sit and think
Why we're here and what this life is all about?
It's a problem that has driven many brainy men to drink;
It's the weirdest thing they've tried to figure out,
About a thousand different theories the scientists all know.
But never yet have proved a reason why;
With all our thought, and all we're taught, all we seem to know—
We're born and live a while — and then we die.

REFRAIN

Life's a very funny proposition after all;
Imagination, jealousy, hypocrisy and gall,
  Three meals a day,
  A whole lot to say;
  When you haven't got the coin you are always in the way,
Every day we're fighting as we wend our way along,
And every fellow claims the other's in the wrong.
  Hurried and worried,
  Until we're buried,
And there's no curtain call.
Life's a very funny proposition, after all.

II.

When all things are coming easy and when luck is with a man
Then life to him is sunshine ev'rywhere;
When the Fates blow rather breezy and they quite upset a plan,
Then he'll cry Life's a burden, hard to bear.
Though today may be a day of smiles, tomorrow's still in doubt,
What brings me joy may bring you care and woe
We're born to die, but don't know why, nor what't it all about;
The more we try to learn the less we know.

REFRAIN

Life's a very funny proposition you can bet;
And no one's ever solved the problem properly as yet.
  Young for a day,
  Then old and gray,
  Like the rose that buds and blooms and fades and falls away,
Losing health to gain our wealth as through this dream to tour;
Everything a guess, there's nothing absolutely sure.
  Battles exciting,
  And Fates we're fighting
Until the curtain's fall,

Ball vs. Roller Bearings.

Ball bearings are a German invention, and it is only a few years ago that they made their appearance on the market. Roller bearings, both cylindrical and conical, are an American invention. The advantages claimed for the rollers over the balls are that they can sustain both the radial and the axial strain and they are more easily replaced when they become worn.

MAN POWER OF HUNS

Germany's Full Strength Is Now 5,500,000 Men.

3,130,000 Are on Various Fronts, the Remainder Are Guarding Neutral Frontiers.

Paris.—The Echo de Paris, referring to the distribution of enemy forces on the different fronts, says:

"On the Franco-British front there have been for several months past 152 German divisions, of which 54 were opposed by the British and the remainder by the French. Following the recent British offensive at Cambral, this proportion was modified. There are now exactly 154 divisions on the Franco-British front, each comprising about 5,850 bayonets, and including artillery, engineers, etc., or about 12,000 men in all, thus giving about 2,000,000 German combatants on the Franco-British front.

"In view of the uncertainty of what Russian anarchy has in store for them, the Germans have left about a million men on the Russo-Roumania front. As a matter of fact, the movements effected have resulted not in a diminution of the number of fighting units on this front, but in their quality.

"On the Italian front Germany has sent to the assistance of the 45 Austrian divisions only seven divisions, or about 100,000 men.

"On the Balkan front she has sent only 30,000 combatants to re-einforce the Turks and Bulgarians. In Asia Germany has restricted her help to furnishing general staffs.

"Consequently Germany, whose total strength is 5,500,000 men, has on the various fronts 3,130,000 men, the remainder being required for guarding the Swiss and Dutch frontiers and for the occupation of, the invaded territories."

HIRSUTE CONSERVATION LATEST WAR MEASURE

Los Angeles, Cal.—Conservation of whiskers is the latest war-time measure advocated here. If every man and youth would refrain from getting a haircut and shave for a month, mathematicians figure something like $5,000,000 would be saved in labor, time, rent, electricity and gas.

This, however, admittedly would be hard on the barber and the opposition of the ladies to a month's growth of picturesque hirsute adornments on beau and husband is insurmountable.

Buy It Now

If you spend your money now for things you will use soon you benefit yourself. First, you put the money into circulation. Second, you get a better selection now. Third, you help the consumer later to buy more of your own product. Buy now for your own future benefit; buy now for the town's present benefit.

USE COLOGNE BELL FOR GUNS

Great 56,000-Pound Relic of 1870 Dismantled and Sawed into Parts for War Purposes.

The Hague.—The great "kaiser's bell," whose sonorous voice many Americans may have heard above the roars of Cologne, has now been removed from its cage in the southern tower of the grand cathedral to be melted for war uses. It rang its funeral chant on New Year's night.

The bell weighed 56,000 pounds and it was necessary to saw it in pieces to get it down.

French guns captured in 1870 and 1871 were the material from which the bell was made, and it was first sounded on March 21, 1877, the birthday of William I. It took 27 bell ringers to operate it.

Wartime Training.

New York.—To train 500 social workers for wartime emergencies, the mayor's committee of women on national defense began a wartime training course. The course is in co-operation with Columbia university.

A class at High School who have been taking training in Home care of the Sick will this afternoon visit the City Hospital in Louisville to further their interest and knowledge of the work.

Charles E. Jackson of East Court avenue has taken the position at the Reformatory recently vacated by Charles Reeder in the Printing department.

John Crowe writes from New York City where he went about a month ago that he is delighted with the city and his position. He is assistant to the vice president of the American Tobacco Company. He expects to return in the early Spring to take his mother Mrs. Mollie Crowe back with him to locate.

Miss Christine Rinke was hostess last evening at her home on

Ball vs. Roller Bearings.

Ball bearings are a German invention, and it is only a few years ago that they made their appearance on the market. Roller bearings, both cylindrical and conical, are an American invention. The advantages claimed for the rollers over the balls are that they can sustain both the radial and the axial strain and they are more easily replaced when they become worn.

The Capital's Fifth Avenue.

Pennsylvania avenue in Washington is usually listed among the world's famous streets, but to the Washingtonian this avenue has not half the importance and attractiveness of F street, the recognized parade ground of the fashionable on sunny afternoons. F street in Washington is an institution like the monument, the government clerk and band concerts in the parks. It dates back far enough to tax the memory of Washington's few oldest inhabitants, but no records of its origin are filed in the city hall.

Size of a City Lot.

The question is often asked what part of an acre an ordinary city lot is. One 66x165 feet contains just a quarter-acre and contains 10,890 square feet. Ten acres, if square, would measure 660 feet along each side and a strip of that length and one-tenth the length, or 66 feet, would make an acre, and if but one-fourth as long or 165 feet would make a quarter acre. This is a good-sized city lot.

A Hint To The Aged

If people past sixty years of age could be persuaded to go to bed as soon as they take cold and remain in bed for one or two days, they would recover much more quickly, especially if they take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. There would also be less danger of the cold being followed by any of the more serious diseases.

By Harold Crawford Stearns of The Vigilantes.

If you should hear earth moan, and fail to heed;
If you should turn your back on writhing pain;
If you should close your eyes when nations bleed,

Although you yield your body, clean and whole,
You shall receive a dim reward from fate—
You must present your soul!

Germany's Full Strength Is Now 5,500,000 Men.

3,130,000 Are on Various Fronts, the Remainder Are Guarding Neutral Frontiers.

Paris.—The Echo de Paris, referring to the distribution of enemy forces on the different fronts, says:

"On the Franco-British front there have been for several months past 152 German divisions, of which 54 were opposed by the British and the remainder by the French. Following the recent British offensive at Cambrai, this proportion was modified. There are now exactly 154 divisions on the Franco-British front, each comprising about 5,850 bayonets, and including artillery, engineers, etc., or about 12,000 men in all, thus giving about 2,000,000 German combatants on the Franco-British front.

"In view of the uncertainty of what Russian anarchy has in store for them, the Germans have left about a million men on the Russo-Roumania front. As a matter of fact, the movements effected have resulted not in a diminution of the number of fighting units on this front, but in their quality.

"On the Italian front Germany has sent to the assistance of the 45 Austrian divisions only seven divisions, or about 100,000 men.

"On the Balkan front she has sent only 30,000 combatants to re-einforce the Turks and Bulgarians. In Asia Germany has restricted her help to furnishing general staffs.

"Consequently Germany, whose total strength is 5,500,000 men, has on the various fronts 3,130,000 men, the remainder being required for guarding the Swiss and Dutch frontiers and for the occupation of, the invaded territories."

HIRSUTE CONSERVATION LATEST WAR MEASURE

Los Angeles, Cal.—Conservation of whiskers is the latest war-time measure advocated here. If every man and youth would refrain from getting a haircut and shave for a month, mathematicians figure something like $5,000,000 would be saved in labor, time, rent, electricity and gas.

This, however, admittedly would be hard on the barber and the opposition of the ladies to a month's growth of picturesque hirsute adornments on beau and husband is insurmountable.

USE COLOGNE BELL FOR GUNS

Great 56,000-Pound Relic of 1870 Dismantled and Sawed into Parts for War Purposes.

The Hague.—The great "kaiser's bell," whose sonorous voice many Americans may have heard above the roars of Cologne, has now been removed from its cage in the southern tower of the grand cathedral to be melted for war uses. It rang its funeral chant on New Year's night.

The bell weighed 56,000 pounds and it was necessary to saw it in pieces to get it down.

French guns captured in 1870 and 1871 were the material from which the bell was made, and it was first sounded on March 21, 1877, the birthday of William I. It took 27 bell ringers to operate it.

New Electric Furnaces.

The success of electric heat in japan and varnish oven work has led to considerable investigation along the line of what might be termed low temperature heating; that is, heating with temperatures up to 600 degrees Fahrenheit. The results of these investigations have brought out numerous other applications, among which are electric core baking ovens, electric bread baking ovens, ovens for making cereals, drying woolen articles and equipment for sherardizing.

THE MANAGEMENT

Genuine Home Thirft means managing the home so well that none of the Father-energy it takes to earn money, or none of the Mother-energy it takes to spend it, is wasted by foolish purchases, extravagant housekeeping or niggardly economy.

In order to achieve these ends the housekeeper must learn how to take care of her savings, even the smallest ones, by business mehods, how to balance her household budget, how to pay her bills by checks, and how to manage her bank account to the best advantage.

THOS. L. STONER FOR AUDITOR

Efficient Deputy Seeks To Graduate To Higher Position

Basing his claim chiefly on the fine record of efficiency which he has made as deputy auditor, with additional hopes of success resting on the wide circle of friends he has made while serving in the subordinate position, Thomas L. Stoner, encouraged by many promises of support, has decided to seek the Democratic nomination for County Auditor in May. His oafficial announcement appeared several days ago in another column of tahis paper and Mr. Stoner's friends are confident that his name will appear after the May primary as that of the Democratic standard bearer for this office.

Mr. Stoner, who is a cousin of the present auditor, has served as chief deputy throughout the time that George W. Stoner has held the office. He is a member of a well established Democratic family, a native of Oregon township and established in Jeffersonville with his family since helding the office in which he has proved himself efficient. Oregon township has given several high grade men to the service of the public but while one of the banner Democratic townships of the county it has not for a considerable time been honored by the selection of a candidate.

Various lodge affiliations have extended the acquaintance of Mr. Stoner and increased the number of his loyal supporters, no doubt, but he prefers to rest his claims to support him upon the belief that he has made good in his present position, that he has acquired a practical knowledge of the affairs of the county which will be valuable to the taxpayers if he is entructed with the office to which he aspires, and that his experience in the office as well as his qualifications as a bookkeeper render him well fitted for the post. Mr. Stoner has been an obliging and courteous assistant in the office and is deserving of support from the democracy which will do well to consider his claims.

No Office Cat.

A tradition of the office cat around a newspaper survives from earlier times, but it is only a tradition, for there is no such animal, notes an exchange. Probably he, or she, was once endured because of his supposed efficiency as a hunter of rats and mice, but no modern office is infested with rodents, and therefore it is not necessary that it should tolerate a cat.

TWO SESSION PLAN TO BE RESUMED

Schools Return To Normal Tuesday; Second Term Opened Monday

SEVEN FINISH WORK

Twenty-Three Enter High School; Course Of Study Outlined

The schools of Jeffersonville return Tuesday to the normal two session system, to the relief of the children, their parents and the teachers. The moderated weather, the improved street conditions and the easier fuel situation have united to make the resumption of the regular order possible and desirable, as the previous change under existing conditions was necessary.

Emmett Taylor, superintendent said Monday that he greatly appreciated the loyal and accommodating manner in which the patrons of the schools had co-operated through this period of stress.

The second term of the school year oapened Monday with promotions in all grades. Children who will be six years old not later than April 1 may enter immediately. It is the desire of the management to increase the number entering at the midyear in oarder that the two sections of the classes may be better balanced than they are. Twenty-three from the departmental school were promoted to high school and seven completed their work at the latter. Several other members of this section of the class of '18 are remaining to finish up work in one or two subjects.

Those who finished their work at High School are:

Pearl Bere
Elizabeth Chambers
Henry Covert
Robert Creamer
Erma Lawrence
Helen Mayfield
Selma Young

Course Of Study, Jeffersonville High School

Thirty-two credits are required for graduation. A credit is given for satisfactory completion of a term's work in any regular subject, reciting five periods per week. The following credits are required of all pupils:

English, 6 credits; Foreign Longuage, 4 credits; Mathematics 5 credits; History, 6 credits.

The remaining nine credits may be selected from the following:

English, 2 credits; Foreign Language, 4 credits; Mathematics 2 credits; Natural Science, 2 credits; Commerial Geography, 1 credit; Bookkeeping, 2 credits; Manual Training, 2 credits; Domestic Science, 2 credits; Domestic Art, 2 credits.

Every pupil is required to carry four regular subjects, reciting five times a week.

Permission to carry an extra subject may be granted by the faculty committee on extra work providing the reason for such work and the previous record of the pupil is satisfactory to the committee. All work for credit must be taken in school. No credit will be given for work done out of school. A general average of 75 per cent for the term's work must be made in order to receive credit in the subject.

Any pupil failing to make a passing grade in more than two subjects, unless such failure is due tao prolonged absence on account of sickness, shall be suspended and shall not be permitted to return to school until the parent or guardian has guaranteed that the pupil will give more attention to his work in the future.

Failure tao make credit is usually due to careless habits of attendance, lack of home study and too much diversion outside of school.

REGISTRATION EXTENDED TO WEDNESDAY

Twenty-Two Germans Listed By Capt. James N. Masters As Aliens

MANY OLD CITIZENS

Some Have Held Office; Others Haave Sons Serving In Army

Twenty-two "alien enemies" have been registered by Capt. James N. Masters, chief of police at the police station and several more are still to be listed. The time limit has been extended to Wednesday.

With only one or two exceptions these had taken out their first papers and exercised the rights of citizenship: Most of them have reared families, tahe members of whom are all American citibzens. The majority have resided here from twenty to fifty years and some of them have held office and witah rare exceptions each had regarded himself as an American citizen. None of the number however applied for his final papers even after the European war broke out but two or three of the number died so after the United States had declared war on Germany. Several of them have sons in the s ervice of the United States or subject to draft.

Postmaster Eckert, of Utica, called upon Capt. Masters Sunday telling him that there were three Germans there who had taken out their first papers and asserted that they were not required to register. Capt. Masters showed him that the instructions included these among he number who must be registered. The following is the list of those registered at the police station up to this time:

Paul Ringe, 211 West Maple street; William Rauth, 301 Indiana avenue father of ex-Mayor Ernest Rauth and a resident of this country since the age of six years; Conrad Leber, 1009 West Market street; John Leopold Glaser, 724 East Seventh street, wtho came here fifty years ago and has served on the city Council; Thomas Bittner, 423 East Court avenue, who has two sons in the service; August Happel 321 West Maple street, an ex-councilman; Charles Bliss 311 Illinois avenue; Joseph Molck, 727 Meigs avenue, kinsman of the florist of the same name who was a native of Alsaco-Lorraine fought on the French side in the Franco-Prussian war; Jacob Sedler, 625 Kentucky avenue; Peter Miller 730 East Chestnut street; Chester Haas, 422 Wall street; Martin Diepenkoven, 620 Third street; Alford Schaper, 321 West Maple street; Joseph Bernhart, R. F. D. 2, Jeffersonville kinsman of Charles Bernhart of this city who fought with credit and was wounded in the Spanish-American war; Christian F. Schneider, 334 Meigs avenue; John Miller, 416 Wall street who served as justice of the peace and his son as a councilman; George Dold, 801 Ohio avenue; eLonhard Geilert, 1314 Duncan avenue; Coalestine Kasper, 429 Spring street; Christian Weisendanger, 515 East Chestnut street; Joseph Goodman, 420 Spring street, broher-in-law of Kasper; Conrad Abel, 426 Spring street. Abel had a paper in German in which he said was set forth his renunciation of German citizenship in the German province to which he at that time owed allegiance.

WHITTAKER RESIGNS AT OCCOQUAN

Leaves District Of Columbia Institutions To Establish Hotel

THERE EIGHT YEARS

Workhouse And Reformatory Both Under His Management

Washington, Feb. 11—Will H. Whittaker, formerly superintendent of the Indiana Reformatiry at Jeffersonville and for many years active in Indiana Republican political circles has announced his resignation as superintendent of the District of Columbia Workhouse at Occoquan, Va., and Reformatory at Lorton, Va.

He resigns tao enter the hotel business at Accotink, Va., where a hotael will be erected by himself and others to provide accommodationsf or friends and relatives of soldiers statioied at Camp Belvoir and Camp Humphries.

Whittaker recently was attacked by suffragists who were dissatisfied with prison conditions while they were serving sentences there, but was officially exonerated.) When he first went to Occoquan about eight years ago it was a barren waste of more than 1,100 acres. With practically nothing but prison labor he has succeeded in erecting and maintaining one of the finest institutions of its kind in the country. The present valuation of the property approximates a million dollars.

PROBLEM OF SEED CORN DIFFICULT

County Agent Says Condition Worse Than Was Anticipated

RESULTS OF TESTS

Farmers Of Utica Township Plan Their Deferred Institute

"The seed corn citation is even worse than we feared" said H. A. Stevens, county agricultural agent for Clark county, who has had charge of the seed and labor survey for this county, Floyd, Scott and Jefferson. "There is, I am sure, enough seed corn to go around" continued Mr. Stevens, "if we could get hold of it all but many farmers seem setrangely indifferent and are feeding their corn discriminately to the hogs even though they could obtain a better price for it as seed."

Mr. Stevens told of one man who had several hundreds bushels of seed corn but he doubted whether more than half would be very good. Carr Lentz, of Utica township, who has made a specialty of testing seed corn, has tested that of several neighboring farmers, all rated as highly efficient, and the best tested fifty-five per cent and the worst only ten per cent. This was good corn but had been killed by the frost.

There is still a great deal of corn in the shock and some of it is in low ground where the overflowing s teams are likely to damage it further. Lack of labor prevented much of this oorn being housed last fell. Ivan Jacobs has a 400-egg incubator at work testing corn working on over eight hundred ears at one time. The method is said to be very successful for this purpose.

There is said by Mr. Stevens to be practically no 1916 corn available. He reports thate farmers appear to be responding in gratifying manner to the seed survey, reports upon which are not yet being received in any numbers.

About Constipation

Certain articles of diet tend to check movements of the bowels. The most common of thee are cheese, tea, and boiltd mik. On the other hand raw fruits, especially apples and bananas, also graham bread and whole wheat bread promote a movement of the bowels. When the bowels are badly constipated, however, the sure way is to take one or two of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper.

A Good Wife.

Once upon a time there was a farmer whose wife daily pumped the household supply of water up to a tank on the roof, says The Little Journal. After 20 years he installed an electric motor to do this for her. Careful calculation brought out the fact that the wife had been working that pump handle 3,650 hours at a value of half a cent per hour. She had saved him $18.75 in 20 years. ### HAIR.

Hair is a material used by the Great Architect to thatch the human dome of thought. It comes late and leaves early, like a fashionable guest, and does no work while it remains. Nevertheless, it is greatly beloved, and there is no sadder sight than that of a man of fifty bidding goodbye to his hair.

Women wear their hair as long as possible, and do it up in a great variety of rolls, coils, loops, braids, puffs, waves, waterfalls, explosions, cascades, turrets, colonnades, wings, apses, and flying buttresses. Men also wear their hair as long as possible, which accounts for the great prosperity of hair tonic manufacturers.

Hair comes in a great many colors, including black, brown, yellow, grey, auburn, Titian, blonde and bronze. Some very frank people also have red hair. Red hair is noted because of the prominence with which it stands out on the landscape, and the inflammability which it is supposed to impart to the disposition. Red-haired men are usually good fighters, but this is because they had plenty of practice in their youth.

Hair is affixed to the scalp in a careless and ineffectual manner, particularly in the case of man, and after adhering to its owner for a few decades, it usually begins to lose its grip. This causes baldness, which is sadly alluded to as a sign of wisdom by a great many men, whose foreheads sweep majestically back to their collars. As a rule, the hair retreats in an orderly and dignified manner, but occasionally it plays a dastardly trick by retiring from the sides, leaving a small and lonesome oasis of hair in the middle of a vast and shining desert.

Hair is reduced to order by means of a brush and a comb, by means of which a neat furrow, called a "part", can be made. Formerly the hair was parted in the middle, like the Republican party, but men whose heads are heavy enough to retain their balance under the strain, now wear the part on one side. Hair is harvested once a month by a barber, who will also wash, singe, massage, oil, grease and electrify it unless the owner watches him carefully. In its old age, hair becomes white and beautiful.

Ball vs. Roller Bearings.

Ball bearings are a German invention, and it is only a few years ago that they made their appearance on the market. Roller bearings, both cylindrical and conical, are an American invention. The advantages claimed for the rollers over the balls are that they can sustain both the radial and the axial strain and they are more easily replaced when they become worn.

Size of a City Lot.

The question is often asked what part of an acre an ordinary city lot is. One [illegible] feet contains just a quarter-acre and contains 10,800 square feet. The acre, if square, would measure 660 feet along each side and a strip of that length and one-tenth the length, or 66 feet, would make an acre, and if but one-fourth as long or 165 feet would make a quarter acre. This is a good-sized city lot.

A Hint To The Aged

If people past sixty years of age could be persuaded to go to bed as soon as they take cold and remain in bed for one or two days, they would recover much more quickly, especially if they take Chamberlain's Cough emedy. There would also be less danger of the cold being followed by any of the more serious diseases.

THE SACRIFICE

By Harold Crawford Stearns of The Vigilantes.

If you should hear earth moan, and fail to heed;
If you should turn your back on writhing pain;
If you should close your eyes when nations bleed,

Although you yield your body, clean and whole,
You shall receive a dim reward from fate—
You must present your soul!

MAN POWER OF HUNS

Germany's Full Strength Is Now 5,500,000 Men.

3,130,000 Are on Various Fronts, the Remainder Are Guarding Neutral Frontiers.

Paris.—The Echo de Paris, referring to the distribution of enemy forces on the different fronts, says:

"On the Franco-British front there have been for several months past 152 German divisions, of which 54 were opposed by the British and the remainder by the French. Following the recent British offensive at Cambrai, this proportion was modified. There are now exactly 154 divisions on the Franco-British front, each comprising about 5,850 bayonets, and including artillery, engineers, etc., or about 12,000 men in all, thus giving about 2,000,000 German combatants on the Franco-British front.

"In view of the uncertainty of what Russian anarchy has in store for them, the Germans have left about a million men on the Russo-Roumania front. As a matter of fact, the movements effected have resulted not in a diminution of the number of fighting units on this front, but in their quality.

"On the Italian front Germany has sent to the assistance of the 45 Austrian divisions only seven divisions, or about 100,000 men.

"On the Balkan front she has sent only 30,000 combatants to re-einforce the Turks and Bulgarians. In Asia Germany has restricted her help to furnishing general staffs.

"Consequently Germany, whose total strength is 5,500,000 men, has on the various fronts 3,130,000 men, the remainder being required for guarding the Swiss and Dutch frontiers and for the occupation of, the invaded territories."

HIRSUTE CONSERVATION LATEST WAR MEASURE

Los Angeles, Cal.—Conservation of whiskers is the latest war-time measure advocated here. If every man and youth would refrain from getting a haircut and shave for a month, mathematicians figure something like $5,000,000 would be saved in labor, time, rent, electricity and gas.

This, however, admittedly would be hard on the barber and the opposition of the ladies to a month's growth of picturesque hirsute adornments on beau and husband is insurmountable.

USE COLOGNE BELL FOR GUNS

Great 56,000-Pound Relic of 1870 Dismantled and Sawed into Parts for War Purposes.

The Hague.—The great "kaiser's bell," whose sonorous voice many Americans may have heard above the roars of Cologne, has now been removed from its cage in the southern tower of the grand cathedral to be melted for war uses. It rang its funeral chant on New Year's night.

The bell weighed 56,000 pounds and it was necessary to saw it in pieces to get it down.

French guns captured in 1870 and 1871 were the material from which the bell was made, and it was first sounded on March 21, 1877, the birthday of William I. It took 27 bell ringers to operate it.

Senseless and Extravagant Lust for War Plunges World Into Sea of Blood and Tears—Soldiers Urged to Join Entente and Wrest Land From Claws of Destroyer.

> This article was written by a German to be read by Germans. A copy has just been received in this country and has been translated for the use of the press.

By SIEGFRIED BALDER.

Comrades in war!

Three years have passed since the German emperor plunged the world and his people into this most groundless, senseless and impious of all wars, into a sea of blood and tears.

Trained from childhood to be a soldier, brought up amid the perverted views of the junker and officer caste, dreaming of the laurels of the conqueror as the highest ideal, counseled by generals, befriended by war contractors, and even with a financial interest in their profiteering, he has since 1905 systematically paved the way for the war. He desired this war, he permitted the systematic cult of war in Germany by the Pan-Germanists, and he has encouraged it. He supported and fomented the almost daily quarrels of the other powers through the Pan-German press by his inflammatory speeches. Last of all he affixed his signature to the various declarations of war; he is fully and entirely responsible for them.

For nine years the diplomacy of our neighbors, consistently anxious for peace, succeeded in averting this disaster from the world. This was the policy which was falsely presented to your ignorance as the "isolation policy," in reality, a peace policy in which Germany was always most heartily invited to participate. Germany was not isolated, but the German government, and in its wake the Austrian government, deliberately and maliciously withdrew from the circle of civilized nations, as criminals from human social circles.

But not only the diplomatic circles of foreign states, but also German men of insight and lofty ideals have placed themselves firmly in opposition to the emperor's senseless and extravagant lust for war, in spite of his wrath, and have sacrificed their positions rather than their convictions. This was true

DUCHESS OF ABERCORN

England's titled men and women are in this war to win, and are actuated by the same motives and feelings as the humblest Tommy. The noblemen of England have as a whole gone into the army or navy and have proved their courage and sacrifice as evidenced in the day's citations and casualty lists. The women are also doing their bit. Few of England's prominent women are not enrolled and actively working in the various service leagues assisting the government. The Duchess of Abercorn has two daughters in war service. One is working in a munition factory and the other is in the Red Cross service.

DARING ICE YACHTER FLIRTS WITH DEATH

Copyright, Underwood & Underwood

Flirting with death is nothing new to the pretty miss who skippers this speedy ice boat. She considers spinning over the ice at the speed of a racing automobile sport and it probably is if one has nerves steady enough to stand it, for it requires nerves of steel and the utmost skill to steer this boat over the ice-covered rivers. There is always the risk of running amuck in a fog that may come up from the ocean at any minute, of shooting into another equally speedy ice yacht or of dropping into icy water if one is unfortunate enough to strike a patch of open river.

Serene in her faith in an ever-present good fortune, this miss is smiling happily as she starts her yacht for a spin along the Shrewsbury, inside the Jersey capes.

LENT, 1918

Unusual Opportunoty Offers For Observance Of Fast This Year

The following are the first and last paragraphs of a thoughtful article on "Lent" which appeared in Saturday's Indianapolis News under the department of "Case and Comment":

Next Wednesday is Ash Wednesday, or the first day of Lent. This great Christian season ought this year to have a meaning for the American people that it never had before. By a proper observance of it we can enormously help the food administrator, and strengthen the nation for the performance of the terrible task to which it is committed. In the past years there has been a certain selfishness in the observance of Lent, and it has often been shown by those who were inspired by the best motives. Many have been taught to believe that self-sacrifice for its own sake, and as an end in itself, was a good thing. That is true, within limits. A valuable discipline results from a voluntary submission to hardness. Others have been inspired by a desire—wholly laudable—to develop character. But they have not perhaps given sufficient thought to the use to be made of the character developed. Attempts to form character for its own sake may easily issue in selfishness of the worst sort, and minister to spiritual pride. Men mistake the nature of character, and even go so far as to think that it is something to be displayed to the world. That was the feeling of the Pharisees, who kept the law to the letter, observed all the feasts and fasts, and thanked God that they were not as others. The peril is one to which Christian people are peculiarly exposed. For there is always danger that their religion may become conventional, and that in their anxiety to save their own souls they may starve their souls to such an extent as to make them not worth saving. It was against this that Christ warned his disciples when He said: "When ye fast be not as the hypocrites, of a sad countenance; for they disfigure their faces, that they may appear unto men to fast. Verily, I say unto you, they have their reward." Lenten observance, therefore, ought not to be an exhibition, but a discipline, and one having a definite end in view. And the end should not be personal, but in the highest degree social.

It is the high duty of the American people to gather up the fragments that nothing be lost. One wheatless day may save the lives of many children in Europe. We can do nothing in the way of observing Lent that will not help greatly to the redemption of humanity and the emancipation of the souls and bodies of men, women and children now held in slavery by the German military power. The sacrifice is not for the sake [illegible] or for the sake of sac- [illegible] for the sake of [illegible] and

BIG CHANGE OBSERVED IN CONDITIONS

Trustees Of Reformatory Arrive To Hold Monthly Meeting

ACTING ON PAROLES

Kitchen And Dining Room Nearly Ready For Occupancy

The members of the Board of Trustees of the Indiana Reformatory, excepting D. J. Terhune who is in California, met Monday at the institution in regular monthly session. Most of the day was spent in hearing the cases of those eligible for parole and a considerable number will likely be given theid conditional release.

The Board will inspect the work already done towards restoration of the institution and will plan for the future. Later in the week plans will be laid before Governor Goodrich at a meeting to be held at Indianapolis following which a decision is probable on what is to be done.

Upon their inspection af the place the trustees found a great change for much of the rubbish has been cleared up and much rapid progress has been made with the temporary kitchen and dining room near the new school building at the northern side of the institution grounds that they will be ready for occupancy about Wednesday it is thought. Government depot trucks were hauling material there Sunday and a strong force of carpenters from that place is assisting in the work of construetion in which the institution inmates are also emplayed. The lower floor of he administration building is also being cleared up so that there may be a place to use for the direction of the work of the institution.

New inmates have begun to arrive, one for burglary from Rush county on Saturday, three from Putnam county Sunday for escaping the state penal farm and a fifth reported Monday from Monroe county, Thomas Larkin for forgery.

TOWNSHIP COUNCILS DEFENSE

Are Now Planned; Organizing State Down To The Grass Roots

COMMUNITY COUNCILS

School Districts Favored As Units; Wish To Reach All People

Indianapolis, Feb. 12— Determined to "organize to the grass-roots" the Indiana State Council of Defense, in General Bulletin number 118, calls upon County Councils of Defense to organize township councils of defense and similar organizations in school districts to be known as community councils of defense. In many instances, such action already has been taken voluntarily and where interest has lagged, the county councils will bea expected to apply such intensive metahods as have made county organizations in Indiana 100 per cent complete and effective. The State council will co-operate with county councils in completing these additional defense units. The General Bulletin calling for the extension of the state-wide organization, says:

"The first nine months of the war have shown the vital importance of developing an official nation-wide oarganization reaching into the smallest communities to mobilize and make available the efforts of the war workers for the prosecution of the war. In recruiting for the army and in enlisting labor for war industries, in decreasing the waste of food, in solicitaing subscriptions to the Liberty Loan, Red Cross, and in much other work the end must be accomplished by the people at large. The creation of County Councils of Defense has brought the State Councils of Defense closer to he people and the valuablea service which the County Councils have rendered indicates the importance of even closer contact, through subsidiary agencies in such small units that personal contact with all the citizens is possible.

"In several countie Township Councils of Defense are already in existence. These are modeled after the County Councils of Defense, are communicated with and directed by the County Councils of Defense through bulletins similar to the bulletins used by the State Council of Defense and each appoints a representative whose duty it is to attend the meetings of the County Councils of Defense at least once a month in order that the work of each Township Council of Defense will be perfectly co-ordinated with that of the County Council. To those County Councils of Defense which have not yet organized Township Councils of Defense we earnestly urge their creation immediately and in addition we recommend and request that, where it is found practicable each County Council of Defense, through its several Township Councils of Defense, when these are organized, create a Community Council of Defense in each sihool district. These Community Councils should be entirely under the supervision of the Township Councils.

"The advantages of the school district as a unit of Community Organization are clear. The school district is small enough to [illegible] individual contact and is non-political. The schoolhouse supplies a meeting place in each district. The school district reaches children and parents alike and in the communities the school is to a large extent already in touch with the alien population and is an established center of information and education. Also the schoolhouse is alerady the center of the social community, especially in farm districts.

"It is realized that in those counties where the school districts are consolidated it will perhaps not be practicable to organize school district Community Councils and in such cases the Township Councils of Defense will probably be sufficient."

WILLIAM SMITH DIES AT CHICAGO

Former Resident Of Jeffersonville Conducted Grocery There

Word reached Jeffersonville Monday night of the death that morning of William W. Smith, formerly of this city, the telegram stating that he had died that morning but giving no other particulars. Friends had heard from him about the first of the year and it is supposed that he was sick but a short time.

Mr. Smith was about fifty years old, a native of Salem, Ind., and resident for most of his life in Jeffersonville. He traveled for years for the Dow Wire and Iron Works of Louisville, and boarded with Mrs. Susan Crooker at 316 East Maple street. He was an active member of Wall street M. E. church during that time and was a member also of Bain Commandery, United Order of the Golden Cross. Mr. Smith was a bachelor and is survived by his mother and two sisters, in California and by a brother, George E. Smith, of Chicago. Dr. C. F. C. Hancock of this city, and Dr. J. M. Reynolds of Memphis, are cousins. Mr. Smith located in Chicago about eight or ten years ago and conducted a grocery on Addison street, on the north side. At one time he was employed in the grocery business here with his uncle, Charles Smith, on Spring street. He was a man held in high regard by all who knew him.

PICTURE OF HAPPINESS IN FRANCE

Edgar Hughes Writes In Hilarious Mood; Just The Life, He Says

SAYS NOT TO WORRY

Learning To "Parlez-Vous Francais"; Will Stay Until Job's Done

The News is permitted the pleasure of quoting from a letter received Saturday by Miss Josephine Hughes, 204 West Front street, from her brother Edgar Hughes who is "Somewhere in France" in the aviation service. The letter is an intimate "home" letter and for that reason gives a better picture of the condition of mind of our boys "over there". It will be observed that Mr. Hughes is far enough from being down-hearted. He writes:

"Dear Sis: Received the two of your letters today and sure was glad to hear from you. Tell Mother to banish all her worries for I'm all O. K. As to the Christmas dinner, I lost the menu sheet but it ran a close second to the Thanksgiving feed we had in the states. I am acclimated and feeling fine and getting "parlez-vous Francais" very well. Am expecting Gene over here most any time and will sure be glad to see him and Graham. Am with al my old bunkies and its almost like home.

"I know very well that you would be here if you were a boy and mighty well you'd like it too. I sure will have lots to tell about when we gather around the fire. I'm the noisiest yob in the joint for what's the use of being bue? I won't come back till this squabble's over and I'll be blamed sore if they send me back for you know me Sis. I'm in for anything along my line and this is just to my taste.

"Well, give my love to all. Tell all to write because I can't write much and instead of me writing I'll tell you some real good stories when I come home, in return for your letters."

Gene and Graham referred to in the letter are Eugene Field and Graham Dugan. The former, at least, is probably over there by now. Both were in the aviation training station at Jensacola with Edgar Hughes.

MARSHALS AID FOR ENLISTED MAN'S FAMILY

Red Cross Home Service Stands by Relatives of Uncle Sam's Soldiers and Sailors.

[EDITOR'S NOTE:—This is the second of a series of five articles prepared by Mr. Fieser on the subject of Red Cross Home Service. The three remaining articles are: "Financial Aid in Home Service," "What Has Been Taught Home Service Workers" and "Organizing and Training 30,000 Home Service Committeemen."]

BY JAMES L. FIESER.
Director, Civilian Relief, Lake Division, American Red Cross.

Five million American women today are engaged in production of Red Cross hospital supplies, knitted articles and surgical dressings. And these women toil without slightest inkling of the identities of the men who will be comforted by their patriotic endeavors.

So it remains for the army of 30,000 Red Cross civilian relief, or Home Service, workers to bring the personal contact into the Red Cross work by holding out, in a quiet and unpatronizing manner, a helping hand to relatives of men in the service and, later, to the men themselves on their return from the battlefronts.

It remains for this army of 30,000 (which is backed by more than 3,000 chapters with a membership above 22,000,000) to marshal a reserve of medical, legal, educational, social and financial forces to assist in this "helping-hand business," in a manner honorable to the American Red Cross and worthy of those helped.

First of all, Red Cross Home Service centers about home solidarity: getting lonely women back to live with their own people, watching over the interests of an expectant mother, reuniting scattered families and writing to men in the service about the situation in their homes.

Recently a young Italian in one of the cantonments within the Lake division was worried to a point where he was of little use to his government, because he got no letters from his wife. He appealed to the Red Cross. A Home Service committee member investigated (they never embarrass the family by sending the whole committee) and found that he got no letters because his wife could not write. Arrangements were made for a letter to be written for the wife once a week. Simple service, but with wonderful results upon the soldier's state of mind. And, perhaps best of all, the young wife now is learning to read and write.

The Child Angle.

Then there is the children's side of it—there are men in the service who are fathers despite the fact that the public generally does not think that there are many fathers in the ranks.

Home Service workers are explaining lessons to children who fall behind in their classes. They see that children in need of medical care get that care. They are seeking to give kindly advice to the child just beginning to be wayward or disobedient.

Coming to the economic side of the service, Red Cross service workers are:

Fitting people to the right job and helping them stay fitted by trying to find out where the job pinches; seeing that insurance policies do not lapse; encouraging people, who have more ready money than usual (some do have), to spend it with good sense; protecting the recipient of pay allowance checks from the wiles of unscrupulous installment men and sales agents; getting the best legal and business advice in the perplexing problems sure to rise in war times.

And finally helping the crippled soldier or sailor. This work is still in the future, and, while not the most pleasant thing in the world to anticipate, provisions for it must be and is being made. This the Red Cross Home Service workers are planning to do by:

Encouraging employers to give suitable work to cripples that they may find permanent opportunity for entire or partial self support and chance for advancement; maintaining an information service regarding opportunities for such employment, or working with state and municipal employment instruments provided for this purpose; giving personal attention to the troubles and hopes of those who do not find satisfactory work and to others whose courage must not be allowed to fail; securing vocational training for those unfitted for the kind of work there is available; creating a public opinion which will encourage self support from all crippled soldiers and sailors to the degree that it is possible for them to work.

All this is, in brief, American Red Cross Home Service as it now operates and is planned. The program has been built up from the experiences of our allies. Without doubt, like all Red Cross work, the program will grow as the war grows older. One thing, however, is certain—

NOTHING LESS THAN THE PROGRAM AS OUTLINED ABOVE WILL MEASURE UP TO THE IDEALS OF AMERICA AND OF THE AMERICAN RED CROSS.

NO-TOBACCO DAYS IN PARIS

Shops Open Half Hour Each Week When Police Guard Smokers' Lines.

Paris.—French tobacco and cigarettes are now obtainable in Paris only once each week and even then during the space of but about thirty minutes. During that half hour the tobacconists' shops present about the same appearance as did the coal and wood yards during the fuel famine last winter. It takes from three to a half-dozen policemen for each shop to keep waiting smokers orderly while the weekly supply is being dealt out, and to pacify those that are still in line when the "no more tobacco" sign is hung out.

TELLS GHASTLY TALE

Inhuman Germans Described by Holy City Refugees.

Great Suffering Among Population of Jerusalem After Germans Took Control.

Denver, Colo.—Stories of the frightful experiences suffered by residents of Jerusalem previous to the capture of the Holy City by British forces under General Allenby were told here by Miss Celia Moinestea, who, with her mother, fled from the torture inflicted by Turkish soldiers and German officers there several months ago.

Miss Moinestea and her mother were among 300 refugees who escaped from Jerusalem while thousands were starving within the gates of the ancient city.

"There was agonizing suffering among the civil population of Jerusalem after the Germans took control of that city," said the youthful refugee. "Hundreds died of starvation when food, imported for the inhabitants of the stricken city, was seized by military authorities and diverted to the soldiers. Our friends fell dead about us like fleas. Scores of young girls sold their souls to the German soldiers in return for food."

It took five months for Miss Moinestea and her mother to reach Denver after leaving Jerusalem.

"We witnessed the most heart-rending scenes while traveling through Austria," the girl declared, "where roads were filled with cripples and food was so scarce that the peasants refused to sell even small portions at fabulous prices offered by the travelers."

After such splendid results with "Seventy-seven" send for a free copy of Dr. Humphreys' Manual of all diseases and dip into its wealth of information on domestic practice, describing in simple language the maladies proper for a laymen to treat. ## MOVING PICTURES.

One day Edison caught sight of the camera which had hitherto had an easy time, but from that moment it was doomed. Edison harnessed it up with a set of gears and a revolving shutter and set it to work photographing speed, history, romance, humor and travel.

As soon as this was done moving pictures became enormously popular. The moving picture theatre immediately leaped into being and began to compete with the street car and the cigar store for the nickels of the populace. In consequence the limited supply of five-cent pieces became so overworked that a nickel which doesn't register at three tills each day is loafing on its job.

Moving pictures are making us acquainted with the world and familiar with the great men of all times. The scenery of Java, Sahara and Siberia are chestnuts to us, though we may never have traveled 100 miles on a railroad train. For five cents we can see King Solomon quarrel with fifty wives, in colors. We have seen so many battleships launched, kings crowned and buried, tigers shot, highwaymen treed, pugilists demolished and mountain peaks scaled, that most of us are extremely blase and the trees on the streets would have to walk off arm in arm to get more than a yawn out of us. This the trees will never actually do, but they are likely to do anything on a moving picture film, which is a great assistance to Nature, sometimes.

In moving pictures we may also see ferocious Indians chasing the brave hero down a macadam road and barbecuing him against a trolley pole; likewise we may discover the temperamental cowboys capturing a horse-stealing Mexican and lynching him in the wilderness around the corner from a hat factory in New Jersey. This teaches us not to believe all the moving pictures tell us. It is, in fact, one of the most accomplished of liars. It is possible in a moving picture factory to make a magnificent and awe-inspiring volcano out of a pile of sand, a roman candle and a barrel of soapsuds.

More people are watching moving pictures today than are watching chorus girls, which is a sign that the world is getting better. The picture melodrama is not a brain strengthener but it is an improvement over the old "ten, twent', thirt'," variety because the audience cannot hear the remarks of the characters. Moving pictures have been taken of practically everything in the world, including the pyramids and Washington's monument, but no one has taken a moving picture of a baggageman accommodating a crowd of hurried passengers. A standing or even sitting picture can handle this subject perfectly.

Has Meeting With Mrs. O. P. Graham And Learns How To Conserve Food

The Current Events Club held a very interesting and instructive meeting Monday afternoon with Mrs. O. P. Graham at her home on East Maple street, when they had their second programme on Conservation of Food. Each member answered to roll call with an article or recipe bearing on the subject. After a short business session Miss Esther Price County Demonstrator gove a demonstration of War Biscuits using as ingredients Graham Flour, Corn Meal and Oat Meal. Also Lima Bean Loaf with tomato dressing and kidney bean stew. These were substitutes for meat. Each member had a sample and enjoyed them so much that they licked their platters clean. The meat substitues were fine as was also the war biscuits. The attendance was good and every member present was delighted witah the meeting.

THIRTY-FOOT HEAD OF WATER

Great Volume Piling Up Behind Giant Gorge

The gorge below Cincinnati is still holding tight, damming back a huge volume of water that is rising for one hundred miles above Cincinnati where at 7 a. m. there was a stage of 60.3 feet, a rise of 5.4 for the 24 hours and of more than ten feet in the past few days. This represents a head of water thirty feet compared with Madison. It is thought the break of the gorge cannot be long delayed and a rise of at least fifteen feet is looked for here.

The ice-gorge at Newburg above the Green river went out Monday night but the gorge in front of Evansville is still holding and the river is at flood there.

The reading here Tuesday morning was 10.9 feet above the falls, a rise of five-tenths of a foot and 29.8 below the locks, a rise of nine-tenths of a foot.

BREAKS COIN MAKING RECORD

Denver Mint Works Night and Day to Meet the Demand for Small Coins.

Denver.—The Denver government mint is working day and night to meet the demand for pennies and other small coins caused by the "odd" change necessary in the payment of the new war taxes. Exactly 19,004,000 pieces were coined during November. This was a record-breaker for the Denver mint. The superintendent said today the record for December is the greatest in the history of the mint. Excepting December, 65,309,800 coins were minted in 1917, the largest in denomination being 50-cent pieces.

Ball vs. Roller Bearings.

Ball bearings are a German invention, and it is only a few years ago that they made their appearance on the market. Roller bearings, both cylindrical and conical, are an American invention. The advantages claimed for the rollers over the balls are that they can sustain both the radial and the axial strain and they are more easily replaced when they become worn.

The Capital's Fifth Avenue.

Pennsylvania avenue in Washington is usually listed among the world's famous streets, but to the Washingtonian this avenue has not half the importance and attractiveness of F street, the recognized parade ground of the fashionable on sunny afternoons. F street in Washington is an institution like the monument, the government clerk and band concerts in the parks. It dates back far enough to tax the memory of Washington's few oldest inhabitants, but no records of its origin are filed in the city hall.

Size of a City Lot.

The question is often asked what part of an acre an ordinary city lot is. One 66x165 feet contains just a quarter-acre and contains 10,890 square feet. The acre, if square, would measure 660 feet along each side and a strip of that length and one-tenth the length, or 66 feet, would make an acre, and if but one-fourth as long or 165 feet would make a quarter acre. This is a good-sized city lot.

A Hint To The Aged

If people past sixty years of age could be persuaded to go to bed as soon as they take cold and remain in bed for one or two days, they would recover much more quickly, especially if they take Chamberlain's Cough emedy. There would also be less danger of the cold being followed by any of the more serious diseases.

THE SACRIFICE

By Harold Crawford Stearns of The Vigilantes.

If you should hear earth moan, and fail to heed;
If you should turn your back on writhing pain;
If you should close your eyes when nations bleed,
You would be one with Cain.

Although you give your riches to the state,
Although you yield your body, clean and whole,
You shall receive a dim reward from fate—
You must present your soul!

MAN POWER OF HUNS

Germany's Full Strength Is Now 5,500,000 Men.

3,130,000 Are on Various Fronts, the Remainder Are Guarding Neutral Frontiers.

Paris.—The Echo de Paris, referring to the distribution of enemy forces on the different fronts, says:

"On the Franco-British front there have been for several months past 152 German divisions, of which 54 were opposed by the British and the remainder by the French. Following the recent British offensive at Cambrai, this proportion was modified. There are now exactly 154 divisions on the Franco-British front, each comprising about 5,850 bayonets, and including artillery, engineers, etc., or about 12,000 men in all, thus giving about 2,000,000 German combatants on the Franco-British front.

"In view of the uncertainty of what Russian anarchy has in store for them, the Germans have left about a million men on the Russo-Roumania front. As a matter of fact, the movements effected have resulted not in a diminution of the number of fighting units on this front, but in their quality.

"On the Italian front Germany has sent to the assistance of the 45 Austrian divisions only seven divisions, or about 100,000 men.

"On the Balkan front she has sent only 30,000 combatants to re-einforce the Turks and Bulgarians. In Asia Germany has restricted her help to furnishing general staffs.

"Consequently Germany, whose total strength is 5,500,000 men, has on the various fronts 3,130,000 men, the remainder being required for guarding the Swiss and Dutch frontiers and for the occupation of, the invaded territories."

HIRSUTE CONSERVATION LATEST WAR MEASURE

Los Angeles, Cal.—Conservation of whiskers is the latest war-time measure advocated here. If every man and youth would refrain from getting a haircut and shave for a month, mathematicians figure something like $5,000,000 would be saved in labor, time, rent, electricity and gas.

This, however, admittedly would be hard on the barber and the opposition of the ladies to a month's growth of picturesque hirsute adornments on beau and husband is insurmountable.

USE COLOGNE BELL FOR GUNS

Great 56,000-Pound Relic of 1870 Dismantled and Sawed into Parts for War Purposes.

The Hague.—The great "kaiser's bell," whose sonorous voice many Americans may have heard above the roars of Cologne, has now been removed from its cage in the southern tower of the grand cathedral to be melted for war uses. It rang its funeral chant on New Year's night.

The bell weighed 56,000 pounds and it was necessary to saw it in pieces to get it down.

French guns captured in 1870 and 1871 were the material from which the bell was made, and it was first sounded on March 21, 1877, the birthday of William I. It took 27 bell ringers to operate it.

HELP FRENCH MORALE

General Pershing Asks Encouragement for the Poilus.

Nation Has Kept Up Its Heroic Fight in the Face of Great Odds.

Chicago.—General Pershing was asked by Dr. W. T. Foster, who was sent to France to inspect the work of the American Red Cross, what this organization could do during the winter that would be the greatest help in the prosecution of the war.

"Assist in sustaining the morale of the French army," the commander of the American expeditionary forces replied without hesitation.

According to Doctor Foster, who recently returned to the United States, the Red Cross is accomplishing this purpose. In addition to aiding French army hospitals with surgical dressings and other supplies, the Red Cross is saving many civilians from starvation, caring for orphan children and rebuilding the devastated areas.

"The impression some have that more supplies are being produced in America than there is need for would be quickly dissipated," he declared, "if every one could see as I did, the record of surgical dressings supplied to 1,860 hospitals. I also saw one French soldier so badly wounded a whole case of dressings was used to save him."

Americans who think our army expansion is cutting deeply into our civil life will find a comparison with the situation in France decidedly illuminating. A Red Cross official just back from France said:

"In a city of 15,000 people which I visited only one man, an old doctor, too old even longer to [illegible] profession, was left. I passed through 20 French villages in which there was not a single able-bodied man remaining."

It is stripping France in this manner that the nation has kept up its heroic fight against great odds. Today the French army is larger and more effective than ever, and hundreds of thousands of African and Asiatic workmen have been imported to carry on the duties abandoned by the French to fight for their country.

JOHN SNYDER IS CANDIDATE

Will Seek Nomination For Circuit Clerk

John J. Snyder, who retired the first of the year after serving four years as city clerk, has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for clerk of the Clark Circuit court. His name has for some time been prominently mentioned for this nomination and he has received encouraging assurances of support.

Mr. Snyder requires no introduction to the voters and the public at lerge. He is a Jeffersonville boy, born and bred. He had a wide acquaintances evnn before entering upon the duties of city clerk and while serving at the city hall he greatly widened his acquaintance. His efficient management of the affairs of the city office, his constant attendance upon its duties and his affability in the discharge of his duties have proven him a man oaf the right stamp for the office to which he now aspires and for which, unless all signs fail, he will be a warm contender. He is now occupying a position of trust as a storekeeper with the Pennslyvania Lines in Louisville.

The claims of Mr. Snyder to consideration are submittaed to the Democratic voters of the city and county and should he be the choice of the democracy in the May primary it is certain that Mr. Snyder will be found doing his loyal best to help the entire ticket to victory in the fall.

DOUGHNUT IS SUSTAINED

Even On Wheatless Days, But Must Have One-Third Substitutes

Indianapolis, Feb. 12 — Pies and doughnuts may be served on wheatless days in public eating houses provided 33 1-3 or more of wheat flour substitutes are mixed with the wheat flour for all pies and doughnuts that are served every day during the week. This "conucession" is announced by Herbert Hoover in a telegram tao Dr. Harry E. Barnard, fededal food administrator for Indiana. Mr. Hoover stated that the ruling was made "after a cereful study of the wheat flour situation" and he added, "strict compliance with these regulations were considered no hardship."

FOR DOMESTIC SCIENCE CLASS

Chance For Girls To Educate Us In Hooverism

Indianapolis, Feb. 12 —The food conservation plan "tested and approved in the public schools" is endorsed by the federal food administration, says Dr. Harry E. Barnard, federal food administrator for Indiana.

The scheme is as follows:

Each week, for a month, one article of food selected, oatmeal bread being the first one used. The bread was made in the domestic science department. The receipt for this bread was typed in the commercial department. Then a loaf of the bread and a sufficient number of copies of the recipe, so that each family might have one, were sent to each building. The children tasted the bread, became enthusiastic, and carried home a copy of the recipe. The result was that more than half of the mothers tried the bread and in many homes it became a staple article of diet.

TWO CLAIMANTS FOR CLARKSVILLE OFFICE

Both Claude B. Payne and Albert Humes have filed certificates and have taken the oath of office as members of the Board of Trustees of the Town of Clarksville, each claiming to have been elected at the meeting held last Monday night to fill a vacancy caused by the appointment of George Cole as school trustee. There was no election in the town last November. The court may have to decide which was elected. Each claim to have had a majority when a rising vote was taken.

THREE RUNAWAYS TAKEN IN COURT

Youngsters From Chicago In Peril From Exposure

Leo Caja, 15; Gustv Uhlach, 16 and Kasmer Sims, 17 all from Chicago who were found half frozen by Pennsylvania railroad police several days ago when they were trying to beat their way back home after coming to Louisville, were taken before Judge James W. Fortune in juvenile court Saturday. Uhlach was sent home with money provided by his mother; Caja was found a place by Sheriff Dellinger with George Schlosser, on a farm, and Sime is temporarily with Orlando Ross.

William Lane, age six; Henry Lane, age eight and Wayne Lane age 10, neglected children, were committed to the Jeffersonville Orphans' Home.

Uncle Sam Will Rout Us Out An Hour Early

Washington, Feb. 18 —The American people, beginning this spring, probably will be required by law to turn their timepieces an hour forward in the daylight saving movement. Favorable action on the pending bill is expected in the House this week, and the Senate already has passed a similar bill. Virtually the only dispute is regarding the time this spring when the plan shall be put into effect.

ROLL OF HONOR IS PRESENTED

Four Members Of Wesley Chapel, Ohio Falls On Roll

A patriotic service was conducted by the Rev. L. D. Youngblood Sunday evening at Wesley chapel M. E. church, Ohio Falls, and a feature of the service was the presentation of the Honor Roll of the church containing the names of four young men, members oaf the church who are in the national service. A similar service will be held next Sunday evening at Harrison avenue church, the sister church of the same charge. The Wesley Roll contains the following names:

Otto Enyder, Company E, 306th Engineers, at Camp Jackson, S. C.; Hodgen G. Moss, Company M, 334th Infantry, Camp Zachary Taylor; Samuel Earl Dierking, first lieutenant, Camp Greene, Charlotte, N. C.; John Robins, private in Quartermaster's Corps Camp Zachary Taylor.

HUNG JURY IN BELL CASE

Federal Jurors Stood Six To Six For Twenty Hours

Indianapolis, nd., Feb. 18 — The jury in the election conspiracy trial of Joseph E. Bell, former Mapor, and tyenty-nine other Indianapolis men was discharged in the United States District Court here Sunday after it had reported to the court that it was unable to agree on whether there was a conspiracy.

The jury was out twenty hours, during which time it took many ballots, the vote of each being six to six, according to the jurors.

The lute has vanished. It was one of the oldest of instruments, and had a beautiful vibrant tone somewhat like that of the harp. But its size and complexity were against it. It had a long tail, and many strings, and while this increased its power and range, it also increased its weight and made it cumbrous. The minstrel of today plays on the mandolin, the guitar or banjo—and the lute is forgot.

REFORMATORY RESTORATION IN PPOGRESS

Dining Room And Kitchen Ready; Again Baking Own Bread

CLEAR AWAY RUINS

Cold Storage, Dormitory, Foundry And Chair Shop Come First

Less than two weeks have elapsed since the disastrous fire of February 6 at the Indiana Reformatory and already much has been accomplished towards restoration Monday or Tuesday the men will be eating their meals in the new temporary dining room with kitchen attached built of wood near the school building under the direction of Ed Kleespies, of the Government depot, chiefly with aid lent by that institution which also loaned auto trucks to haul the meaterial. Ten army ranges from the depot are in use and wlill be moved over to the new temporary kitchen. For several days the institution has been baking its own war bread, of wheat with eighteen per cent corn meal. The ovens were in one end of the trade school building adjoining the kitchen but were not damaged. That part of the building has been restored.

Within another two daws the offices on the ground floor of the administration building will have been fully restored and the guards hall in the rear will have a roof to protect it. "B" cellhouse is already in use as regards the first floor but "A" cellhouse will not be touched for the present.

Immediate improvements will include the building or restoration of an apartment on the second floor of the administration building which will form a dormitory for the cadets who formerly were in "B" barracks. A cold storage plant will be built adjoining the bakery and this will be so erected that it may easily be moved later if thought advisable. Next will come the quick construction of temporary quarters to house the chair making department where furniture is made of paper fibre in large quantities. The machine shop and store room of the foundry will be restored and ina few weeks that department will also be at work. Three hundred and fifty men work there and 250 in the chair department.. In addition the brick making department will be started up full pressure as the brick will be needed, and twenty-six machines have been ordered to restart the tailoring epartment in one of the smaller buildings. This is imperatively needed. The shoe department will not be started again now but one thousand pairs of shoes have betn ordered from outside. With the broom shop, electricla supplies and other minor industries this will provide work for all except those needed in work about the place.

When the fire broke out 620 of the inmates were on the rolls at the school under principal Levi Scott but this branch of work will be pracically abandoned for the time. The basement of the school building is being used as a storeroom. The library, the band and some other departments will be moved in and a p art of the second floor has been fitted up for single officers who formerly had rooms in the administration building. The dining room will be used as cyhapel in addition to its other use.

Major D. C. Peyton has received word from Supt. Charles E. Talkington of the state penal farm, that he is sending him as a present a carload of potatoes. In addition there are several hundreds of bushels in the basement of the school building where they were stored before the fire and a plentiful supply of seed potatoes out on the farm.

The quartermaster's depot is giving great help with the three-ton army trucks which have hauled away nearly one thousand loads of broken brick and rubbish which will be used in filling in low g round adjoining the quartermaster's depot. All suitable brick is being stacked for use in reconstruction.

FIRE CHIEF NAMED

Joseph Featheringill Of New Albany Will Reorganize Reformatory Fire Fighters

Joseph D. Featheringill, of New Albany, twenty-eight years with the fire department of that city, part of he time as chief and more recently assistant chief, four years also chief of polisce in that city, has been appointed fire chief at the Indiana Reformatory by Major D. C. Peyton, general superintendent, action being in accordance with the recommendation of H. H. Friedley, state fire marshal and with the concurrence of the Board of Trustees. Chief Featheringill went on duty Monday and he will entirely reorganize the fire fighting department of the institution and will bring it to a high degree of efficiency by regular drills. The equipment will also be developed as experience and observation suggests. The new chief is regarded as an excellent man for the position and it is believed his services will prove very valuable.

HELP TO WIN THE WAR

By Helping The State Food Administrator Obesrve The Following Rules

WHEAT SALE RULES

The only wheat flour substitutes are those fiours and meals edible by human beings. Unbolted corn meal, hominy and other products suited only for cattle food may not be sold or counted as wheat flour substitutes.

ADVERTISING BREAD

Bakers shall not label, advertise or sell bread as milk or cream bread or advertise that bread contains milk or cream. A label "malted milk bread" is illegal.

EXCHANGE OF FLOUR FOR WHEAT

Millers in exchanging flour for wheat will not deliver to the purchaser in excess of the amount required by the household during the next thirty days.

FIFTY-FIFTY RULES MUST STAND

Mr. Hoover wires the complainants against the fifty-fifty rule as follows —"Flour substitute regulations as given by your state administration must stand. Deviation cannot be permitted. Situation critical. Rules are made to save wheat flour and help win the war.

SALE OF HENS PROHIBITED

Poultry buyers are prohibited from buying or selling live or freshly killed hens and pulets until May 1st. This order is absolute. Violators will be punished by a cancellation of the buyers license.

ECONOMIST DROPPED AT REFORMATORY

The position of "economist" at the Indiana Reformatory has been abandoned and Louis E. Grainger who filled it, has departed. His duties were on the order of an efficiency expert and he was paid $2,500 per annum. Mr. Grainger looked after several large institutions in Canada before coming here.

SURVEY OF SEED CORN PROFITABLE

Farmers Go To Testing Seed Some Have Disappointing Results

GOOD SEED IS SCARCE

There Is Enough But Danger Of Losing Through Carelessness

Final reports have not yet been received by H. A. Stvens, county agricultural agent, upon the seed and labor survey made throughout Clark county as all over the State. Nothing ever attempted along similar lines has been more thoroughly carried out than this seems to have been and the comments of Mr. Stevens indicate that the survey has been very valuable.

The survey has revealed, Mr. Stevens believes, two things one is that the seed corn situation is very serious and the other is that there is sufficient seed corn in the county to meet it. It is also a very encouraging thing that apparently the great majority of the farmers of Clark county will this year do what only a comparatively few have done before, and that is test their seed corn.

How necessary the latter procedure is was indicated by the experience of Carr Lentz, son of Samuel Lentz of Utica township, who for several years has been making a specialty of testing seed corn and has been doing it to a considerable extent for neighbors Of a large number of tests which he made recently the best result showed only fifty-five pjer cent of germination and it is enough to make an efficient farmer almost despair to think of using seed like that. The poorest tset showed only ten per cent of germination and that means that the corn was practically dead. This was all good corn except for the one fact that it had been killed.

In some cases it appeared that farmers were not fully alive to the urgency of conditions and some farmers have been feeding corn to their hogs which would bring a good price—from $4 to $6 a bushel —as seed corn. Other few were found who insisted they could tell good corn when they saw it without any testing but some of these are in danger, it is said, of severe disappointment if they use seed in this manner without knowing what they have.

It is evident that the survey will be productive of much good by creating a register of the seed available and providing an exchange. Without this survey the conditions would have become much worse.

BREAD PRICES

The following communications has been received by Don Williams, assistant Food Administrator from H. E. Barnard, Federal Food Administrator for Indiana.

After consultation with the baking division of the Indiana Food Administration and a survey of existing costs, it is clearly shown that the cost of bread warrants an nerease in the generally existing prices. The following schedule of prices is considered fair to baker, dealer and consumer:

| | Wholesale | Retail |
|---|---|---|
| 1 lb loaf | 7½, | 8½ 2-17c |
| 1 lb loaf | 8c | 9c |
| (Bakery wrapped) | | |
| 1½ lb loaf | 11c | 13c |

Take this matter up immediately with your baker advisor and endeavor to make these prices the uniform prices for your county. You are authorized to consider that when these prices are charged that the manufactures and dealers are not making excessive profits.

WRITES OF HIS VOYAGE OVER SEAS

Fred Pageler, Jr., Of Portland, Ore. Formerly Of This City

ENJOYED TRIP OVER

Landed In England; Raided Bake Shop On Way For Eats

A Portland, Ore., paper prints an interesting letter from Fred Pageler, jr., written to his parents Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Pageler, of that city from some point overseas where he had just arrived with his regiment, Company F. 162d Infantry. Fred Pageler, sr., was chief clerk for many years at the Indiana Reformatory and was well known and greatly liked by a wide circle of friends. When he moved to Portland in the fall of 1909 his son was a mere younster but has now reached an age where he is able and willing to do his bit for Uncle Sam. The following is taken from the Portland paper, the clipping having been received by Fielding L. Wilson:

"We arrived in England at 10 a. m. Christmas just as the chimes were ringing. It certainly was a fine trip which we had across the ocean.

"We left Camp Mills at 6 a. m. and filed on to our transport. In times of peace it is a first class passenger boat and it seems to be a good stout boat.

"We found our bunks which were one above the other and about two by six feet. Nevertheless we boys had more fun than if we had had staterooms and as luck would have it we were right next to the ship's bakery.

"We fed pretty good on the boat except that the jam had a little too much ocean in it and we thought it was sweetened water. Then we raised such a howl they fed us real jam. On another occasion they gave us tripe but none of the boys would eat it.

"We put up a howl and went to the bakery, right past the bakers, and took all the hot bread and cakes that we wanted. Gee, the bakers were sore! But it didn't do any good to howl. While the bunch was out in the hallway one of the stewards came by with a big bread basket full of apples. The boys made a grab for them and he ran, minus about two-thirds of them. Every night we would get hot bread and cakes or buns until they put a guard there.

"Every day we would have a boat drill and then about two hours' drill with our rifles. I had it easy. I went on top of the boat and practiced signalling.

"When we were within a couple of days of the Irish coast we were forced to wear our life belts all the time as we were then in the danger zone. On that same evening we were met by our convoy which consisted of nine little torpedoboat destroyers. They seemed awfully small to be so far from shore.

"On Christmas eve there was an entertainment in No. 1 mess hall. Different boys and members of the ship's crew helped to make it jolly for us. At about 11:30 we received a wireless from King George in which he extended his most hearty greetings to all ranks of the army and navy of the allies.

"On the boat we had the use of a second-class drawing room, where there was a piano, and every night we would have music and sing. It certainly was the happy-go-lucky bunch I have ever seen.

"When we were steaming into a British harbor someone on short raised Old Glory to the top of a big flagpole. It certainly looked good to see it again as we had been sailing under the British flag.

"After we got off the boat we were hustled on to English cars which looked like old horse cars cut in twain. They were divided into small compartments. We were on them until about 3:30 a. m. the next morning when we got off and hiked to the American rest camp.

"The next morning a little over half the company left for ——— and tomorrow morning the rest of us follow.

"England is a pretty country well kept and clean. I like the old fashioned houses and the way things are kept about them.

"Yesterday afternoon the few of our company that are left hiked and took in the town. At the old abbey we were lectured by the vicar or minister. He told us the story of it, how it had been destroyed twice in 900 by the Danes and had been rebuilt."

DEATH OF MRS. HANNAH HOGG

Well Known Utica Woman Was Sick Long Time

Mrs. Hannah Hogg, age 67, died early Monday after a long illness at her home at Utica where she had lived all her life. She was born there June 9, 1850, the daughter of Ransford Carlin. On February 4, 1870 she was married to William T. Tyler who died shortly afterwards. On December 88, 1877, Mrs. Tyler was married to Mr. Darius G. Hogg, a veteran of the civil war who died several years ago. Mrs. Hogg had no children of her own but is survived by two daughters of her second husband, Miss Anna Hogg and Miss Pearl Hogg to whom she stood from their childhood in the relation of mother. The funeral will be held at 2:30 Tuesday from the Christian church, of which she was a member, the Rev J. Craig, of Shelbyville officiating. Interment will be at Utica cemetery.

WILL APPLY ON LICENSES IMMESDIATELY

Saloon Men See Respite At Least In Evansville Decision

THINK BINDING HERE

Judge Hostetter Says Prohibition Law Is Unconstitutional

The decision if Judge Fred M. Hostetter, in Vanderburg, Superior court at Evansville, holding the state-wide prohibition law unconstitutional and invalid, aroused much interest in Jeffersonville Sunday, especially among saloon keepers directly affected by the law, which was due to go into effect in Indiana April 2.

There are no outstanding liquor licenses in Jeffersonville or Clark county which run longer than until April 2 for the reason that during the past year all licenses have been issued for the proportionate part of the year ending at that date. Several saloon keepers, however, have already taken steps to file their applications for renewal at the next or following meeting of the Board of County Commissioners.

While the Vanderburg county decision is only actually binding in that county there is a general vew that it will be regarded in other counties until the Supreme Court gives a final decision. One lawyer said that while the Evansville court had rested its decision on the Beebe case decided in 1855 the decision of the United States Supreme Court recently in an Iowa case seemed to have coverel all the points raised in a decision favorable to the prohibition forces While the Vanderburg decision stands it seems to be thought however that the saloon men will be allowed to continue in business.

During the past year the total number of saloons in Clark county has been reduced by about ten to a total of forty-two. The number in the city is still much over the maximum allowed by the law so that no new licenses may be issued until the proportion falls to littale more than half the present number. Should the saloons have to close and then later be permitted to resume, if the Supreme Court should overiride the law, it is probable only the smaller number of licenses could their be granted.

About Constipation

Certain articles of diet tend to check movements of the bowels. The most common of thee are cheese, tea, and boiltd mik. On the other hand raw fruits, especially apples and bananas, also graham bread and whole wheat bread promote a movement of the bowels. When the bowels are badly constipated, however, the sure way is to take one or two of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper.

Ball vs. Roller Bearings.

Ball bearings are a German invention, and it is only a few years ago that they made their appearance on the market. Roller bearings, both cylindrical and conical, are an American invention. The advantages claimed for the rollers over the balls are that they can sustain both the radial and the axial strain and they are more easily replaced when they become worn.

Tender Thoughts in Will.

Sometimes there are found such tender touches as these in the will of a late town clerk of Monmouth, who died in 1915, aged seventy-two. He left to the Monmouth General hospital and dispensary, for the children's ward, in memory of his darling child Lizzie, £500 and a framed portrait of the child, and desired the authorities to place on her grave a wreath of flowers each Palm Sunday and a wreath of holly each Christmas day.

Determining Character.

We prepare ourselves for sudden deeds by the reiterated choice of good or evil which gradually determines character.—George Eliot.

New Kind of Grape Honey.

The "honey of grapes" prepared by the special process of Professor Montl, an Italian experimenter, is a grape sugar particularly recommended for preserved fruits, marmalades, and flavoring syrups. The juice is pressed from the grapes with care to avoid fermentation; is next frozen in a rotating cylinder with removal of the ice crystals, and is further concentrated to syrup of grapes by heating under low pressure. For honey of grapes the concentration is continued until crystals are found.

The Capital's Fifth Avenue.

Pennsylvania avenue in Washington is usually listed among the world's famous streets, but to the Washingtonian this avenue has not half the importance and attractiveness of F street, the recognized parade ground of the fashionable on sunny afternoons. F street in Washington is an institution like the monument, the government clerk and band concerts in the parks. It dates back far enough to tax the memory of Washington's now oldest inhabitants, but no [illegible] of its origin are filed in the city [illegible].

AMERICA BUILDS SALVAGE CITY

Soldiers' Clothes Will Be Scrubbed and Mended.

WASHTUB THE MAIN THING

Each Battalion Returning From the Front Will Have Its "Bath Parade"—Soldiers Will Discard Their Clothes, Enter the Baths and Come Out in Another Room Where Clean, Dry Clothes Will Be Waiting for Them.

Uncle Sam is moving in his washtubs to wash the undershirts and things that come back from the trenches.

Washtubs are the main thing in the big salvage base which is just being finished in a city far back from the lines in France. There are also shoe-repair machines and machines for darning socks and patching breeches.

The quartermaster took a broad look at the future in planning this base. He visualized hundreds of thousands of Sammies in the mud and filth of the trenches—battalions coming out every day wearing the same clothes, down to the last stitch, that they wore when they marched in. He saw that these outcoming battalions would need hot baths and clean clothes as much as rest and recreation.

They're going to get 'em—baths and clothes.

Cities for Repair.

Back in the cities, "salvage" denotes a careening red fire-wagon piled high with waterproof blankets, with helmeted salvage-corps firemen clinging to the handrails.

Over here it's something else again.

Salvage means repair, reclamation, saving.

There will be bath stations just back of the front and each emerging battalion will have its "bath parade" on coming out. As they enter the building the Sammies will discard their duds—jackets, breeches, shoes, socks, shirts and underwear. They will go through the baths and come out in another room, to find clean, dry clothes and sound shoes waiting for them.

Meantime the salvage folk will have gathered up the discarded clothing. First off, every garment will go through the "de-lousing" wagon, where steam bathes will kill 'em.

Work to Be Inspected.

Next the garments are piled into freight cars which come up to the line with supplies and otherwise might go back empty. At the base the Uncle Sam laundry thoroughly launders every garment and sends them on to other departments in the same plant for inspection and repair.

If a garment has been repaired several times before, most likely it will go into the discard. Otherwise it will be patched and sent forward for the next man who comes out, wet, muddy and craving to be clean again.

Say, old fellow, don't carry the joke too far. Send the umbrella to Room 11, Fraternity Building. If the owner is not in just set it up beside the door. Or if you have that weak feeling and are in need of a tonic, and not able to climb the stairway, you can just pitch the shower stick in at the lower door entrance and return home, or any old place you like, carrying a clear conscience of one having done a good and worthy deed. Try it once.—Winchester Sun.

CLARK COUNTY LEADS IN REDEEMING PLEDGES

Edward Webb of Indianapolis, financial secretary for Indiana of the National Y. M. C. A. War Fund, paid a visit to Jeffersonville Saturday afternoon and conferred with the local executive committee of which Dr. JJ. H. Baldwin was chairman. He said that Clark county was one of the very few counties in the state which have already paid in more than their quota. Clark county's quota was $7,000 and payment has ben made of $7,492. This will be increased $200 from outstanding pledges before April 1, closing day, iat is believed and the pledges will be redeemed practically one hundred per cent.

My present station and its environs seem to be the center of a district devoted entirely to the dissemination of knowledge to Americans. In the nearby town there are more captains, majors, lieutenant colonels and colonels than I have ever seen before. They, too, are going to school—learning war as it is now fought. Every officer, apparently, no matter what his rank, has got to learn before he starts here and has got to go to school. They have French instructors, as does this school—men fresh from the trenches, with all the latest wrinkles. I don't know whether they grab bayonets and make a howling dive over the theoretical top, but I am informed that is what we are going to do. Right now the school is devoting a lot of time to digging the aforesaid trenches. The trench plan of a famous battle is being reproduced, I am told.

I was a little skeptical about coming up her with my modest store of military knowledge, but my captain said he thought I would make good, and here I am. The United States needs all the talent it can get, he said, and declared that the roof was going to be the limit on the possibilities of advancement for men with the right stuff. I never was very ambitious, personally, and hadn't thought much about a commission personally. Anyhow, as an humble private such a possibility seemed as remote as Berlin. And yet here I am with a fighting chance for one. It sure is refutation for the intimation of hopelessness frequently expressed that a man in the ranks hasn't a chance.

Had to adjourn here to stand inspection of field equipment and attend a brief lecture by the major in charge of the school. It is dark now. The major announced that discipline would be as strict here as possible, that there would be required two hours of study each evening, that commissions were going to be granted over here only to the graduates of such schools as these except to men who displayed conspicuous bravery in battle. Also, he said, this was the pick of the army and undoubtedly the finest bunch of men in France. Whereupon I was duly gratified.

Complete Printing Plant.

I met Andy Berg, who used to work with me in San Francisco, a couple of days ago. He left the Coast before I did, visited his home and enlisted in Massachusetts. He is with what is called a topographical engineering company, which is going to set up a printing plant, from linotype machines to presses, for the printing of maps, orders, etc. Some stunt!

I was kind of sorry to leave the old bunch. The last one of the bunch I saw before leaving was Frank Calvin, son of the president of the Union Pacific. He is rated as a wagoner and is acting as chauffeur for a Major Williams, who used to be a construction engineer on his pa's railroad. His corporal used to be a section boss on the same line.

The distinction, by the way, of being the first drafted regiment across goes to a group of gentlemen of dark complexion from south of the Mason and Dixon line. They are togged out in the old army blues, with capes of purple lining. They are all dolled up like bull fighters and full of admiration for the country that clothed them so gorgeously. Two of them entertained a whole company in ragtime and clog dancing at a Y. M. C. A. hut equipped with a piano the other night. A favorite question over here between soldiers is, "How many were on the boat you crossed on?" Sometimes the answer is not exaggerated. A negro I asked beat 'em all, though.

"Nobody knows," he said. "Why that's jes what the war department is trying to find out—how many niggers was on dat ship."

This is about the longest letter I've written since the war started. I owed you two and now we're even. Which is by way of saying that I have received your last two letters. Glad to know Pat is in New York. Give him my regards and tell him I'm bringing my own poker deck to New York when the war is finis. I'll close now to save the censor a grouch. Wouldn't blame him, at that. Have been feeling my way for the last page. Only one lamp. More promised. So long.

The Shawm.

A shawm was a wind instrument of the oboe class but with a wider bell. It is a very old type of musical instrument, as it is spoken of by the Psalmist. The Romans used it freely. There were treble shawms and bass shawms, and the name gradually gave way about the sixteenth century to "moboy" or "howboy," eventually evolving to "oboe."

CIRCUIT COURT RESUMED MONDAY

Divorce Granted; Jury Will Meet Wednesday

Judge James W. Fortune on Monday convened the Clark Circuit court and the probate docket was called.

Divorce was granted to Katie Puryear from Vandra Puryear on grounds of cruel tareatment and failure to provide, and the plaintiff who lives at 300 Division street was given custody of her three children and $10 a week for their support.

Information was filed against Tony Edwards on a charge of cutting Valla JJ. Bowman. He was arraigned, pleaded not guilty and the case was set for Wednesday when the ptit jury will report for duty.

Ignored Body Evaporation.

In the early days of steam vessels a firing suit was invented. A thin metal or asbestos cover was lined with rubber. The wearer carried a small water tank on his back. By opening a small valve near his shoulder he could sprinkle his bare skin. The inventor scalded to death, notes a writer, trying to prove his point. The sad part of it was that he was on the wrong track entirely. The suit made body evaporation nearly impossible, and that is really what cools us.

COW TESTING ASSOCIATION

Farmers Met Saturday; Not Quite Enough Members Yet

Steps were taken in Jeffersonville at a meeting held Saturday afternoon at the office of Hugh A. Staevens, county agricultural agent, to form the Clark County Cow Testers' Association. Not enough signatures were obtained but it is thought the others will be. The meeting was attended by Harry G. Stevens, of Evansville who has charge of this branch of work for Purdue University Extension department and who is a brother of the Clark county agricultural agent.

The plan is to employ an expert who gives one day a month to each farmer signing up and who weighs and tests the milk, weighs the feed and makes a record upon which the monthly average is based and which serves to indicate what the dairy herd is producing in dollars and cents to the farmer. Before organization it is required that farmers sign up for twenty-six days.

Eleven signed Saturday for a total of fourteen days, oane farmer requiring three and another two days of the experts time. Those who signed up were: J. F. McCulloch, Cherlestown; John T. Carr, Charlestown; G. H. Lindenmeyer, Otisco; Harry L. Braun, Charlestown; E. B. Bentley, Charlestown; W. Q. Kranz, Sellersburg; Louisville Cement Company, Sellersburg; Edward J. Gerner, Sellersburg; Charles M. Leach, Sellersburg; Albert J. Mahan, Underwood; Perry G. Clapp, Marysville.

DENIES ALLEGED SECOND MARRIAGE

William Harris Says He Does Not Know Woman; Record Says Robert Harris

William Harris, who is in jail waiting trial on a charge of bigamy, denies that he was married a second time and declares he has no knowledge of the young woman he is alleged to have married in Jeffersonville September 15, 19177. It is charged in the affidavit sworn to by his legal wife, Mrs. Sallie Harris, whom he married at Columbia, Ky., January 17, 1907 that on September 15 1917 he married Miss Dovie Salmon of Louisville. The records show a young woman of this name married on that date by Magistrate Frank M. Ogden to Rebert Harris and while it is asserted the man under arrest went sometimes by that name the latter asserts it must be his cousin.

Revival of Seagoing [illegible] Arouses Widespread Interest in the Subject.

SCHOOLS TEACH THE SCIENCE

Classes in Navigation Being Conducted by Recruiting Service of United States Shipping Board—12,000 New Officers Needed.

Washington.—One of the interesting features of the present great revival in seagoing spirit throughout the country is the widespread popularity of the study of navigation.

Reports reaching the United States shipping board indicate lively interest all over the country in the study of this ancient science, which helped make the nation great in its earliest years of independence.

Classes in navigation, conducted by the recruiting service of the board, to train officers for the ships of the new merchant marine, are being conducted on both coasts and on the Great Lakes. Candidates for admission come from every section of the Union.

The cause of this nation-wide interest in navigation is to be found in the gigantic development of the country's merchant marine. It is anticipated that not less than 12,000 new officers will be required to handle the American cargo-carrying vessels now under construction, and not less than 85,000 men will be wanted for the crews.

A merchant officer today has many advantages in studying navigation that were not known to his seagoing ancestors. There was never a time when the aids to navigation were so numerous as now, or so well developed.

While the manner in which a navigator determines his ship's position on the vast face of the deep must always be something of a mystery to the landsman, it does not long remain so to the earnest student of navigation. Some of the students at shipping board schools have been able, after three weeks' study, to determine by observation the position of a ship at sea within three miles, which is considered a creditable performance. The best navigators, on large ships, when able to check up their observations by the work of more than one observer, sometimes do no better.

Early Navigation.

In the early days of ocean navigation the navigator never knew his position at sea within many leagues. It was customary for ships on the voyage from Europe to America to sail westerly until a landfall was made, then coast to their destination.

Columbus followed this method, for want of anything better.

Given sextant and chronometer, the navigator today reduces the job of finding his position to one of careful figuring. Latitude is found by observation of the height, or altitude, of the sun at noon.

Longitude is quite another thing, it being the distance between two places on the earth's surface, expressed in degrees. It is based on the rotation of the earth on its axis every 24 hours, causing meridians 15 degrees apart—a meridian being a line between the equator and the poles—to pass under a certain fixed point in the heavens at one-hour intervals.

For determining longitude all chronometers used on American and British ships are set on the time of the meridian of Greenwich observatory, near London. French ships figure from the meridian of Paris.

Knowing by his chronometer the time at Greenwich, and by observation of the sun at 8 a. m. or 4 p. m. his own time, the mariner, by the aid of tables, has only to find the difference in these two times, to find his distance in degrees from Greenwich. This found, the distance is easily expressed in miles, and marks his position on his chart.

"Dead Reckoning."

Prior to the perfection of the chronometer, the common method of determining longitude was by "dead reckoning," that is, estimating a ship's run day by day, by means of the log, a device for telling her speed by means of the rate at which knots in a line, paid out astern, with a wooden "log" at the end, slipped over the rail in a given number of seconds. This was uncertain, and baffling winds and foul weather made it entirely unreliable.

Many fatal shipwrecks resulted from mistakes in estimating a ship's position by dead reckoning. England lost several of her best ships of war in the eighteenth century by their losing their bearings and crashing upon a rocky shore. One of its bravest admirals, Sir Cloudesley Shovel, lost his life in a wreck caused in this way.

The world owes much in navigation to the Portuguese, as it was Prince Henry the Navigator of that nation, who collated all the ancient lore on the subject, in the fifteenth century, and pointed the way to better means of determining latitude than by the ancient astrolabe and cross staff.

The sextant and chronometer were both of English origin, however, and were brought out within five years of each other, the sextant in 1731 and the chronometer—an improved clock—in 1735. Modern navigation, such as so many Americans are studying today, may be said to date from the perfection of these two instruments.

A Good Wife.

Once upon a time there was a farmer whose wife daily pumped the household supply of water up to a tank on the roof, says The Little Journal. ### A SOLDIER'S INSPIRATION.

Naturally my impressions have been many, but I can attempt to give you only a few. It is hard to realize that we are at the center of this world struggle, for we have approached it so gradually.

War presents life stripped of all refinements and forces man to the sternest realities. There is little glamor living like a mole in the g round for weeks at a time or working like a horse back of the lines and yet with it all there is something enchanting about war. Men by the thousands gamble for life and to lose is si common a thing that it passes by unnoticed. In civil life the death of one man or a few men c reates a stir — not so in war, writes R. G. Conant, a young American soldier in France.

What wonderful organization war demads! To levee troops, transport them to and from the front, manufacture and transport munitions and arms, feed and clothe the army, build and maintain means of communication such as railroads, roads, telephone, swireless and postal systems and to have all so work together as to defeat the enemy call for the best organization brains and money can produce. While I do not consider the individual Frenchman very efficient, the army is apparently well organized.

I am constantly impressed with the great economic waste of war— thousands of men, cannon, horses and units of every description idling or active at the front and back in the shops and on the farms, thousands, yes, millions more such units engaged in maintaining those in active service—and in addition the terrible loss of life and destruction of property. For some years we have heard such men as David Starr Jordan, Norman Angell and others saying that on account of the great economic waste of war the bankers would never again permit another great war to curse the human race and yet we are in the midst of the greatest of all wars. This war has not only proven the fallacy of such teachings but has attested the truth that the spiritual or unseen forces are stronger than the material. Nations have poured and will continue to pour into the bottomless pit not only millions of dollars, but that which is far more precious —millions of men —all for a principle, an ideal.

Pickle and Can for Uncle Sam.

LEWMANS ARE SUED BY GOVERNMENT

Demand For $423,524.53 For Alleged Failure To Complete Contract

BONDSMEN ARE SUED

Suit Arises Out Of Contract For Locks And Dams In Alabama

Suit to recover $423,524.53 was fied by the United States Government against Mrs. Lelia F. Lewman, administrtrix of the estate of H. L. Lewman, L. D. Lewman and W. C. Lewman, former partners doing business under the firm name of M. T. Lewman & Co., and against the United States Fideity & Guarantee Company. The petition was filed by District Attorney Perry B. Miller in the United States District Court in Louisville.

It is alleged in the petition that M. T. Lewman & Co., in 1903, entered into a contract with the United States, with the Fideity Company as surety, to construct ocks and dams 1, 2 and 3 on the Warrior and Tombigbee rivers in Alabama in accordance with certain plans and specifications and at a fixed price the work to be completed by October 1, 1905; that Lewman & Co., failed to carry out the contract and abandoned it, and that the Government was compelled to take up the work and compete it, and did so at an excess cost of $423,524.53 over the contract price, and that the Government was thereby damaged in that amount.

Mrs. Lelia F. Lewman, widow of Harry L. Lewman resides at 1334 Cherokee road in the Parkview apartments, which are a part of the Lewman estate. A bond of $100,000 was required of her by the County Court, when she quailed as administratrix on July 31, 1917.

W. C. Lewman is now manager of the Ten Broeck Tire Co., 840 South Twenty-sixth street. L. D. Lewman resides in New York City.

The United States Fidelity & Guarantee Company is a Baltimore concern. The amount of the Fidelity Company's bond for Lewman & Co., as stated in the petition was $225,000.

CASH AND CARRY PLAN OF SELLING

Dr. Barnard, Food Administrator Explains What System Is

DELIVERY, SIX CENTS

One Cent Per Month Per Dollar Added For Charging Accounts

Indianapoylis, Feb. 19— The cah and carry plan of merchandizing is intended not so much to abolish the delivery system as to establish a price for which food stuffs are to be sold for cash over the counter. This interpretation of the new system of retailing, to which Indiana grocers are pledged is being announced to county food administrators by Dr. Harry E. Barnard, federal food administrator for Indiana. It has been apparent that a misunderstanding as to the exact purpose of the federal food administrationtion, has existed in many quarters and Dr. Barnard's statement is expected to encourage many grocers to adopt the policy who have objected to a complete abandonment of their delivery service.

"When c redit or delivery service is rendered, it is to be paid for. The accepted delivery charge is six cents for each delivery and the charge cost an added cent per month on the dollar.

"Already many cash and carry grocers are in successful operation. They report increased business and a reduction of prices ranging from eight to ten per cent. It must be clearly understood that when the grocer adopts the cash and carry plan, he reduces the price of goods; and where no such reduction is made, he is liable to be charged with profiteering."

Dr. Barnard is directing counfood administrators to exercise their best judgment as to the wisdom of publishing "fair" prices each week as a means of stabilizing prices or regulating margins of profit. The county administrators are authorized to appoint a committee of grocers and consumers or others, to pass upon this vitaly important matter. It is to be understood, Dr. Barnard says, that prices so detemined are not compulsory, except in so far as grocers subject themselves to an indictment for profiteering.

ESCAPED FROM INSANE ASYLUM

Visitor At Government Depot Beat Telegram Here

An insane man arrested at the quartermaster's depot here several days ago and slated as W. T. Rowsle, is believed to be S. A. Woodmensee wanted at an insane asylum at Goroganda, N. Y.; whose aseape from that place was telegraphed the Jeffersonville police. Woodmansee had talked at the asylum of his desire to get to the Jeffersonville depot and when his escape was learned and he could not be found in the neighborhood a telegram was sent here. Meantime he had already arrived and on account of his strange actions at the government depot had been lodged in jail where it was soon observed that he was insane. An attendant from the New York institution will come for him.

FARMERS HOLD TWO INSTITUTES

Union And Utica Agriculturalists Will Meet During Week

The Union Township Farmers' Institute will be held at Memphis Thursday next, February 21. The visiting speakers from Purdue will be Mrs. Bence Orme and J. Teat. ## TWO VACANCIES ON POLICE FORCE

P. L. Edgerton Off; Other Vacancies Due To Resignation Of Sam Summers

The unusual labor conditions are making it difficult for the Board of Metropolitan Police Commissioners to get men of the right kind to serve upon the police force. The Board will likely meet Tuesday to take some action towards filling two vancancies that exist with only four men now on the force. The first vacancy has existed since the resignation of former Eergt. Ellsworth W. Summers a few weeks ago and the second is due to the resignation of P. L. Edgerton which was accepted Monday night. Edgerton had served only a few weeks but Summers was on the department about eighteen years. The present force consists of James N. Masters, chief; Robert E. Geason, sergeant; Will Dolan, Asa Prince, patrolmen.

OLD COUNTY JAIL IS SOLD

Charlestown Property To Be Torn Down When New School Is Built

The hotel property in the public square at Charlestown has been bought by the township from the town for $900, the price agreed upon by the appraisers. Formerly the property was used as the county jail when Charlestown was the county seat of Clark county, as the school building which adjoins it was the county courthouse. Both are to be torn down by the township and a new school building will be erected during the coming summer.

The school was visited and inspected last week by Fred Gladden, former superintendent of public schools at Charlestown, now assistant secretary of the State Board of Education. He came representing the state high school inspector and in view of the fact that the schoaol authorities are making plans to comply with the requirement to erect a new and adequate school building he will recommend that the school be commissioned as a high school.

Written [illegible] Christ.

All the books of the Old Testament were written long before the birth of Christ, some of them as much as 1,400 years before, others from 500 to 1,000 years before, and none less than 300 to 400 years before. The Gospels and other books of the New Testament were written from 33 to 60 or 70 years after the birth of Christ.

STRENGTH AND ENDURANCE

Are factors of the greatest success.

No person can do full justice to himself without them.

In no season of the year are they more easily exhausted than in the spring.

We need not discuss the reason for this here. It's enough to say there is one, and that Hood's Sarsaparilla gives strength and endurance, as thousands annually testify.

Little square of snow-white gauze,
Ere I fold you let me pause;
Let me think what you are for,
What your part is in this war,
You softly sponge the blood,
    bright red,
From soldiers who for me have bled,
You deftly cleanse around the wound
Received for me on foreign ground,
You save men's ives — some way,
    somehow,
All this you do if I fold you now.
If I wait till tomorrow, blood

Uncleansed wounds cause death before dawn.
No such deaths by my hand, I vow,
Little gauze square, I'll fold you

New Kind of Grape Honey.

The "honey of grapes" prepared by the special process of Professor Monti, an Italian experimenter, is a grape sugar particularly recommended for preserved fruits, marmalades, and flavoring syrups. The juice is pressed from the grapes with care to avoid fermentation, is next frozen in a rotating cylinder with removal of the ice crystals, and is further concentrated to syrup of grapes by heating under low pressure. For honey of grapes the concentration is continued until crystals are found.

There's something in what Titus Beeswax Wad says, at that.

Live Right.

Right living and the right kind of work have changed many a stunted boy into a well-developed man, asserts an educator. Spiritual growth is not greatly aided by sitting down and thinking about it. Live in the sunshine of trust. Rely on a strength higher than your own. Reach out helpfully to others, and growth in the divine life will look after itself.

Mr. Wad's car would be all right during a bombardment!

Right of Choice.

You cannot always choose your associates, but you can select your companions, observes a sage. Circumstances may throw you with people who are distasteful to you, but circumstances cannot force you to take them to your hearts and into your confidence. Choice is stronger than environment. Wherever you are, you always have the privilege of choosing

The success of electric heat in japan and varnish oven work has led to considerable investigation along the line of what might be termed low temperature heating; that is, heating with temperatures up to 600 degrees Fahrenheit. ### LABOR ON

Pause not to dream of the future before us;
Pause not to weep the wild cares that come o'er us;
Hark how creation's deep, musical chorus,
Unintermittingly, goes up into heaven!
Never the ocean wave falters in flowing;
Never the little seed stops in its growing,
More and more richly the rose heart keeps glowing,
Till from its nourishing stem it is riven.

Droop not! though shame, sin and anguish are round thee!
Bravely fling off the cold chain that hath bound thee!
Look to the pure heaven smiling beyond thee!
Rest not content in thy darkdarkness—a clod!
Work for some good, be it ever so slowly!
Cherish some flower, be it ever so lowly!
Labor —all labor is noble and holy;
Let thy great deeds be as prayers to thy God.

Being Ahead of the Times.

The world calls every man that is ahead of his age a crank. There is no disgrace in it. It may be a little hard not to be understood and appreciated when you know you have what the world needs, notes an exchange. But remember, that's the way with the world. It sometimes takes years, and even centuries for people to appreciate what's beyond their experience.

The Shawm.

A shawm was a wind instrument of the oboe class but with a wider bell. It is a very old type of musical instrument, as it is spoken of by the Psalmist. The Romans used it freely. There were treble shawms and bass shawms, and the name gradually gave way about the sixteenth century to "hoboy" or "howboy," eventually evolving to "oboe."

About Constipation

Certain articles of diet tend to check movements of the bowels. The most common of thee are cheese, tea, and boiltd mik. On the other hand raw fruits, especially apples and bananas, also graham bread and whole wheat bread promote a movement of the bowels. When the bowels are badly constipated, however, the sure way is to take one or two of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper.

Center of Jute Industry.

Dundee practically owes its existence to its textile industry. It was the pioneer in the adoption of jute as a fiber for making cloth of a cheap quality, and its hold upon the trade has been so firmly maintained and developed that Dundee is recognized as the principal center of the jute industry in Great Britain.

After a young man has blown in all his money on a girl, she often shows her gratitude by marrying some other fellow.

All girls sing like birds. Still there are many kinds of birds.

Ignored Body Evaporation.

In the early days of steam vessels a firing suit was invented. A thin metal or asbestos cover was lined with rubber. The wearer carried a small water tank on his back. By opening a small valve near his shoulder he could sprinkle his bare skin. The inventor scalded to death, notes a writer, trying to prove his point. The sad part of it was that he was on the wrong track entirely. The suit made body evaporation nearly impossible, and that is really what cools us.

A Hint To The Aged

Contains 402 Stars; Presented By Students To University

Greencastle, Ind., eFb. 19 —In the most impressive service of the year DePouw University on Monday dedicated a service flag containing 402 stars, one of which was of gold. The stars represent former students and alumni of the school who are in military service. The gold star, which is in the center of the flog, represents Hahn Young Lee, ex-'19, the first DePanw man to be killed in service. Lee, a Korean, was fatally injured at Camp Shelby Miss., while in training there. He was the only Korean ever in DePauw. The flag is the gift of the students to the nollege and was presented on behaf of the student counril by William Tway, a senior in a brief but forceful address. ### When a Woman May Lie.

A Kansas City court has ruled that "a woman may lie to her husband when the provocation is great enough." ### The Capital's Fifth Avenue.

Pennsylvania avenue in Washington is usually listed among the world's famous streets, but to the Washingtonian this avenue has not half the importance and attractiveness of F street, the recognized parade ground of the fashionable on sunny afternoons. F street in Washington is an institution like the monument, the government clerk and band concerts in the parks. It dates back far enough to tax the memory of Washington's few oldest inhabitants, but no records of its origin are filed in the city hall.

THE MANAGEMENT

Genuine Home Thirft means managing the home so well that none of the Father-energy it takes to earn money, or none of the Mother-energy it takes to spend it, is wasted by foolish purchases, extravagant housekeeping or niggardly economy.

In order to achieve these ends the housekeeper must learn how to take care of her savings, even the smallest ones, by business mehods, how to balance her household budget, how to pay her bills by checks, and how to manage her bank account to the best advantage.

MANSLAUGHTER BRINGS IN TWO

One Killed Soldier; Other Was Motorman In Street Car Wreck

Fred West, age 18, and Earl JaJckson, age 22 arrived Monday at the Indiana Reformatory from Indianapolis, each to serve from two to twenty-one years for manslaughter, classed as "involuntary" in the former case. This was rather unusual because West was convicted on account of the death of Frank Fletacher who was killed August 12, 1917, when the car on which West was motorman ran off the track, due, it was charged, to an excessive speed. Jackson killed Walter Strom, a soldier stationed at Fort Benjamin Harrison, the fatality occurring at the home of Jackson. At his trial for murder there was a hung jury, Jackson's wife not being found. Later she was located and before the next trial Jackson pleaded guilty to the minor charge.

ENROLLMENT OF SHIPBUILDERS

And Others Able To Do Work Required In Yards; Many Wanted

Charles Strauch is in charge of the enrollment of men in Clark county for shipbuilding and is maintaining headquarters at the Chamber of Commerce building at 253 Spring street. Up to last evening he had enrolled only ten men for this service though tht county should give about one hundred as its share of the Indianapolis quota which is 10,800. Mr. Strauch will name assistants at Charestown, Henryville, New Washington and other country centers to assist in the enrollment which is for men from eighteen to twenty-one and from thirty to forty-five, skilled mechanies being mostly desired. A large number of shipbuilders from this city have gone to other places to work in the shipyards.

PERSEVERANCE

Perseverance built the pyramids on the Egyptian plains, erected the gorgeous temple of Jerusalem, enclosed in adamant the Chinese Empire; scaled the stormy cloud-capped Alps; opened the highways through the watery wilderness of the Atlantic; leveled the forests of the new world and reared in its stead a community of states and nations. Perseverance has wrought from the marble blocks the exquisite being of genius; painted on canvas the gorgeous mimicry of nations and engraved on the metallic surface the viewless substance of the shadow. Perseverance has put in motion millions of spindles, winged as many flying shuttles; harnessed thousands of iron steeds to as many freight cars and set them flying from town to town, and from nation to nation; tunneled mountains of graite and annihilated space with a lightning speed. It has whitened the waters of the world with the sails of a hundred nations, navigated every sea and explored every land. It has reduced nature in her thousand forms to as many sciences, taught her laws, prophesied her future movements, measured her untrodden spaces, counted her myriad hosts of worlds, and computed their dimensions and velocities.—E. J. L'-Esperance.

PHYSICAL WELFARE OF COMMUNITY

National Security League Plans To Help In Building It Up

LETTER TO MAYOR

Local Committees Proposed; Walter Camp Is Chairman

A broad plan for the bettaer physical development of the manhood of America is under consideration by the National Security League and preliminary steps are being taken the first of which is to organize local committees all over the country to co-operate in the plan to be adopted. It is pointed out that he operation of the draft has disclosed a surprisingly large number of proportion of men who are not physiclally fit and it is believed that great improvement may be achieved in regard thereto.

To this end communications have been sent out, of which one has been sent to Mayor Newton H. Myers, asking that local committees of three or more representative men be named. The national work has been placed in the hands of Walter Camp as chairman of the Committee on Physical Reserve and he is preparing a brief statement of the plan of physical exercise which he has used in other lines of activity. The communication refers to a "simple and pleasant system of physical upbuilding which does not require any considerable time expenditure for the individual".

Mr. Camp's activities in regard to athletic and physical developments include organization and development for nearly thirty years of all branches of athletics at Yale University and as chaorman of the Inter-Collegiate Football Rules Committee; organization of Senior Service Corps, including President Wilson's Cabinet, in many American communities during the past year to assure physical fitness to men of mature years, and as Commissioner of Athletics in the United States Navy he has organized the recreational sports for 100,000 young men in the naval stations.

S. Stanwood Menken is president of the National Security League and Elihu Root is honorary president, having succeeded thereto after the death May 14, 1917, of Joseph H. Choate who formerly held that position. Many notable men are on the roster of officers and directors. The letter addressed to Mayor Myers reads as follows:

Dear Sir:—

The draft showed that twenty-nine yer cent of the young men of America were physically unfit to perform the manhood duty of citizen service. It is also known that there are one million preventable deaths in this country per annum.

The health of the men and women of America is a matter of the greatest importance to this nation in the fight for victory and has a direct bearing upon the nation's ability to meet war and post-war economic problems. The mind of the nation is also best equipped by providing for the soundness of the bodies of its men and women.

We know that in every community there are boards of health and organizations devoting themselves to physical fitness. The above statments of fact., however indicate that the mass of the people are not reached by the present methods and that it is a matter of national concern that broader measures be adopted.

By plans which are simple the evil can be overcome. It is proposed that a Committee on Physical Reserve be appointed in every city and town in the United States to inquire into local conditions with the suggestion that they communicate with the undersigned committee in order that we may advise you of our plans and put into operation a simple and pleasant system of physical upbuilding which does not require any considerable time expenditure for the individual and which has been proven to produce the necessary results in a remarkably short pjeriod.

Will you be good enough to designate at least three persons to constitute your local committee? When you do so, will you kindly advise us and we will forward to you at once the details of the plan.

As we are anxious to produce prompt results, we would appreciate your early reply.

Yours respectfully,
Committee On Physical Reserve
WALTER CAMP,
Chairman

ORGANIZE FOR THIRD CAMPAIGN

Liberty Loan Workers Will Meet Thursday At Evansville

DRIVE STARTS SOON

Claude McBride And Homer Frank Will Go From Here

Homer M. Frank and Claude McBride of this city, will attend a meeting at Evansville Thursday called by Marcus S. Sonntag, director for Southern Indiana of the Eighth Federal Reserve District, for the third Liberty Loan drive to start the latter part of next month and to be the biggest of the three drives.

Mr. McBride has been named manager of district four, one of the five districts int o which southern Indiana has been divided. The district consists of Clark, Scott, Switzerland and Jefferson counties. Charles E. Poindevxter has been named chairman for Clark county and Mr. Frank will attend the meeting virtually as his representative.

Two-thirds of Indiana, comprising th enorthern and central part, is in the Chicago federal reserve district but southern Indiana is in the St. Louis disctrict and the organization will be carried out through that center.

The meeting at Evansville Thursday is for the purpose of launching the work of organization for the district and the next thirty deys or so will be devoted to the building of a machine which will be designed to cover the area of southern Indiana and which it is proposed shall be maintained intact for the remainder of the war so that future bond selling campaigns may find the personnel ready, prepared and trained for its duties.

Shortly after the meeting at Evansville district meetings will be called in each of the five districts and these will be attended by the county chairmen, bankers and all interested in the bond sales. Each county will have its executive committee and plans will be perfected for reaching out to the entire populace in the sale of the third issue of the bonds. Clark county went over its minimum quota before and will undoubtedly do so again but there were many parts of the county and many sources of supply not reached in the previous campaigns which will be tapped when this new campaign gets under way.

LOYAL WORKERS HELP TO WIN THE WAR

War is a great leveler. All must serve; some, and they are the best of the land, must don the khaki and shoulder a gun; others, and they are very important, must follow the furrow and so feed the fighters; and every one in the great commercial life of our nation is a part and must do his or her bit.

In this call to service we who are left ehind find our salvation, for if we weere doing nothing to help win the war, we would be disconsolate indeed; but the busy life, serving in every possible way is the happy life.

SEVENTEEN TAX DEEDS RECORDED

CORN IN SHOCK IN BAD CONDITION

Farmers from Utica township and other parts of Clark county, who are able now to get out in the fields, look over the situation and estimate the prospects declare that the condition of the corn which has been standing in the shock is worse than they expected to find it, having been badly damaged by the weather conditions. The corn can only be used up by feeding it within a short period and even so its use must be restricted to hogs and cattle since it would not serve for food for horses. The wheat condition may be considered satisfactory.

JURY CASE IS CALLED FOR TRIAL

Tony Edwards, Charged With Cutting Valla J. Bowman

ASKED CONTINUANCE

Divorce And Other Business Disposed Of By Court

The first jury case set for the February term of the Clark Circuit court was called Wednesday morning by Judge James W. Fortune the case being that of the State of Indiana against Tony Edwards, negro, charged with assault and battery with intent to kill on Valla J. Bowman whom he cut on the evening of January 18 while delivering a load of coal. Continuance was asked by the defendant on account of absent witnesses and the case was passed until afternoon to permit the defense to make a showing.

Written [illegible] Christ.

All the books of the Old Testament were written long before the birth of Christ, some of them as much as 1,400 years before, others from 500 to 1,000 years before, and none less than 300 to 400 years before. The Gospels and other books of the New Testament were written from 33 to 60 or 70 years after the birth of Christ.

A WARNING

To feel tired after exertion is one thing; to feel tired before is another.

Don't say the latter is laziness—it isn't; but it's a sign that the system lacks vitality, is running dows, and needs the tonic effect of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

It's a warning, too —and sufferers should begin taking Hood's at once.

California's Weeping Trees.

California has but two species of native trees that are normally of weeping habit. One is Quercus lobata, the valley oak, having its most southerly range near Burbank. The other is Picea Breweriana, the weeping spruce, which is found in a few isolated mountainous sections in the northwestern corner of the state.

Make Your Liver Work

You know how it is when you start working in the garden, or playing golf, or taking any other violent exercise. Your muscles are "soft." Well, that same lack of exercise affects your liver, kidneys and digestive system. Makes you constipated. Your blood's in poor condition.

Mrs. M. E. Bailey, of West Nashville, Tenn., after suffering from intense cramps of the stomach, writes that her trouble completely disappeared after taking Vin Hepatica.

Indigestion and its train of troubles are common experiences, but Vin Hepatica, the universal system purifier, will restore bowels to proper activity. It does not gripe and is not a cathartic in any sense. It simply tones up the system, makes the digestive organs regular in action, and restores their efficiency.

We know this remedy, know what it's made of, and what it will do. Knowing these things, we recommend it to you.

rite of one going over the sea
o fight for Freedom's cause, o is offering his life for you and me,
For his country and its laws.

He was not a soldier by choice or

But a boy with many a tie,
Yet his country's call was a call for aid
And his answer was "Here

DAY-OLD SON SAVES DADDY

Soldier Overstays Leave When Heir Doesn't Arrive on Time and Is Arrested for Desertion.

Denver, Colo.—John Pershfield, Jr., aged one day, saved Private John Pershfield, Sr., of Company G, One Hundred and Fifty-seventh infantry, from being court-martialed on a charge of desertion from Uncle Sam's forces.

Private Pershfield secured a furlough from Camp Kearney, Linda Vista, Cal., where his company is training, to visit his home in Denver. When he failed to return to camp at the expiration of the leave, Col. Patrick Hamrock, commanding officer, wired Denver authorities to arrest Pershfield as a "deserter from the army."

The charge was changed to "absent without leave" when local authorities notified Hamrock that Pershfield, Jr., failed to arrive as soon as expected, so the soldier-daddy overstayed his leave waiting for Mr. Stork to put in an appearance.

The world calls every man that is ahead of his age a crank. There is no disgrace in it. It sometimes takes years, and even centuries for people to appreciate what's beyond their experience.

The Shawm.

A shawm was a wind instrument of the oboe class but with a wider bell. It is a very old type of musical instrument, as it is spoken of by the Psalmist. The Romans used it freely. There were treble shawms and bass shawms, and the name gradually gave way about the sixteenth century to "moboy" or "howboy," eventually evolving to "oboe."

About Constipation

Certain articles of diet tend to check movements of the bowels. The most common of thee are cheese, tea, and boiltd mik. On the other hand raw fruits, especially apples and bananas, also graham bread and whole wheat bread promote a movement of the bowels. When the bowels are badly constipated, however, the sure way is to take one or two of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper.

Ignored Body Evaporation.

In the early days of steam vessels a firing suit was invented. A thin metal or asbestos cover was lined with rubber. The wearer carried a small water tank on his back. By opening a small valve near his shoulder he could sprinkle his bare skin. The inventor scalded to death, notes a writer, trying to prove his point. The sad part of it was that he was on the wrong track entirely. The suit made body evaporation nearly impossible, and that is really what cools us.

If people past sixty years of age could be persuaded to go to bed as soon as they take cold and remain in bed for one or two days, they would recover much more quickly, especially if they take Chamberlain's Cough emedy. # POISON GAS NOW PURIFIES WATER

British Scientists Have Found a Way to Use Chlorine Product.

SAVES THOUSANDS OF LIVES

Water-Borne Disease Practically Banished From Western Front—Medical Corps Keeps Close Supervision Over Food Furnished Troops.

London.—Chlorine gas, which the Germans brought into the field of battle as a means of poisoning their opponents, is now largely used for purifying the water supply of the British army. That is one of the strange antitheses of this war. Socrates in prison, noting the pleasure which he had when the fetters were taken off his legs, speculated as to how pain and pleasure, though opposite, were so closely linked that the one seemed always to follow on the heels of the other. In the same way what is poisonous in one use is a means of wholesomeness in another, and divine providence turns even to good what wickedness designed for evil. The Germans rarely get a chance to kill anyone with chlorine gas now, but chlorine gas is daily in the British lines making water wholesome and safe.

Saves Thousands of Lives.

The effort to secure pure water for the British armies in the field makes one of the fine stories of the war. It has saved very many thousands of lives by practically banishing water-borne disease from our principal front. At the outset of the war the British Royal Army Medical Corps declared in its mind all water supplies to be suspect. They were held guilty of infection until they were proved to be innocent. A "fool proof" system of making unwholesome water safe by chlorination was designed. Then all that remained to be done was to provide the machinery and chemicals and to safeguard against carelessness. The first was a matter of supplies, the second of discipline. Both were equal to the demand made upon them, and on every front now the general rule is that the men are drinking safe water.

Chloride of lime was at first the standby for water purification. It is efficacious, but water chlorinated with it is not very nice. Now chlorine gas has taken its place at big water supply points. It is just as efficacious and it does not taste the water to the same extent. A simple test, in which a noncommissioned officer of every unit is trained, tells how much chlorination water will need to make it safe. If very heavy chlorination is needed, the water after treatment can be dechlorinated and is left pure. The unit's water cart with its trained sanitary orderly has all the means of making water wholesome. But the system is followed where possible of purifying a main supply and issuing from that. In case of small isolated bodies of men, means of water purification are provided in the shape of tablets of acid sulphate of soda. All the old troublesome water purifying schemes, such as candle-filters, which used to be constantly breaking down, have been scrapped. Water precaution now is simple as well as effective.

Food is as carefully looked after by the British Royal Army Medical Corps as water. Food has to be not only pure but appetizing and scientific. If the food is not pure it causes sickness. If it is not appetizing it causes discontent. If it is not scientific, has not its proper proportion of proteins and fats and carbohydrates, it does not keep up the strength of the fighting men.

Has Scientific Basis.

Probably Thomas Atkins has no suspicion that the very generous ration he enjoys has a scientific basis carefully calculated in calories; that there is a distinct change made in his summer and his winter ration, and that scientists look up isothermal tables and so on when he goes to a fighting area to decide what his food should be. But that is so. There are summer food scales. There is a ration for the French front and another for the Italian front and another for Salonica. Yet another for Mesopotamia and another for southwestern Africa. Some people are accustomed to talk as though the Germans had all the science and were the only people who took the food chemist into council. The truth is that the British have as much science but a good deal more humaneness, and part of the humaneness is to keep the scientific calculations in the background.

In regard to cooking, the Royal Army Medical Corps confess to an inferiority in British skill. As compared with the French, we are a nation of bad cooks. The most strenuous efforts are being made, and have been made for a long time, to raise the standard of army cooking. It is very much better now than at the start of the war, but it still will not stand well in comparison with the general French skill in combining economy with savory results. But the cooking is better and will yet be better; and when the British army come marching home it will have the knowledge to raise greatly the standard of domestic comfort in Great Britain. Thus again, pleasure will follow pain and the evils of war bring good in their train.

Whisky is rapidy disappearing. The last gallon will bring as high a price as a ton of coal.

Pennsylvania avenue in Washington is usually listed among the world's famous streets, but to the Washingtonian this avenue has not half the importance and attractiveness of F street, the recognized parade ground of the fashionable on sunny afternoons. F street in Washington is an institution like the monument, the government clerk and band concerts in the parks. It dates back far enough to tax the memory of Washington's few oldest inhabitants, but no records of its origin are filed in the city hall.

French Aviator Selected by War Department Officials to Come Here as Instructor.

Paris.—Adjutant Soulier of the French army, who shot down seven German airplanes in the shortest space of time of any aviator, has been selected by the undersecretary of aviation to go to the United States to demonstrate the newest and fastest flying machine in the world—the Morane monoplane.

Robert Morane of the Morane-Saulier works, who has created this development of his "parasol" type, originally intended to send as demonstrator Sublieutenant Jean Navarre, who was tied with Guynemer, each having 12 German machines to his credit, in the spring of 1916, when he was wounded, and who has since been declared insane, following his running down a number of policemen in his automobile last winter.

The French authorities have refused to permit Navarre to leave the country, on the ground that although he is generally regarded as rational now, he might exhibit further tendencies to insanity which might be embarrassing to the authorities in the United States because of his grade and decorations in the French army. Navarre has always been considered by experts as the aviator possessing the best technique in the service.

Soulier, who is only twenty years old, went to Flanders in May last with a crack French escadrille. He was fixing the newest model two-gun S. P. A. D. and by the end of June, when he was wounded, he had destroyed seven enemy machines. The Morane which he will demonstrate has been tried out by Raoul Givas Lufberry, the American "ace," who is highly pleased with its performance. It has shattered all speed and climbing records, but can only be driven by the most skilled pilots.

THE MANAGEMENT

Genuine Home Thirft means managing the home so well that none of the Father-energy it takes to earn money, or none of the Mother-energy it takes to spend it, is wasted by foolish purchases, extravagant housekeeping or niggardly economy.

In order to achieve these ends the housekeeper must learn how to take care of her savings, even the smallest ones, by business mehods, how to balance her household budget, how to pay her bills by checks, and how to manage her bank account to the best advantage.

Ohio Lady Tells How Black-Draught Liver Medicine Keeps Her Family in Good Health.

Hillsboro, Ohio—Mrs. Myrtle Jenkins, of this address, says: "I cannot say too much for the benefit me and my whole family have derived from the use of Black-Draught. It is our standby and as we often say 'our doctor bill saver.' If one of the children begin to complain of head or stomach ache or any of the signs that go with a torpid liver, or constipation, I give them a good dose of Black-Draught and they most always get alright.

I often feel out of sorts and get a bad taste in the mouth, then I take a good dose.

I at one time had a case of chronic constipation and was nervous and run down on account of it. Also had awful headaches. I would take pills and other medicines that would gripe me and then I would be more constipated than ever. This is how I first began the use of Black-Draught, first in full doses, then in small doses, and was cured.

My children get a cold and I have never found a better laxative. I cannot say too much for what Black-Draught has done for us."

TO THE PACIFIST

By BERT FINCK

How can we rest, when all the world is weeping
With sorrow it has never felt before,
How can we rest, when myriad hearts are breaking,
And friends triumphant never more than now!

How can we rest, with lust and murder raging,
Widows and orphans every hour made,
When bloody chaos clasps the hand of madness,
And ghoulish revelry invokes their aid.

How can we rest, when cruelty is reigning,
With Nero turning earth again to hell,
His empire changed from Roman into German,
Nero, the same old horid monster still.

How can we rest, when like the early martyrs,
Tortured by means, conceived of by the damned,
Humanity and freedom writhe and suffer,
At a frightful tyrant's merciless command.

BILLIONS INCREASE IN CROP VALUES

The value of farm products of the United States for the year 1917 reach the tremendous and unprecedented sum of $19,443,849,000, an increase of more than six billions over the values of 1916 and almost nine billions more than 1915

The Department of Agriculture has just issued a preliminary estimate for last year showing crop values of $13,510,453,000, representing 70 per cent of the value of all farm products for the year and $5,883,385,000, the value of animals and animal products of our farms.

By far the greatest and best customers of th efarmers of the country now are the United Statts and our associates in the war. The money used by all of these Governments in purchasing the products of American farms is raised by the sale of Liberty Bonds. Part is spent by the United States itself and part loaned to our associates. In lending to the United States, therefore the American farmer is simply enabling its best customers to purchase his products and receiving in return the best security in the world. Good business as well as patriotism urges the farmers of America to liberally support the financial undertakings of the Gevernment.

Capt. Pearson Says It Made Canadian Heroism In 1914 Possible

"This story is a plea to the folks back home to write to their soldiers wherever they may be and to keep on writing.

Without the mail from home the Canadian troops could never have endured the horror of the terrible winter of 1914-15, when though outnumbered and outarmed, they held at bay on their sector the Kaiser's trained troops and helped save World-Democracy.

From practically every man in close touch with the troops comes the appeal to do everything possible to get the folks back home to write. Thmey urge that the home-folk be asked to write now and to keep on writing, that they do not wait for an answer, but send letters regularly.

"WRITE TO THEM"

How Home Letters Hold The Front Line Trenches

New York, February 21

"Tell the women of America to write letters to their men at the front—and then more letters. It's home letters that hold the front line trenches."

This is the message brought back to America by Captain H. H. Pearson the first Canadian to go to France after war was decleared and the first to see service with Kitchener's army. Later he was wounded when a bomb struck the Young Men's Christian Association headquarters at Belgian Poperinghe, oaf which he was in charge. He has seen hundreds of men go over the top, and a lesser number come back again. He has been over the top and come back again. Both from experience and from observation he knows wha t it is that puts heart into soldiers when they stand near the edge of No Man's Land, with the shells bursting around them.

For two years Capt. Pearson, as a commissioned officer of the Canadian Army, has supervised the Young Men's Christian Association work along the entire Canadian front in France. He was wounded twice and "gassed" and has now been sent home by the Canadian Army to tell the folks back home of conditions "over there."

Write To Him And Do It Often

"Write to thef!" he urges. "If you have a relative or friend at the front, write to him and do it often. Letters from strangers don't count of course, but the others—no one can say how much they matter. Why do you suppose that the Young Men's Christian Association spends thousands of dollars every month for paper and ink? It isn't so much because we are thinking of the home folk; they must look out for themselves in time of war. We want those letters written so that the mothers and the sisters and the wives and the sweethearts back home may answer them as soon as possible. It's the answers we are interested in, because we know how those letters in the familiar hand-writing are going to help win the battle."

Americans will never see the most terrible part of the war, Captain Pearson declared.

"The most terrible part of the war was that first winter of it —the end of 1914 he beginning of 1915," he said. "During that first winter of the war when the enemy marched against us with machine guns and all the modern instruments of war-fare and we had no guns, no ammunition, nothing but sheer strength of will to go on it was really the letters from home that held the lines for us. We did it because the home folk expected us to do it, and said so in their letters.

"You may say that this is all sentiment. Well, this is a war of sentiment. It's sentiment that took us over there to fight and it is sentiment that is taking you Americans.

"Anyhow, soldiers are like that I've known some of them that haven't gotten a word from home in all the time they have been gone, more than three years now. It may have been because their women were slackers, and it may have been because their letters had gone astray. They were a very different lot as a rule, from the chaps who got letters from home regularly and they went in-o the fight with a different spirit."

Tell Him The News

What kind of letters should the home folk write to the soldier at the front? Literary quality isn't the thing most needful in them, of course. Perhaps the best of them all are the ones packed full of little homely details—accounts of the new neighbors across the street and of the words 'ale baby has earned to say and of how Jimmy is growing out of all his clothes and getting to look more

SALOON MEN ORGANIZE TO FIGHT LAW

Will Take United Steps To Maintain Rights Under Court's Ruling

IN PROHIBITION CASE

Officers Elected; Another Meeting To Be Held On Friday

At a meeting held Wednesday the saloon keepers of Jeffersonville and Clark county formed the Clark County Saloon Keepers Protective Association and elected temporary officers as follows: William F. Linck, president; Anthony C. Herfel, treasurer; Charles Schnatterer, secretary; Robert Schiller, Anthony C. Herfel and David Walkup, trustees.

The organization has been formed in view of the situation regarding the enforcement of the statewide prohibition law which goes into effect April 2 except so far as it may be prevented by legal decisions. The organization will have another meeting Friday and it is planned before that time to take legal advice so that the saloon men may know the exact present standing of the legal proceedings directed against the law, as to which there exists some degree of confusion. It is not exactly clear whether the finding of the Evansville court will be accepted as binding eesewhere and up to this time there is only a ruling on demurrer and no judgment in the suit at all. Ele Stansbury, attorney general desired the prosecutor of Vanderburg county, defendant in the suit, which was to enjoin him from enforcing the law, tao take a change of venue to another county in which event the attorney general would seek, he said, to be made a party and then would press the suit to a final judgment preferring to appeal on that rather than merely on a demurrer which might not result in an early final decision.

Some ten saloons have closed in Jeffersonville and Clark county during the past year and there are now about forty-five in existence, all but four of them in Jeffersonville township, including those in the city. The others are at Charlestown and Sellersburg. Should the saloons hree be compelled to cuose Apri 2 and the law later be held unconstitutional a smaller number would have the right to resume it is thought, because of the law limiting the number of saloons to one for every five hundred of the population.

One Pound Per Capita, Per Week, Rule Established By Administrator

CONDITION IS ACUTE

Substitutes Must Still Be Sold In Fifty-Fifty Proportion As Well

The purchase of flour is to be limited temporarily on account of a shortage of the commodity. The allowance is one pound per week per capita and that sold must be balanced by an equal quantity by weight of substitutes.

These instructions have been given by A. F. Helmkamp, federal food administrator for Clark county, to all the grocers and retail dealers upon receipt of the following telegram from Dr. H. E. Barnard federal food administrator for Indiana:

"Owing to the acute condition of the wheat situation, noteify immediately all retailers to restrict until further notice saie of flour to basis of one pound per week per capita and not more than five pounds in city and twelve and one-half pounds in country, still adhering to the fifty-fifty substitutes."

CHILDREN'S RED CROSS ORGANIZED

Junior Unit In Each Public School Will Get To Work

ACTIVITIES PLANNED

Practical Patriotism Will Be Learned By Pupils In School

Junior Red Cross units have been organized in all the public schools of Jeffersonville and they are ready to start work along the lines approved by the American Red Cross.

The work done will be made to fit into the school curriculum and the educational value of the work will not be lost sight of. The Red Cross work will not in a word, crowd out the regular school work but the latter will be directed, so far as possible, into lines of activity that shall serve the national cause. The children will thus not only get their regular school work but will have the satisfaction of knowing that they are actually helping their country to win the war and will be learning lessons of true patriotism in the ideal field of actual service.

The girls will sew and knit and the boys will work along various lines of activity. At the High School work will be done through the manual training department. Boxes will be made for packing and tables will be made for the Y. M. C. A. huts according to specifications which have been furnished the schools. Checker boards, trench candles, scrap books for the hospitals and other articles that will serve to cheer the soldier's lot or minister to him when sick will be made by the children. The Domestic Science Department has already made many articles of value for the hospital service.

It is planned to carry this line of work on after school is out and all the children who are willing will continue tao work with their Junior Red Cross units to aid the cause of their country to the best of their ability. It will be, in short, an opportunity for the children to "do their bit" and of their loyal and enthusiastic response to the opportunity no doubt need be entertained.

ORGANIZING CHILDREN

Washington's Birthday To Witness 22,000,000 Children Enrolled

The following Indianapolis dispatch tells something about he enrollment aof children in the Junior Red Cross in the state generally:

Headed by Horace Ellis, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, school officials and teachers throughout Indiana are employing this week in a great drive to enroll every pupil in Indiana as a member of the Junior Red Cross. This campaign in the State is a part of a national movement to enlist the patriotic activities of all school children, public, private and parochial in which a goal of 22,000,000 has been set by Washington's Birthday.

Many of the schools already have been active in this work and thousands of puipls have been enrolled. A meeting of supervising principals was held in Indianapolis Tuesday at which plans for the State campaign were drafted. Terre Haute has a splendid Junior Red Cross organization with 6,000 members and $1500 in the school fund.

Bloomington is one of the leaders in Red Cross work and in addition to enrolling in the Society the pupils have been rendering effective service in making various supplies for the Red Cross, French and Belgian orphans and in sending supplies to the soldiers. The work so far has included the cutting out of more than 300 pounds of cloth for making pillows and more than 500 blocks for quilts knitted from scraps of yarn. The sewing class as ertra work, had made hospital shirts, socks; pillow slips; tumbler covers; napkins and tray cloths. The high school girls' Y. W. C. A. gives an hour after school to sewing for the Red Cross.

The boys of Evansville are working for soldiers in cantonments making tent pegs and whatever else they can do. The grammar school, Madison has a paid membership of 100 per cent in the Junior Red Cross. The school recently gave a pageant, "The Drawing of the Sword" and obtained a fund nota only sufficient for the membership of the school but alsa enough to provide a surplus of $150 for the local Red Cross.

Every school child is eligible for membership in the Junior Red Cross and the dues are 25 cents. When the school becomes a School Auxiliary of the Junior Red Cross, each child becomes a member of the American Red Cross and the whole school collects and pays the dues. This money may be raised in any way which the School Chapter approves. If the dues are too much for the school to pay it may still become an Auxiliary if the boys and grils make a pledge satisfactory to the Chapter School Committee that they will earnestly do Red Cross work.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY

To Be Observed In Public Schools Here Friday.

Washington's Birthday and Lincoln's Birthday will be jointly observed Friday in the public schools of Jeffersonville, the latter anniversary not having been observed on February 12. There will be exercises in all the schools. At the departmental school there will be a somewhat ambitious program at the morning exercises Ata the High School a program will be given is the assembly room in the aftersoon. Each of the grade schools will have general exercises during the afternoon and earh room in the building will have its part in the exerrises.

In connection with the observance of Washington's Birthday there will be an exhibit at each school building of the pupils' work and parents and friends are invited to attend both the exercises and the exhibit of work in order that they may see the character and quality of work being done at the schools. Visitors are usually surprised at these exhibits at finding that many things are being attempted of which they had imagined little or nothing and the standard of excellence is freqdently a sdrprise to those who pay the schools a rare visit.

WILL REMONSTRATE AGAIN AGAINST ROAD

Preparations are being made to file a new remonstrance against the acceptance of the Kelly road in Clarksville, which was viewed by the members of the Board of County Commissioners a few days ago. John Graninger, the contractor, reported it completed The road is said to have been considerably damaged by heavy hauling for the quartermaster's depot.

Written [illegible] Christ.

All the books of the Old Testament were written long before the birth of Christ, some of them as much as 1,400 years before, others from 500 to 1,000 years before, and none less than 300 to 400 years before. The Gospels and other books of the New Testament were written from 33 to 60 or 70 years after the birth of Christ.

Determining Character.

We prepare ourselves for sudden deeds by the reiterated choice of good or evil which gradually determines character.—George Eliot.

LOSS OF APPETITE

A person that has lost appetite has lost something besides—vitality, vigor, tone.

The way to recover appetite and all that goes with it is to take Hood's Sarsaparilla—that strengthens the stomach, perfects digestion and makes eating a pleasure.

Thousands take it for spring loss of appetite and everybody says there's nothing else so good as Hood's.

Red Cross Civilian Relief Workers Are Taught to Furnish Aid in Systematic Fashion.

[EDITOR'S NOTE:—This is the fourth of a series of five articles prepared by Mr. Fieser on the subject of Red Cross Home Service. The remaining article is "Organizing and Training 30,000 Home Service Committeemen."]

By James L. Fieser,

Director, Bureau Civilian Relief, Lake Division, American Red Cross.

American Red Cross Home Service workers in Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky, already administering to families of some 1,500 enlisted men, carry on their work with a "catechism" which includes what may be termed "eleven commandments." As these "commandments" typify the spirit in which this type of Red Cross relief is given, I am stating them here, leaving the reader to draw his own conclusions.

1. Don't overwhelm people with questions before they have a chance to say what they want to say.

2. Don't suggest to them the answers they should make.

3. Don't forget that their hopes and plans are more important than any single fact that the Home Service worker wants in order to make complete a report or record.

4. Don't encourage the children to talk about things that concern their elders—about family difficulties and so on.

5. Don't let the children come to the office with messages and requests except when there is a real emergency and no older person can possibly come.

6. Don't discuss the affairs of a family, nor tell the facts that come to your attention in the course of Home Service work to any outsider.

7. Don't give confidential information about the family when making inquiries.

8. Don't make inquiries of the present neighbors or do anything that will expose the family to gossip. Protect the family in question as you would your own family from anything that would help their self-respect.

9. Don't venture to make permanent plans on a first visit.

10. Don't fail to discover whether there is immediate and urgent need of relief and to make some temporary provision for supplying it before waiting to make further inquiries.

11. Don't fail, however, to inquire (before paying the first visit if possible) what other agencies are interested.

True, the "do's" taught Home Service workers in Red Cross Home Service Institutes, far outnumber the "don'ts," and one or two should be mentioned to further exemplify the spirit of the service and the manner in which it is given.

One is: "Be sure that there is a definite invitation from the family or some responsible person competent to speak for them before entering the home in the name of the American Red Cross."

Another: "Be sure that the member of the family in question is in some branch of the service."

Casual reading of these instructions may lead to the impression that Home Service is a simple bit of work to be done in the odd moments of the members of a chapter committee. It is not a simple work, nor is it an "odd moment" task.

In addition to mastering a knowledge of government regulations on separation allowances and the War Risk Insurance Law, a Red Cross Home Service worker must either be naturally endowed with or be able to acquire the qualities of tact, patience and kindness, and must study the problems which beset home life.

With all its ramifications, Red Cross Home Service is the most exacting type of work now required by this humanitarian institution within the boundaries of our own country. Its requirements for immediate and authentic information of the broadest scope are such that a 116 page handbook of information for Home Service workers is now being prepared by the Director General of Civilian Relief for early distribution.

SO MUCH PAINSTAKING CARE HAS BEEN AND IS BEING TAKEN IN THE ORGANIZATION OF THIS WORK THAT ENLISTED MEN FROM OHIO, INDIANA AND KENTUCKY SHOULD KNOW THAT THIS ARM OF THE AMERICAN RED CROSS IS STRONG ENOUGH TO MAKE THEIR FAMILIES' CARES EASIER AND TO EXTEND A KIND, YET UNPATRONIZING, HELPING HAND. SUCH FAMILIES SHOULD WITHOUT HESITANCY COMMUNICATE WITH THEIR RED CROSS HOME SERVICE COMMITTEE WHEN TROUBLED IN ANY WAY.

Live Right.

Right living and the right kind of work have changed many a stunted boy into a well-developed man, asserts an educator. Spiritual growth is not greatly aided by sitting down and thinking about it. Live in the sunshine of trust. Rely on a strength higher than your own. Reach out helpfully to others and growth in the divine life will look after itself.

Make [illegible]
Liver Wo

You know how it is when you start [illegible]ing in the garden, or playing golf, or [illegible]ing any other violent exercise. Your muscles are "soft." Well, that same lack of exercise affects your liver, kidneys and digestive system. Makes you constipated. Your blood's in poor condition.

Mrs. M. E. Bailey, of West Nashville, Tenn., after suffering from intense cramps of the stomach, writes that her trouble completely disappeared after taking Vin Hepatica.

Indigestion and its train of troubles are common experiences, but Vin Hepatica, the universal system purifier, will restore bowels to proper activity. It does not gripe and is not a cathartic in any sense. It simply tones up the system, makes the digestive organs regular in action, and restores their efficiency.

We know this remedy, know what it's made of, and what it will do. Knowing these things, we recommend it to you.

TO UNCLE SAM'S BOYS

By C. W. GAUSE

If Monday tempts a shirker's lag
Hold your nerve, salute your flag
For Old Glory's sake.

If Tuesday's drill should tax your wit,
Go to it with might and grit
For Old Glory's sake.

If Wednesday's work increases the strain,
Grace your back, forget the pain
For Old Glary's sake.

If Thursdey's trial should mean more muscle,
Head up high, resolve to hustle
For Old Glory's sake.

If Friday's routine breaks the spell,
Forget the past and train like h—l
For Old Glory's sake.

As Saturday ends your week's career,
Hurrah together, a rousing cheer
For Old Glory's sake.

If Sunday be your day for rest,
Write the one you love the best
For Old Glory's sake.

About Constipation

Certain articles of diet tend to check movements of the bowels. The most common of thee are cheese, tea and boiltd mik. On the other hand raw fruits, especially apples and bananas, also graham bread and whole wheat bread promote a movement of the bowels. When the bowels are badly constipated, however, the sure way is to take one or two of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper.

The Shawm.

A shawm was a wind instrument of the oboe class but with a wider bell. It is a very old type of musical instrument, as it is spoken of by the Psalmist. The Romans used it freely. There were treble shawms and bass shawms, and the name gradually gave way about the sixteenth century to "hoboy" or "howboy," eventually evolving to "oboe."

The descriptions are so clear, plain and simpe, that anyone can name their aiment by reading Dr. Humphreys' Manual, a compact little Medical Volume that fits the side pocket, mailed free on request, address; Humphreys' Homeopathic Medicine Co., 156 William St., New York.

Ignored Body Evaporation.

In the early days of steam vessels a firing suit was invented. A thin metal or asbestos cover was lined with rubber. The wearer carried a small water tank on his back. By opening a small valve near his shoulder he could sprinkle his bare skin. The inventor scalded to death, notes a writer, trying to prove his point. The sad part of it was that he was on the wrong track entirely. The suit made body evaporation nearly impossible, and that is real- [illegible]

Being Ahead of the Times.

The world calls every man that is ahead of his age a crank. There is no disgrace in it. It may be a little hard not to be understood and appreciated when you know you have what the world needs, notes an exchange. But remember, that's the way with the world. It sometimes takes years, and even centuries for people to appreciate what's beyond their experience.

The Capital's Fifth Avenue.

Pennsylvania avenue in Washington is usually listed among the world's famous streets, but to the Washingtonian this avenue has not half the importance and attractiveness of F street, the recognized parade ground of the fashionable on sunny afternoons. F street in Washington is an institution like the monument, the government clerk and band concerts in the parks. It dates back far enough to tax the memory of Washington's few oldest inhabitants, but no records of its origin are filed in the city hall.

Paraguayans Mistaken.

Paraguay has been fortunate in that she has produced some exceedingly strong men. But very unfortunate in that these men have too often been mistaken, selfish and grasping. One of the leading Paraguayans of today has said that Paraguay has had no history, but, instead, a series of tragedies.

Despise the Savoyards.

Even to the present day the Genevese hate and despise the Savoyards, their hereditary enemies, calling the contemptuous attention of the stranger to the fact that these neighbors of theirs are unthrifty and still make their women work in the fields as they did in former days. Fifteen minutes' ride in a motorcar will carry one from Geneva into Savoy.

Many Rats Destroyed.

A club in Kent, England, destroyed 16,000 rats in three seasons at an insignificant cost. Women's municipal leagues in the United States have recently taken up the matter of rat eradication, notably in Baltimore and Boston.

There is no use regretting the past. As things now stand 1918 is the best year for ending the war that could possibly be selected.

A Hint To The Aged

If people past sixty years of age could be persuaded to go to bed as soon as they take cold and remain in bed for one or two days, they would recover much more quickly, especially if they take Chamberlain's Cough emedy. There would also be less danger of the cold being followed by any of the more serious diseases.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Catarrh being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers of Hall's Catarrh Medicine that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

THE MANAGEMENT

Genuine Home Thirft means managing the home so well that none of the Father-energy it takes to earn money, or none of the Mother-energy it takes to spend it, is wasted by foolish purchases, extravagant housekeeping or niggardly economy.

In order to achieve these ends the housekeeper must learn how to take care of her savings, even the smallest ones, by business mehods, how to balance her household budget, how to pay her bills by checks, and how to manage her bank account to the best advantage.

HOW LETTERS

like his daddy ever day —and if he just grows up to be half so good a man it will be all right. These are the letters that are oftenest re-read by the soldier before he goes over the top; just commonplace letters that tell of everyday happenings back home, and of the love and the trust that are in keeping for him there.

Certain oather types of letter ought never to be sent to the men at the front. One is that written by the selfish or thoughtless woman whose closely written pages are blurred with her tears and taken up with her own sorrow in having her soldier so far from home and her plea for him to come back at once since everything is going wrong without him One of the Young Men's Christian Association secretaries in France tells of a promising young chap who came back from leave with every appearance of having been drinking heavily.

"You see," the young soldier told the Young Men's Christian Association man, "I got a letter from my mother and she was so worried about my going wrong over here and so sure that I had inherited alcoholic tendencies from my father, that I got desperately blue and went on a spree to forget all about it."

PHYSICAL EXAMINATION OF DRAFEES

Work Will Be Completed On Monday; Further List Of Classifications

STATUS OF DOCTORS

Physicians Received Average Of $1.50 A Day For First Draft

On account of some misunderstanding among the public as to the standing of the physicians who are assisting in carrying out the provisions of the selective draft law, Dr. F. M. Wells, who is one of their number locally made a statement to the following effect:

The Medical Advisory Board consists of the following physicians—Dr. Austin Funk, Dr. F. M. Wells, Dr. I. N. Ruddell Dr. J. M. Meloy of Sellersburg and the following dentists —Dr. H. K. Smith, Dr. F. W. Davis.

These men were appointed by the president of the United States upon recommendation of the American Medical Association and serve as such without pay.

The members of the Medical Examining Board are: Dr. D. L. Field, Dr. I. N. Ruddell, Dr. F. M. Wells; Dr. J. M. Meloy.

These four physicians examined the first draft, called out last summer, for an average compensation of $1.50 a day.

Under present regulations all registrants who are in any way doubtful regarding their ability for active service must be referred to the Medical Advisory Board After a re-examination of the registrant and after consultation among the members of the Advisory Board the latter decides whether the registrant is fit for active service and if they should decide to the contrary the further question is considered whether he is capable of some special or expert service or whether he is totally disabled.

Examination Near End

The physical examination of registrants in Class 1-A will be practically completed Monday. Nearly six hundred men will have been examined by the physicians. Shortly thereafter these will have been classified as physically qualified, qualified for limited service or disqualified. A number of cases are also before the District Appeal Board on the question of classification.

The Clark County Exemption Board on Thursday notified thirty nine Class one registrants that they had been passed as physically fit for military service, seven that they had been registered as qualified for limited service and two that they had been disqualified. Those qualified are:

GAP MUST BE FILLED BY YOUTHS

Boys' Working Reserve Will Take Places Of Men Called To Service

BEGIN DRIVE MARCH 18

Youths Of Same Age In Europe Called To Colors; Need Imperative

What we wanut is the boys — our sturdy youths from 16 years and upwards. This explains the situation as it exists today.

The United States Food Administration publishes this cablegram from Lord Rhondda:

"Unless you are able t osend the Allies at least seventy-five million bushels of wheat over and above what you have exported up to January 1, and in addition to the total exportable surplus from Canada, I can not take the responsibility of assuring our people that there will be food enough to win the war."

To this cable the Food Administration replies:

"We will export every grain of wheat that the American people save from their normal consumption. We believe our people will not fail to meet the emergency."

Secretary of War Baker assured the Senate committee last week that the year 1918 will place an additional million and a half of American soldiers upon the battlefields of Europe.

President Wilson, addressing the farmers of the country recently, pointed out the necessity for a greatly increased food supply. If this food is to be produced to win the war there must be men to plant and to harvest the crops that produce it. This year will see approximately ten million men with-drawn from the usual avenue of occupation and diverted to the Army and Navy, to munition plants and to other industries that bear directly upon the war.

The largest single hitherto untapped available labor source is the two million boys of 16 years of age and over who are in the schools, or who are engaged in unessential occupations.

The United States Boys' Working Reserve is attempting to mobilize these two million boys to take the places in farm and shop now being vacated by men. National Enrollment Week begins Monday, March 18, when the completion of the enrollment of these boys must be accomplished.

It may be pointed out that in England boys of 19 are on the firing line and boys of 18 are in training while in stricken France they are being called upon even younger. Our foe also is using boys of 17 as cannon-fodder; let us use them as life producers.

Col. W. H. Hart Leaves For Washington; May Go To France

POWERS IS ADVANCED

New Chief Here Since December; Was Major When War Started

Col. Robert B. Powers, who was advanced to that rank from lieutenant colonel tahis week, is now in charge at the Jeffersonville supply depot of the Quartermaster's Corps. Whether he will be permanently appointed is not known here.

Col. William H. Hart, who arrived here January 8 to succeed Col. W. S. Wood when the latter was called to Washington, has departed also for that city and may g ofrom there to France it is believed. Col. Powers was second in command to Col. Wood. When Col. Wood returned from Washington ten days ago as supervisor of all the quartermaster's depots in the country and witah special direct relationship to the Jeffersonville depot, he stated that Col. Hart would shortly be transferred.

A year ago Col. Powers held the rank of Major in the Quartermaster's Corps of the United States Army. He is a native of Kentucky and a son of Col. Joshua D. Powers, president of the Commonwealth Life Insurance Company. He with his wife will continue to occupy the residence vacated by Col. Wood at 117 East Front street. Col. Powers was graduated from West Point Military Academy in 1896 and became attached to the 10th United States Cavalry. He served in the Philippines and in Cuba during the Spanish-American War. At the time of the outbreak in Mexico he was sent to the border and was made Division Depot Quartermaster. Later he established the depot at Atlanta, Ga., and came from there to Jeffersonville in December 1917.

He has been in the institution nearly fourteen years and escaped once before, the attendant said, but is regarded as entirely harmless.

MADE FINE RECORD AS MARKSMEN

Old Second Indiana Wiped Out All Previous Records At Range

NOT THROUGH YET

Beat Second Kentucky, Previous Best, 132 To 120 Qualified Men

A special from Camp Shelby, Miss., to the Indianapolis News tells of the marksmanship of the regiment stationed at Jeffersonville:

The One Hundred and Fifty-second Infantry the old Second Indiana returned from rifle range to their quarters in camp bringing with them the record of the range. Up to the beginning of the shooting in the rapid fire test, the regiment had qualified 132 men. The previous high mark of qualified men made by any regiment on the range was 120 men, which was the record established by the One Hundred and Forty-ninth Infantry, the old Second Kentucky. Not only has the One Hundred and Fifty-second qualified more men to date but the percentages in shooting have been higher than in any other outfit that has engaged in the tests.

Before the official record of the regiment can be announced there remain several scores of men yet to shoot at the range. The final official figures will be even higher than the unofficial ones at hand now. The shooting of the entire regiment will not be completed until next week, as several squads will be left at the range to complete their work in the rapid fire test.

The record of the One Hundred and Fifty-second is considered remarkable by the officers who have charge of the marksmanship department at camp. The boys went to the range during the worst weather of the winter and during the first two weeks were battered by cold wind, sleet an drain. After leaving their comfortable walled and floored tents at camp and pitching them on the wet ground at the range it was feared that many of the soldiers would contract colds and pneumonia, but the result has been just the opposite. The health of the regiment since being at the range has been as good if not better than at any time since it came to camp and but few men have been listed for sickness since leaving camp January 21. The boys took the trip in a soldier-like manner and settled down to work with the result that they returned as the marksmen champions of the camp to date.

HAD RELATIVES IN JEFFERSONVILLLE

Mrs. Mary Slaughterback, wife of William T. Slaughterback, died at her home at Milltown, Ind. where the funeral will be held Saturday afternoon. She is survived by a son and four daughters. One of the latter is Mrs. Laura Morton of this city and another is Mrs. Howerton, wife of the Rev. W. H. Howerton, pastor of the Main street M. E. church in New Albany.

The body of Charles M. McCarty who died age 58 at Baxter Springs, Kas., was brought to New Albany his former home and funeral services were held Friday morning. Mrs. Georgia Hutt of this city is one of his three daughters and there are also two sons.

ADVANCE IN RATES FOR GAS

Petition Filed With Public Service Commission For Surcharge

PRICE WOULD BE $1.25

Hearing Set Later; Bond Issue Petition Will Be Heard Monday

The United Gas and Electric Company has filed with the Public Service Commission of Indiana a petition for an increase of gas rates by twenty-five per cent. The present rate is $1.10 per thousand cubic feet from which there is a ten cent discount for cash payment. If the increase should be granted the net rate will be $1.25 per thousand feet.

The petition also asks authority o charge a minimum monthly rate of fifty cents, without regard to whether any gas shall have ben used during the month.

The petition assigns as reasons an increase in the cost of coal amounting to not less, it is stated than 75 per cent during the past year; an increase in all other operating expenses; a result that the plant cannot be operated so as to yield a reasonable return.

The twenty-five per cent increase asked is requested in the form of a surcharge upon existing rates, to be permitted presumably for a limited time during which abnormal conditions shall prevail.

The Commission will later set a time for hearing the petition.

Hearing On Bond Issue

The Public Service Commission hasset for hearing next Monday at 10 a. m. at Indianapolis the petition of the United Gas and Electric Company for authority to issue $300,000 six per cent bonds. The hearing on this petition was previously postponed.

Cross-River Service

The Big Four bridge and railroad companies have notified the Public Service Commission that the traction companies will be given the right of way on the bridge during rush hours, from 6 to 8 a. m. and from 4 to 6 p. m., during which hours no freight trains will use the bridge. The company will run a train to accommodate communters if such should prove to be necesary, it is further stated.

SIX MONTHS AND FINE FOR EDWARDS

Jury Returns Verdict At Noon In Assault And Battery Case

A NEW TRELOAR SUIT

Litigant Seeks Return Of Proceeds Of Execution Sale Of Goods

The jury that tried Tony Edwards, colored, on a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill on Valla J. Bowman, returned a verdict just before noon Friday finding him guilty as charged and fixing the penalty at a fine of $50 and six months imprisonment in the county jail. The evidence was concluded Friday morning, arguments were made for the state by Claude McBride, prosecuting attorney, and the defense waived its right to address the jury, shutting off the proceeding at that point. The jury was out a little over an hour.

Sequel To Old itigation

Henry Treloar filed suit against Ernest E. Jacobs as clrek of the Clark Circuit court, for possession of $434.50 in custody of the defendant. The suit is a sequel to suit brought against Treloar by James Harris who on March 20, 1915, recovered judgment for 650 for alleged malicious prosecution. This judgment, it is set forth was reversed December 4, 1917 by the Appellate Court upon appeal but meantime Harris had an execution issued upon which certain property of Treloar's was seized by the sheriff and sold at public auction, the proceeds, later turned over to the clerk, being the subject of the present suit.

Several Cases ettled

The suit of John W. Polly against the Louisville & Southern Indiana Traction Company, damages for personal injuries sustained while boarding a car in Jeffersonville, was dismissed at cost of defendant, indicating a settlement.

The court approved a settlement reported of the case of M. E. Clegg, administrator of the estate of James W. Harris, against the Pittsburg, Cincinnati Chicago & St. Louis Railway Company suit for damages on account of the death of Harris who was killed by a train September 16, 1917 at the railroad crossing on Ekin avenue where the body was found by soldiers.

In the suit on account of John Gienger & Co., the Enterprise Mercantile ompany, judgment was confessed by the latter for $279.83, which was the amount sued for upon agreement of the parties of the balance due on a running account.

TRAINS 30,000 HOME SERVICE COMMITTEEMEN

Red Cross With Institutes, Handbook and Bulletins, Teaches Civilian Relief Forces How to Aid Folks "Back Home."

[EDITOR'S NOTE:—This is the fifth and last of a series of five articles written by Mr. Fieser on American Red Cross Home Service work in Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky.]

By James L. Fieser,
Director, Civilian Relief, Lake Division, American Red Cross.

Organizing and training 30,000 Home Service committeemen to aid families of enlisted men is the most stupendous and pretentious task being undertaken by the American Red Cross within our own borders.

This statement is made without fear of contradiction.

Even were there established social agencies in every community from which men have been drawn for active service, this Red Cross duty would be hardly less difficult, because with the war have come new problems which must be solved, and efficiently too, if the good name of the Red Cross is to be held aloft and the minds of our fighting folk set at ease about the welfare of their loved ones "back home."

To school willing Home Service workers with no previous social training as well as keep professional community workers abreast with new developments, the Red Cross war council established in the Lake division Home Service institutes at Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Columbus and Cleveland, each identified with a strong university and each affiliated with healthy social agencies.

Thirty-five counties were represented by fifty-six students at the first series of institutes, each institute lasting six weeks. A second series has just opened. In addition, chapter courses of information are to be established in cities of 25,000 population and over.

There is no guess work about Red Cross Home Service.

Workers are being trained to help citizens gain all sorts of information. If a family has not heard from a son in the service, if the allotment and allowance check is delayed or wrong in amount, if a boy is reported missing, if any one of hundreds of possibilities occur, the Home Service worker must be alert to his or her responsibilities.

To show that there are "hundreds of possibilities" for this service, the American Red Cross has prepared for its committeemen a handbook containing correct answers to 260 questions which these committeemen have already been asked.

Forty-nine answers to questions on army and navy service, running from the composition of the fighting forces to explaining what must be done to assist the family of a man who has entered the service under an assumed name, are given in this handbook.

Eighty-six points on the soldier's and sailor's allowance compensation and war risk insurance are explained. The latter in itself is so large a task that a Home Service worker, anticipating a "soft snap" might be driven to cover if there were no handbook or institute course to lessen his perplexity. It is down in black and white how the insurance is written and for whom, how premiums are paid and by whom. Six points of information are provided to cover insurance for crews of merchant vessels and transports.

American Red Cross Home Service for families of enlisted men fighting for our allies causes twenty-nine questions to be answered in the handbook.

All this is supplemented by eighty-nine statements giving information on the status of families of discharged men, deserters, and alien enemy families and explaining relationship of the Red Cross to other relief societies and the operation of the Red Cross bureaus of camp service and communication.

Despite the fact that this handbook has just been issued, new and puzzling questions are arising with such rapidity that the bureau of civilian relief of the Lake division, is planning an informational service to keep its Home Service workers in 350 chapters in step with the fast-moving procession.

War (regardless of the Tuscania calamity and a few scattering casualties)—war and Red Cross Home Service are [illegible] in their [illegible], but already some 3,000 families of Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky enlisted and selective service men are under the care of Red Cross Home Service workers.

Picture the immensity of the task when the "American offensive" begins.

Red Cross Home Service will be ready. It is democracy's brotherhood in action.

A Good Wife.

Once upon a time there was a farmer whose wife daily pumped the household supply of water up to a tank on the roof, says The Little Journal. After 20 years he installed an electric motor to do this for her. Careful calculation brought out the fact that the wife had been working that pump handle 3,650 hours at a value of half a cent per hour. She had saved him $18.75 in 20 years. What was it the preacher said about her worth being above rubies?

Cause of Cold Feet.

Cold feet may be habitual, constitutional or from general ill health, commonly they are so by habit. Tight shoes, a sedentary life and overeating are often guilty, asserts an authority. When there is too little ventilation of the feet or the stockings are too thick the relief isn't easy. The feet are kept warm better by wearing thin hose and low shoes, cold baths and vigorous massage, active exercise outdoors—especially walking—than by inactive indoor life. Frequent daily washing of the feet helps to restore their warmth.

Paraguayans Mistaken.

Paraguay has been fortunate in that she has produced some exceedingly strong men. But very unfortunate in that these men have too often been mistaken, selfish and grasping. One of the leading Paraguayans of today has said that Paraguay has had no history, but, instead, a series of tragedies.

About Constipation

Certain articles of diet tend to check movements of the bowels. The most common of thee are cheese, tea, and bolltd mik. On the other hand raw fruits, especially apples and bananas, also graham bread and whole wheat bread promote a movement of the bowels. When the bowels are badly constipated, however, the sure way is to take one or two of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper.

Time for Discretion.

Translated Into English.

All books of the Old Testament apocrypha, 14 in number, have been translated into English, and are included as apochryphal books in some editions of the Bible. They were formerly printed under a distinctive heading between the Old and the New Testaments, and in that form can still be found in many old family Bibles. They are always included in the so-called Septuagint, a version of the Bible used by the Greek church.

"Turn a Deaf Ear."

To be able to hear well is a great blessing, but one should be able to "turn a deaf ear" to what is unwise or unfit to hear. If the angry words that stir up strife, or the harsh, critical words that hurt one's feelings, or defame another, never found listeners, how much less pain and trouble the world would know. Learn to use the "hearing ear" and the "deaf ear" upon the right occasions.—Exchange.

Goats Are Cute.

Many of the people in this country may believe that the goat is anything but a lovable animal, relates an exchange. In reality there is no more lovable and gentle creature alive than "Mr. and Mrs. Chin Whiskers." Visit a goat ranch and learn to welcome the playful thrust of the cold little nose into the palm of your hand, or into your pocket, where a few of the more daring expect some hidden goodies are to be found. The awkward and playful antics of the little goatlet should win the heart of the most critical.

Foundation for Success.

Constant cheerfulness and singleness of purpose, holding ever in mind the goal to be attained, will carry farther on the road to success than any other method however strenuous, declares an educator. Purification of self, consideration for others, increasing effort and no backward turning—these are the fundamentals of success.

Many Bad People.

It is said that each year 500,000 persons are committed to some jail or reformatory. In 1910 the total number of prisoners and juvenile delinquents in the United States was 166,472. Ten times as many males as female are imprisoned.

A Hint To The Aged

If people past sixty years of age could be persuaded to go to bed as soon as they take cold and remain in bed for one or two days, they would recover much more quickly, especially if they take Chamberlain's Cough emedy. There would also be less danger of the cold being followed by any of the more serious diseases.

MINSTREL BY OFFICERS NETTED RED CROSS $362.62

The committee of the Floyd County Red Cross Chapter which had in charge the minstrels given at New Albany by the Officers' Corps of the quartermaster's depot at Jeffersonville, made its report to Walter B. Creed, president of the chapter showing that the net proceeds from the two performances amounted to $362.62.

SOUNDED A BIT PERSONAL

"I wish that our pastor wasn't obliged to preach to such a small congregation," said the deacon of a church in Richmond, Virginia.

"So do I," said a frivolous young widow in the group.

"Every time he said 'Dearly beloved' this morning I felt as though I had received a proposal."

THE MANAGEMENT

Genuine Home Thirft means managing the home so well that none of the Father-energy it takes to earn money, or none of the Mother-energy it takes to spend it, is wasted by foolish purchases, extravagant housekeeping or niggardly economy.

In order to achieve these ends the housekeeper must learn how to take care of her savings, even the smallest ones, by business mehods, how to balance her household budget, how to pay her bills by checks, and how to manage her bank account to the best advantage.

An African Belle.

In Africa a crop of the blackest curliest, closest hair imaginable makes a girl the belle of the kraal, especially if she be plump, with piggy eyes, thick lips, a nose like an India-rubber shoe and a skin that shines like a cooking stove.

New Kind of Grape Honey.

The "honey of grapes" prepared by the special process of Professor Monti, an Italian experimenter, is a grape sugar particularly recommended for preserved fruits, marmalades, and flavoring syrups. The juice is pressed from the grapes with care to avoid fermentation, is next frozen in a rotating cylinder with removal of the ice crystals, and is further concentrated to syrup of grapes by heating under low pressure. For honey of grapes the concentration is continued until crystals are found.

TWO APPLY FOR NATURALIZATION

Italian And German Request First Papers In Clark County

Salvatoro Aprile, age 26, an Italian, conducting a fruit store at 446 Spring street, Jeffersonville and Alois Bastian, age 71; a native of Germany, now a gardener residing near Charlestown, applied in the office of Ernest E. Jacobs, clerk of the Clark Circuit court for their first naturalization papers.

The Italian was born at Alcamo Italy, February 28, 1891 and landed at New York in April 1910. He said if he had to fight he would prefer to do it for his adopted country. He is in the draft but having a wife and child was not placed in class one.

Bastian was born at Baden, Germany, June 24, 1846; arrived in New York September 10, 1865 and believes he took out his first papers thirty years ago but cannot find them.

SUCCESSOR TO H. E. NEWCOMET

Taber Hamilton Becomes Superintendent Louisville Division

Taber Hamilton has become superintendent of the Louisville division of the Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis railway, succeeding H. E. ewcomet who has been promoted to the Logansport division. Mr. Hamilton who is about 45 years old, comes from the Peoria division of the Vandalia Line, his transfer being a promotion. An inspection of the local terminals was made Wednesday by Supt. Hamilton and he went over everything closely. He has taken the home vacated by Mr. Newcomet, 916 Cherokee road, Louisville.

ALL GOING THE SAME WAY

The college youth had just come out to the farm to work through the summer vacation. At the first meal he was seated opposite the regular hired man. The latter was speedily disposing of a plateful of baked beans by means of his versatile knife blade, whereas the college lad managed very well with his fork. Suddenly the hired man looktd up and exclaimed with an ill-disguised sneer: "Wal, I don't see's it makes much difference whether ye shovel or pitch!"

Divorce Court Proceedings

Mrs. Lelia Weddle, of Jeffersonville, filed suit against Daniel C. Weddle, a non-resident of the state for divorce alleging abandonment. The couple were married August 3, 1911 and separated the following month. Mrs. Weddle was at that time Mrs. Lelia Hendricks, having been divorced September 25, 1907 from a former husband. She is a daughter of W. H. Newkirk of Dayton, Ohio formerly of this city.

On motion of the plaintiff the divorce proceeding of Jerry M. Garnett against Lucretia Garnett was reinstated on the trial docket. It was filed August 6, 1913, and was dismissed for want of prosecution September 14, 1915.

A plea in abatement was filed by the defendant in the divorce proceeding of Mary Vest, of Sellersburg, against James Vest, on the ground that the affidavit of the plaintiff, sworn to before a justice of the peace in LaSalle county, Ill., had not been properly attested or certified.

BIGAMY CASE REASSIGNED

State Expects To Have Both Alleged Wives Present At Trial

The bigamy trial of William Harris of Louisville which was continued from Wednesday to Thursday in city court, will be reassigned for a later date when the State expects to have present both the legal wife of the defendant and the alleged second wife who as Miss Dovie Salmon was married in Jeffersonville September 15, 1917 to a man who gave his name as Robert Harris. This is asserted by the State to be the same man as the defendant but the latter denies the identity and says he droes not know the woman in question. Claude McBride, prosecuting attorney said Thursday that he expected to have both these women present at the trial and that he had other evidence to substantiate the case. Mrs. Harris has viсited her husband since he was arrested at her instance and she is said now to be disinclined to proceed with the prosecution.

MRS. AMY ANDERSON DIED AT NEW PHILADELPHIA

Mrs. Amy Anderson, granddaughter of the late Sylvester Morgan and daughter of Mrs. Wilbur of Sellersburg died at her home at New Philadelphia Wednesday. She has many relatives in Jeffersonville. Besides her husband Lew Anderson, she is survived by several step children. She also leaves two sisters Mrs. Charles Reed of Sellersburg and Mrs. Cora Wilson of Dayton Ohio. The funeral will be held at New Philadelphia Friday.

THINGS WE MUST HAVE

We must raise a big wheat crop, a big corn crop, a big cotton crop, and an immense number of hogs. These are the four great primary crops and all require a vast amount of labor in their production. Of course we must have mutton and wool, beef and hides, dairy cattle and dairy products; but during the war they must take a secondary place so far as feeding the world is concerned. There is no agricultural product that is not important; but the big field crops are the most important and we must be careful to see that they are kept up to a high standard of production.

From now on American agriculture and American agriculturists will find conditions more favorable. They are no longer the butts of ridicule they were a few years ago. They are recognized as business men equal to men in other callings Some day, and that day is not far distant, they will assume just as high a social position as the farmers of any other country. In European countries the men who own the land have always been considered among the gentry. It was only in this country where land could be had for the taking, that farmers have ever been looked down upon as beings of an inferior order. And the reason was that land was free.

RECORDS OF BIRTHS ARE MISSING

Years 1896 To 1899 Are Not Among Books Dating From 1882

YEARS MUCH NEEDED

Selective Draft Cause Of Many Inquiries For Certificates

While Jeffersonville has had a record of births and deaths for more than thirty-five years incidents are constantly occurring to show how inaccurate some of the old records are and to illustrate the necesity of complete and accurate records. The birth records for the years 1896-99 are entirely missing but how long ago they disappeared is not known. They happen to cover, at this time the years concerning which most inquiries are being made.

The birth records for these years has been in much demand, according to Dr. J. H. Baldwin, city health officer, who said Friday that he had had numerous calls for birth certificates which he had been unable to give. These records were not among those which were turned over to him last month by Dr. O. P. Graham his predecessor in that office, who informed Dr. Baldwin at the time that a number of records were missing.

It is on account of the draft that the records for these years have been especially needed. Three requests for certificates were received Friday through William B. Thornley, city clerk many of those received coming from distant cities from young men who were near twenty-one at the time the draft law became effective. Other similar calls are received daily. The records exist in Jeffersonville from about 1882 to the present time, except for these missing years, but the earlier records, before it was made compulsory upon physicians to report births are very incomplete and sometimes inaccurate. The record of the birth of a young woman was required few days ago and was—and is frequently the case the birth was entered as that of a female child, the infant not having been named presumably at the time the physician filed his return. The parents were much disappointed because they could not have a certificate with the full name written in. Miss Emma Eichenberber, of this city, now a missionary to China but at this time home on furlough and doing some special work at the Moody Bible Institute at Evanston, Ill., requires her birth certificate in order to the issuing of her passport but a careful scrutiny of the records of the year of her birth and the period generally failed to reveal her name on the register and it is presumed that a careless doctor failed to record it to her present great inconvenience.

The Indiana law is now very rigid as to report of births and deaths and so far as Jeffersonville is concerned recent records may be considered to have attained a high degree of accuracy.

FERRY BOAT ON HER WAY

Additional Craft Expected Here Sunday Or Monday

The additional ferry boat to be placed in the Louisville-Jeffersonville service by the Louisville and Jeffersonville Ferry Company, to augment the service given by the George Rogers Clark, is expected here at any time, probably not later than Sunday or Monday and will be placed in service with the least possible delay.

The boat was bought several months ago in Pittsburg and was on her way here when the ice trouble began in the river. She was held at Cincinnati and was probably saved from severe damage by the big steamer City of Cincinnati, when the gorge above that city broke, for the ferry steamer was lying just below the big boat which was sunk while the small craft was little if any damaged. Charles Brasher pilot and William Bateman, engineer, have gone to Cincinnati to bring the boat down and are believed to be on the way.

WHY RUSSIAN WOMEN FOUGHT

American Woman Tells Of Women's Battalion Of Death

An American woman who spent over a fortnight with the Woman's Battalion of Death in Russia tells in the March Woman's Home Companion what led them to volunteer. She says:

"Many had joined the regiment because they sincerely believed that the honor, and even the existence, of Russia were at stake and that nothing but a great human sacrifice could save her.

"Some, like Bacharova, in the days of the Siberian aillage had simply come to the point where anything was better than the dreary drudgery and the drearier waiting of life as they lived it.

"Personal troubles had driven some of them out of their homes and on to the battle line. One girl a Japanese, said tragically when I asked her reason for joining, "My reasons are so many, that I would rather not tell them.'

"There was a ossack girl from the Ural Mountains, fifteen years old, with soft, brown questioning eyes and deep rich color tinting her dark cheeks. Her father and two brothers had been killed early in the war. Soon after, her mother, who was a nurse had died from the effects of a German bomb thrown upon the hospital where she was working. She was absolutely alone in the world.

" 'What else is left for me?' she asked with a pathetic droop to her strong young shoulders.

"Two girls, Red Cross nurses, who had already been decorated four or five times for service to their country, said they had seen too many brave men suffer and die for Russia to be willing to see her sacrificed now on the Kaiser's altar.

"One serious-looking woman who took no part in any of our frivolities carried a photograph in her kit-bag. It was the picture of her husband—who is a prisoner in Austria—holding a small boy on his lap. The child had died the week before the regiment was formed, and there were other things that robbed danger of all its sting for her.

"On a cord around each girl's neck was a collection of sacred medals and a tiny cloth pouch, whose contents I had speculated upon.

" 'What will you do if you are taken prisoner?' I asked Skridlova one day.

" 'No one of us will ever be taken alive,' she answered and pulled out the little gray pouch. 'It is the strongest and surest kind there is,' she said."

AUTO MONEY DISTRIBUTED

Second Half Of Year Makes Small Yield Compared With First

Clark county will receive shortly from the auditor of state $854 on account of the distribution of the pjroceeds of automobile licenses by the state for the second half of the year 1917. The amount for the entire state is onl $73,037 compared with $967,316 for the first half of the year when the bulk of the license fees are paid in. For the year there will have been distributed $1,040,353, compared with $756,607 for 1918, a thirty-five per cent increase. Clark county receives considerably more than it paid in. The distribution is based as to one-third of the fund on the proportion paid in by each county as to one-third on the mileage of good roads in each county and the remaining one third is distrubuted equally among the ninety-two counties.

BEAR MEAT ON MARKET

Some Find It Helps to Cut the High Cost of Living.

Citizens of Harrisonburg and other towns in Rockingham county, Pennsylvania, who find beef, veal and pork too high-priced, can make ends meet better now by eating bear meat, large quantities of which have been placed on the market at more reasonable prices than those demanded for choice steaks and chops.

The mountains of the county are said to be infested by bears, and in the past few days a number of the animals have been bagged by hunters. One party of sportsmen brought in two, one weighing 300 pounds and the other 250 pounds. The hides, worth about $35 apiece, will be tanned and made into overcoats.

New Crime in London.

A new form of crime has developed in London. The police describe it as "air raid robbery," for bands of thieves take advantage of the excitement caused by German air raids to loot homes while the families are elsewhere seeking safety.

SERVICE BELT

You girls who have been left behind, aren't you proud of your sweethearts, your brothers and relatives who are engaged in fighting for their country and yours? Have you taken any pains to let the world know your feelings? It inspires others if they know that their friends are doing something and they are not. If you proclaim to the people that your dearest are fighting, it will arouse the spark of patriotism that is in every breast. One of the most novel methods of showing how proud you are of the boys is to wear the service belt, as shown in this photograph. Four stars decorate her belt, for a brother, relatives and a sweetheart.

POLL TAXES FOR WAR WORK

Salvation Army Will Collect Refund at Wichita for Use of Troops Abroad.

Wichita, Kan.—Some weeks ago the Kansas supreme court ruled that certain cities did not have to collect a poll tax. Wichita is one of them.

Then the Salvation Army officers here conceived a bright idea.

"Why not ask the men for their poll tax, and use the money in furthering the war work overseas of the army?" they asked.

Now accredited solicitors of the Salvation Army are collecting the poll tax receipts of business men and others. They will present them to the city officials when the refund is made.

INTERESTING EXERCISES IN CITY SCHOOLS

Washington's and Lincoln's Birthdays Observed At Each Building

BOARD TOURS SCHOOL

Practical Domestic Science Work At Colored School Interests

The celebration of Washington's Birthday in the public schools of Jeffersonville Friday was very successful from all points of view. There were good attendances at all the schools, a large number of parents taking the opportunity to visit them and see the work that is being done.

The members of the School Board—John Gienger, Louis F. Scheer and William G. Young—accompanied Supt. Emmett Taylor on a tour of the schools spending a short time witnessing the exercises at each building.

In the course of the tour the members of the Board took note of various repairs that require attaention which were pointed out to them by the superintendent. It is planned to go carefully over these matters, place them in order of importance and necesity, see what money will be available and o plan out the work tao be done this summer so that an immediate start may be made the day after school is out. The work to be done includes painting, plumbing and other matters of a minor character and there will be no general improvements attempted at this time.

Exercises held a each of the schools were in honor of both Washington and Lincoln, the latter's day not having been previously observed. The several rooms and departments in each school had had each its share in the exercises arranged. Interesting and creditable exhibits of the school work of the children were shown. At the High School an address was delivered by the Rev. A. H. Keeney.

Much interest was taken by the School Board in the work of the domestic science department at the colored school on Wall street. A special feature has been made of tahis and a kitachen has been established which is in every sense of the word a model. That is to say it is not a laboratory in which fancy, high class, expensive work may be done, but it is a true home kitchen in which the pupils will learn the praefaical arts of cooking and home making.

The spirit which has been aroused in the pupils is well illustrated by the action of the girls who are members of the domestic science class who with money which they earned for themselves by doing government sewing have purchased linoleum for the kitchen.

The entire kitchen is furnished in white enamel. Up to this time the work done has been cheifly in providing the utensils needed. These have been paid for by the city but the work of selecting and obtaining them has been the first step in the art taught and the result is of an enirely practical nature. From now on the pupils will be instructed in their use. Miss Esther Price, home demonstration agent, has general supervision of the work and paid a visit fao the school during the week.

BUDDING SOLDIER GETS WRIST WATCH

Knights Of Pythias Honor First In Lodge To Be Drawn

An interesting meeting was held Friday evening by Hope lodge, No. 13, Knights of Pythias. A feature of the meeting was the presentation of a wrist watch to Otto Hobson who is he first member of the lodge to be in line for military service. He has been placed in Class 1-A and is waiting the call for service. The lodge has a large membership but has not taken in many members for some time with a result that the bulk of the membership is past the draft age. It is planned by the new officers, headed by Weston Crooker, chancellor commander to make an aggressive campaign for new members and a rejuevnation of the lodge. The watch was subscribed for by a large number of the members as individuals and was presented in the name of the lodge.

MRS. MARY J. WILSON DEAD

Well Known Woman Suffered From Pneumonia And Typhoid Fever

Mrs. Mary J. Wilson, age 68, widow of Joseph N. Wilson, died at 4:30 Saturday morning at her home at 937 Walnut street, from an attack of typhoid-pneumonia with which she had been critically ill for several days. Mrs. Wilson lived most of her life in Jeffersonville where the family is well known. She was born in Virginia, the daughter of James Blackford and Mrs. Rebecca Johnstone Blackford. Her husband died several years ago and five children of a large family survive: Harve L. Wilson, Arthur Wilson, Miss Maude Wilson of Jeffersonville; Mrs. Myrtle Lutz, wife of John Lutz of Indianapolis and Mrs. D. C. Mitchell, Prestonville, Ky. Th ere is also a sister Mrs. John Denton of this city. Botah daughters arrived before their mother's death. Mrs. Wilson was a member of Wall street Methodist Episcopal church. The funeral will be held Monday and interment will be at Walnut Ridge cemetery.

The Capital's Fifth Avenue.

Pennsylvania avenue in Washington is usually listed among the world's famous streets, but to the Washingtonian this avenue has not half the importance and attractiveness of F street, the recognized parade ground of the fashionable on sunny afternoons. F street in Washington is an institution like the monument, the government clerk and band concerts in the parks. It dates back far enough to tax the memory of Washington's few eldest inhabitants, but [illegible] of its origin are filed in the [illegible].

Determining Character.

We prepare ourselves for sudden deeds by the reiterated choice of good or evil which gradually determines character.—George Eliot.

A Legal Pun.

"A petition for an injunction, based upon a somewhat doubtful assertion of fact," says a New York lawyer, "came before one of the justices of the supreme court of this state. After consideration of the affidavit of the petitioner, the justice remarked: 'In this case an injunction will not lie, even if the relator does.'"—Case and Comment.

Colors That Fade.

Aniline colors often fade to entirely different colors, while vegetable dyes usually fade to tones of their own particular colors. The finest Oriental rugs owe their soft, wonderful colors entirely to vegetable dyes—in fact, the Persian government has for years prohibited the importation of aniline dyes.

Rubber Watch-Cover.

Among the rubber novelties recently introduced, is a watch protector which covers the case entirely except the dial. It is designed for the use of workmen principally and for those who are compelled to move around electrical machinery and it renders the mechanism proof against damage. The clinging quality of rubber makes it almost impossible for the timepiece thus protected to slip out of the pocket.

Despise the Savoyards.

Even to the present day the Genevese hate and despise the Savoyards, their hereditary enemies, calling the contemptuous attention of the stranger to the fact that these neighbors of theirs are unthrifty and still make their women work in the fields, as they did in former days. Fifteen minutes' ride in a motorcar will carry one from Geneva into Savoy.

Cause of Cold Feet.

Cold feet may be habitual, constitutional or from general ill health, commonly they are so by habit. Tight shoes, a sedentary life and overeating are often guilty, asserts an authority. When there is too little ventilation of the feet or the stockings are too thick, the relief isn't easy. The feet are kept warm better by wearing thin hose and low shoes, cold baths and vigorous massage, active exercise outdoors—especially walking—than by inactive indoor life. Frequent daily washing of the feet helps to restore their warmth.

Live Right.

Right living and the right kind of work have changed many a stunted boy into a well-developed man, asserts an educator. Spiritual growth is not greatly aided by sitting down and thinking about it. Live in the sunshine of trust. Rely on a strength higher than your own. Reach out helpfully to others, and growth in the divine life will look after itself.

Size of a City Lot.

The question is often asked what part of an acre an ordinary city lot is. One 66x165 feet contains just a quarter-acre and contains 10,890 square feet. Ten acres, if square, would measure 660 feet along each side and a strip of that length and one-tenth the length, or 66 feet, would make an acre, and if but one-fourth as long or 165 feet would make a quarter acre. This is a good-sized city lot.

Plant Food in Soil.

A chemical analysis cannot show the amount of available plant food in a soil. A chemist could, without difficulty, make an artificial soil containing every element of plant food in abundance, and yet be perfectly sterile. Peat, for example, is usually very rich in nitrogen, but it is locked up or unavailable. To pulverize it and mix it with lime is to change it into a highly nutritious soil.

She Is Like the Reed.

Woman is like the reed which bends to every breeze, but breaks not in the tempest.—Archbishop Whately.

[illegible]

Come to the surface in the spring as in no other season. It's a pity they don't run themselves all off that way; but in spite of pimples and other eruptions, they mostly remain in the system. That's bad.

Hood's Sarsaparilla removes them and cures all the painful and disfiguring troubles they cause. Nothing else cleanses the system and clears the complexion like Hood's.

Thieves Bury Auto.

Somewhat out of the ordinary in making away with stolen cars was the method of Springfield, Mass., thieves, who buried a car in a lonely wooded spot not far from the state line. Boys passing discovered what appeared to be a newly made grave and notified the police, who when they dug a short time, uncovered a windshield. The car bore a Massachusetts license.

The lily told a passing breeze—
Who told it to the lark—
That she was sure the rose had kissed
The linnet in the dark.

The linnet —who was very vain—
Sulked when he heard the tale,
For he had happened by and knew
She kissed the nightengade!

The New Spring Silks Are Stylish And Patriotic

The new silk fabrics for spring and summer wear are thus described in the March Woman's Home Companion:

"So much has been said about conserving wool and using silk in its place that it is well to remember this in planning spring clothes. There are times when it seems as though nothing would serve the need like woolen. Yet silk will in many cases be satisfactory.

"For instance so many silk suits for sports and general wear will be used there is a long list of suitable materials. There is khaki kool in new and interesting patterns, such as batik and aeroplane, satin ondule brocade and fan-ta-si, two crepes most ex quisite in weave and color. The former comes plain as well as brocaded, the latter plain and satin-striped, and it rivals the beauty of cloth of gold. Amphora crepe is another worthy of mention in its pongee like weave and another that must be seen to be appreciated is moleskin, satin with a crepe back, both sides of which are often shown in a costume where contrast is desired. Another double fabric is satin victoire, satain one side, georgette crepe the other.

"Hindu crepe, printed and plain will make a cool summer dress, as will pussy willow taffeta and fouard which is popular and silk gingham which comes in cotton gingham patterns."

California's Weeping Trees.

California has but two species of native trees that are normally of weeping habit. One is Quercus lobata, the valley oak, having its most southerly range near Burbank. The other is Picea Brewerinna, the weeping spruce, which is found in a few isolated mountainous sections in the northwestern corner of the state.

Lute Out of Existence.

The lute has vanished. It was one of the oldest of instruments, and had a beautiful vibrant tone somewhat like that of the harp. But its size and complexity were against it. It had a long tail and many strings; and while its size increased its power and range, it also increased its weight and made it cumbrous. The minstrel of today plays on the mandolin, the guitar or the banjo—and the lute is forgot.

Make a Friend of Him.

A Hint To The Aged

If people past sixty years of age could be persuaded to go to bed as soon as they take cold and remain in bed for one or two days, they would recover much more quickly, especially if they take Chamberlain's Cough emedy. There would also be less danger of the cold being followed by any of the more serious diseases.

THE MANAGEMENT

Genuine Home Thirft means managing the home so well that none of the Father-energy it takes to earn money, or none of the Mother-energy it takes to spend it, is wasted by foolish purchases, extravagant housekeeping or niggardly economy.

In order to achieve these ends the housekeeper must learn how to take care of her savings, even the smallest ones, by business mehods, how to balance her household budget, how to pay her bills by checks, and how to manage her bank account to the best advantage.

NUX, IRON, PEPSIN AND SARSAPARILLA

The combination of two great medicines, Hood's Sarsaparilla and Peptiron, by taking them in conjunction, one before eating and the other after, brings into co-operation the above-named substances, best for the blood, nerves and digestive organs.

This combination is especially recommended in cases that are scrofulous, or rheumatic, anemic and nervous, or where the blood is both impure and pale, deficient in iron—one of the most common disease conditions of the present day.

In cases where a laxative is needed, Hood's Pills should be taken. They work in perfect harmony with Hood's Sarsaparilla and Peptiron, and are mild and efficient.

AR FINANEC CORPORATION

The need for the creation the War Finance Corporation which is sought to be ablished by the bill retly introduced in Con- ess is thus briefly stated Secretary McAdoo:

“The Government's borwings, particularly during period immediately preing and following each berty Loan has tended to e-empt the credit facil- es of the banks and often prevent them from givg needed and customary elp to quasi public and priate enterprises. Many intances have been brought the attention of the Secreary of the Treasury and of e Federal Reserve Board here railroads, public utilies, power plants and other terprises have been prented from obtaining the ecessary loans to enable em to perform vital serees in connection with the ar because the bank credits dinarily available to them e being absorbed by the overnment.”

Briefly, the Wra Finance orporation is designed to able the banks, both nainal banks and State banks trust compaies to contin- to furnish essential cred- for industries and enterises which are necessary contributory to the prosetion of the war.

SEED CORN SITUATIAN LOOMS BIG

Farmers Being Aroused As Never Before To Need Of Testing Seed

MEETING AT MEMPHIS

Enough Seed But None To Waste; Institutes Do Good Work

The arousing of farmers to the seriousness of the seed corn situation and their consequent efforts to meeta and overcome difficulties continues in hopeful manner. A meeting of farmers has been called for Monday evening at Memphis b the Union Township Institute the purpose being the consideration of the seed corn situation and the taking of necessary steps in view of the seriousness of the situpation.

The Institute reorganized at its annual meeting last Thursday witah W. S. Gray, chairman; R. C. Johnantgen, vice chairhman; C. B. Rabb, secretary; Ollie McClellan, treasurer. This organization plans aggressive work in the township. Union township had shown little previous interest in the seed corn situation but seventy farmers were at the institute and ineres was aroused.

Monday night the seed situation will be canvessed, the names will be obtained of those who have seed, results of tests made will be announced and the methods of testing will be explained for the benefit of those who have not heretofore adopted this plan. Mr. Gray recently tested thirty-six ears, taking five grains from each and 171 sprouted out of the 180 grains. He is now testing a crib of seed corn and other farmers are doing the same. In some cases a high proportion of the corn is dead and it is only by the discovery and use of all the best corn available tahat seed will be obtained to go around.

H. A. Stevens, county agricultural agent, who had charge of the seed survey in Clark, Floyd, Scott and Jefferson counties has just returned from a trip to Scott where he was informed that seventy per cent of the farmers welcomed tahe aid offered while thirty per cent resented what they took for interferences in their own affairs. Mr. Stevens fears that many farmers will defer too long providing themselves with satisfactory seed. This problem has formed a chief topic at all the institutes held so far this year, including the successful institutes last week at Utica.

The concensus of qualified opinion is that there is sufficient seed corn, and good sed corn, for all needs but none of it must be wasted in feeding hogs or in other ways which will be equally well served by dead corn.

TAX BOOKS SENT TO BANK AT HENRYVILLE

The tax receipts for Union and Monroe townships have been prepared by J. E. Gray, county treasurer and his deputies, O. B. Fifer and W. S. Gray, and the books have been sent to the Henryville State Bank for the convenience of the taxpayers. Other townships will be similarly accommodated in a short time, each at the nearest bank.

MORTAGE EXEMPTION PERIOD SOON BEGINS

The annual period for filing mortgage exemptions to secure a reduction in the valuation of property for taxation, begins Friday and will continue until April 30.

SELLING LIQUOR TO SOLDIERS

Conference Held With Col. Crain On Subject

A conference was held between Col. Crain, provost marshal of Camp Zachary Taylor, and Mayor George Weissinger Smith, of Louisville; Mayor Newton H. Myers of Jeffersonville, and Mayor Robert Morris, of New Albany relative to the sale of liquor to soldiers. There are said to be many places where the soldiers are served in all three cities but the Jeffersonville sales are mostly by bootleggers and not direct by saloon keepers, it is said. It is asserted that the larger number of offenses occur in the Indiana cities and New Albany appears to have the primacy in the matter. Methods of stopping the illicit sales were considered and Col. Crain told the mayors he had under consideration stopping all leave which would mean that even soldiers residing in Jeffersonville, New Albany and Louisville would not be able to visit home.

Alleged Pool Room Case Defendants Give Bonds In Court

The docket for the second week of the February term of the Clark Circuit court has been swept clean and the ptit jury has been excused until further notice. Several of the cases set for this week were settled out of court and others will be reassigned. The charge of wife desertion against William T. Chatman, set for Monday, was passed when he demanded a jury trial.

Charlie Brown appeared, waived arraignment to the two charges of running a pool room and receiving and registering bets and gave bond of $300 in each case with W. F. Cisco and Joseph H. Warder sureties. His three codefendants, George Webster, Robert Kingman and William Morris, gave similar bond on Saturday.

W. T. Adams Estate

Aaron P. Scott and Martin A. Adams, joint executors of the will of William T. Adams, a prosperous farmer who dropped dead January 2, 1917, at his farm on the Middle road have filed their final report accounting for balance of $2,9998.30 there having been a previous partial distribution. This balance includes $989.12 received from the Indiana Reformatory as rent for decedent's large farm. There are credits of $979.45 leaving $2,078.85 for distribution among the four children after transfer of five shares of the Bourbon Stockyards Company, appraised at $450, to the trustees of New Chapel church and cemetery as directed in the will. There was an ante-nuptial agreement with the surviving fourh wife and for a further sum paid by the other heirs she relinquished any further claim. The four children have heretofore received from decedent or from the executors a total of $12,675.82. The farm was sold for about $18,000 to John R. Scott.

ORGANIZE IN THRIFT STAMP SALE

CAMPAIGN TO START

$20 Per Capita Is Basis Of Proposed Sales Of “Baby Bonds.”

The campaign for the sale of Thrift Stamps and of War Savings Certificates will be launched in Jeffersonville and Clark county forthwith. The basis of sales aimed at is $20 worth for every man, woman and child in the country during 1918 so that approximately $600,000 worth should be taken during that period in Clark county. At present only a start has been made but the campaign will be under way in a short time.

These “baby bonds” are designed especially for those who cannot afford larger ones and the method of saving permits everyone to own a bond as small as $5 worth that sum on January 1, 1923, and costing a few cents over $4 now. The bonds will be attractive to those who are able to save a small sum weekly or monthly. The thrift stamps cost only 25 cents each and sixteen of them, with a few cents additional, buy one of the War Savings Stamps worth $5 each at the date when they fall due. Twenty of these form a War Savings Certificate. The thrift or war savings stamps are redeemable in cash at any time though it is of course hoped that they will generally be kept as savings.

The government wants the money in prosecuting our war. It is hoped to raise two billion dollars in the country this year through this method.

Postmaster James E. Burke, named chairman for Clark county for the sale of Thrift Stamps, has named an executive committee consisting of James L. Bottorff, Don D. Walker and Hugh A. Stevens and these met on his call Saturday afternoon and organized by electing Mr. Bottorff chairman of the executive committee.

Emmett Taylor, superintendent of city schools, will have charge of the work in the schools and Charles W. White, township trustee, in the township schools. A meeting of the twelve township trustees and all the postmasters of the county was called for 1:30 next Saturday afternoon at the city hall to plan the campaign in the county.

The Boy Scouts will be enlisted in the campaign under the direction of Homer M. Frank, scoutmaster. Speakers were nemed who will assist in the publicity work by speaking as opportunity serves. The following were named: H. Willard Phipps, F. E. Andrews, Claude B. McBride, Judge James W. Fortune Jonas G. Howard. The executive commiteee will meet Monday to make further plans.

SORRY SHE DIVORCED HIM

Ex-Wife of Soldier Wants Decree Set Aside as Pay Checks and Insurance Loom.

St. Louis.—After divorcing her husband, Mrs. Margaret Lane learned that he was of a certain value she had not known of before. He joined the army and consequently was worth $45 a month to her and her two children while alive and $10,000 in case he is killed.

So Mrs. Lane went into the circuit court and asked Judge Grimm to set aside her divorce, saying her husband had sent a check for $45 from Fort Leavenworth. Also he did not know she had obtained a decree.

But not so fast. The courts of Missouri grind slowly and so Mrs. Lane will have to write a full confession to her husband and have him consent to the decree being set aside.

EXAMINATION BY PHYSICIANS

Will Be Completed Monday; Thirty-One Classified

The physical examination of registrants in Class one will be practically completed Monday by the Medical Examining Board.

The Clark County Exemption Board mailed notices of classification to another thirty-one registrants in class 1 A, of whom twenty-five were found physically qualified, as follows:

Everett Couch, Joseph J. Kiefer, Lavene Hopwood, William H. Osborne; Louis Koebler; Christian Green; George Denning; Rudolph L. Hochstrasser; Alonzo J. Dean; Andie R. Stone; Henry C. Eftel; Lee Waltz; Daniel G. Monroe; William W. King; Leo Kestler; Everett Walton; Edward V. Heyn; George H. Brishaber; John R. Vest; Frank Molek; William H. Korte; John Wyne; Harlin Taylor; Russell Amick; Omer Miller.

Two were notified of their acceptance for limited service: Raymond L. Duble, erecting engineer Lawrence Bostick, teamster. Four were disqualified: John Everett, Jesse C. McCasland, Eddie M. Hollowell, Lawrence Wilkerson.

WANT TO WRITE AND SAY THANKS

How Sailors Appreciate Gifts—Knitted Garments And The Like

Mrs. Anna Steese Richardson writes in the March Woman's Home Companion:

“As for knitted garments, I wish you could have been with me one day at a certain naval base near New York when the crew of a ship which had been accidentally sunk in our very harbor entered the chaplain's office to receive their fresh supply of knitted garments. They had all lost their clothing, barely escaping with their lives.

“The boys lined up like the well-trained sailors they were, tucked their supplies under their arms and marched out again, headed by an offiicer. But the moment they broke ranks outside headquarters, each boy became absorbed in his own particular package of knitted garments and comfort bag, turning the sweaters, the helmets, the wristlets and even the bags inside out, poking inquiring fingers into every corner.

“ 'What are they looking for—sizes?' I asked the young officer at my elbow.

“ 'Dear no,' said my guide with a laugh. 'Letters, notes, the addresses of the lady who knitted the garment or filled the bag. They want to write back and say thank you.'

“After watching their frenzied search for notes and addresses nothing can ever make me believe that the boys do not appreciate such gifts.”

REAL ESTATE

Charles E. Barr and Carrie Barr have conveyed to Frank Masters, by deed filed in the office of Clifford Allhands county recorder, 30 acres of land near Henryville, for a consideration of $1,200.

Peter Ritter and Mary E. Ritter have conveyed to Frank L. Schlichter, 100 acres of land in survey 23, at Hibernia, excepting the Christian cemetery lot, for a consideration of $4,300.

Maud E. Wheeler and Barney C. Wheeler have conveyed to Laura L. Barnes part of lots 126 and 127, town of Port Fulton, for $1 and love and affection.

Zach Taylor to John Reynolds and Mahala Reynolds 58x104 feet survey 254, near Henryville, for a consideration of $400.

PLANS FOR REGISTRATION OUTLINED

Party Organizations Agree Upon Construction Of New Law

PERIOD BEGIN APRIL 8

Four Methods Of Registering; Effort To Curtail Cost Of Process

Ernest E. Jacobs, clerk of the Clark Circuit court, has received a copy of the construction placed upon certain features of the new registration law by a commission appointed by Governor James P. Goodrich, representing both political parties and accepted by both party organizations. The construction of the law was made by William W. Spencer, Republican Will H. Thompson, Democrat, and Ele Stansbury, Attorney-General.

The statment refers chiefly to the composition of the Registration Board and its chief aim appears to be to reduce the cost of registration as much as possible. In effect it agrees that the law shall be construed as not requiring the appointment if their aid is necessary. This means that the members of the Board itself will be expected to do the actual work of registration instead of merely supervising the work.

The Board consists of the clerk of the circuit court and one representative each of the two leading political parties. In addition to these and the two clerks mentioned additional clerical help is provided for where required. In Clark county the Board will consist of Edward Weber, Democrat; A. H. Bamber, Republican and Ernest E. Jacobs, clerk of the Clark Circuit court.

Under the construction of the law the two party chairmen will recommend the chief clerk and deputy clerk as provided in the law but these will only be appointed by the Board if that body sees that their aid is necessary. That the help will be required for at least part of the registration period in Clark county is more than likely as there are between seven and eight thousand voters to be registered and the Board is also charged witah the duties of acting as Board of Election Commissioners for both the primary and general elections.

The registration period begins April 8 and continues until October 7 which means that an average of not less than fifty registrations a day would be required in Clark county. Registrants may appear in person before the board, may send that applications by messenger or mail or may file them at the primary.

WILL SELL LAND WITHOUT FORECLOSURE

George W. Stoner, county auditor, has advertised that he will on March 28 offer for sale two parcels of land in default of payment of principal and interest on loans from the school fund secured by mortgage on the property. The law designates the fourth Monday in March of every year for the purpose of such sale which may be made without foreclosure of the mortgage through proceedings in circuit court. One parcel of land consists of seventy-eight acres in Monroe township upon which mortgage was executed by Thomas Murphy to secure payment of loan of $300 made June 10, 1891, and the other of eighty acres in the same township on account of mortgage executed December 3, 1910, by Thomas J. Brock and wife to secure loan of $500.

BASKET BALL AT NEW ALBANY

Calumet Announce Change In Monday's Card

On account of war duties the lieutenants at the quartermaster's depot in Jeffersonville will be unable to play the Calumet Basket Ball team at New Albany Monday night as announced but the game will be played later. For Monday night the Calu[illegible] team will play the New Albany High School first team and the preliminary game will be between the Calumet Colts and a team of the Baptist Seminary, Louisville. The teams are all in fine form and good games are anticipated.

Apollos Will Play

The Apollo Basket Ball team will make its first apearance of the season Tuesday evening at the armory when it will play the Baptist Theological Seminary. The local team lost several of last year's pjlayers who are in military service but the boys have a good team nevertheless to put on the floor.

SECRETARY WILSON CALLS FOR SHIPYARD WORKERS NONE NEEDED AT PRESENT

The immediate labor needs of the shipyards are practically filled, and the man who leaves his present position to seek employment in a shipyard is likely to find no work. The coming weeks and months, however will necessitate the increase of the present number of shipyard workers by several hundred thousand men who have had experience in trades used in ship building.

The Department of Labor, with the aid of the Shipping Board, the Council of National Defense and the State councils of denfense, is now enrolling in its United States Public Service Reserve men of these trades who are willing to go to a shipyard when they are advised of a place. The shipyard volunteers in the Public Service Reserve, will be placed through the United States Employment Service of the Department of Labor, which will have full details as to when and where the men are needed, the wages, and housing and other conditions.

Membership in the Reserve brings official recognition of the performance of, or the readiness to preform, a most necessary and patriotic service. It also protects both employers and workers for it minimizes the drain on industry for the supplying of the shipyards and puts the wage earner where he can utilize to the fullest extent his ability and earning power.

We appeal to all qualified men to enroll during the coming week in the Reserve and to stick to their present jobs until they are called.

WILLIAM B. WILSON,
Secretary of Labor.

Goats Are Cute.

Many of the people in this country today believe that the goat is anything but a lovable animal, relates an exchange. In reality there is no more lovable and gentle creature alive than "Mr. and Mrs. Chin Whiskers." Visit a goat ranch and learn to welcome the playful thrust of the cold little nose into the palm of your hand, or into your pocket, where a few of the more daring expect some hidden goodies are to be found. The awkward and playful antics of the little goatlet should win the heart of the most critical.

Use for Starfish.

And when he went to bed with the information that there would be no buckwheat and sausages for breakfast, he couldn't sleep for worrying about it.

When a Woman May Lie.

A Kansas City court has ruled that "a woman may lie to her husband when the provocation is great enough." From our meager experience, notes the Pennsylvania Grit, it appears as if the dear ones are provoked virtually all the time. And, mercy, how angry they do become when the subject of ages is broached.

[illegible] Big Tale of Adventure.

Declares She Prefers Death to Life in World Controlled by Victorious Germans.

New York.—A thrilling tale of adventure within the German lines in Brussels, Louvain and Zeebrugge, including an escape from Ostend in a sailboat while pursued by an airplane, was brought back by Miss B. Bennett Burleigh, a daring English newspaper woman, who went "over there" to see things as they are.

"I'd just want to die if we had to live in a world where the German was victorious," she said, her eyes blazing. "I've seen them and I know how they treat the women who come into their power. Everything you read about atrocities is true, and more than can ever be told. And it's going on in Belgium today."

Belgium is being systematically destroyed by the Germans, she declared. Food is scarce and in Bruges the Belgians have substituted rats and mice [illegible]

"Later [illegible] seacoast, [illegible] as the Germans came in. I stood on the bridge at Ostend and watched them march in. Then I took a nurse who was a friend of mine and an old man found us a sailboat by which we went by sea to Dunkirk. An airplane swooped down on us, but fortunately the British guns opened fire on it, so we were saved.

"There can be no peace until the Germans are beaten. They must be pushed out of Belgium before we talk of peace, else we shall have to do it all over again in fifteen years," she warned.

Needless to Copy Others.

To do anything because others do it, and not because the thing is good, or kind, or honest in its own right, is to resign all moral control and captaincy upon yourself, and go post haste to the devil with the greatest number.—Stevenson.

Favors Early Parenthood.

Early parenthood is productive of warriors, but not of good brain workers, for, says Doctor Redfield, "when we look over those intellectually superior men who have done so much for the world's advancement we find them to have been predominantly the sons of elderly parents and only rarely the sons of men less than twenty-five."

Paraguayans Mistaken.

Paraguay has been fortunate in that she has produced some exceedingly strong men. But very unfortunate in that these men have too often been mistaken, selfish and grasping. One of the leading Paraguayans of today has said that Paraguay has had no history, but, instead, a series of tragedies.

Rubber Watch-Cover.

Among the rubber novelties recently introduced, is a watch protector which covers the case entirely except the dial. It is designed for the use of workmen principally and for those who are compelled to move around electrical machinery and it renders the mechanism proof against damage. The clinging quality of rubber makes it almost impossible for the timepiece thus protected to slip out of the pocket.

"We Must Sail, Not Drift."

I find the great thing in this world is not so much where we stand, as in what direction we are moving, writes O. W. Holmes. To reach the port of heaven, we must sail sometimes with the wind and sometimes against it—but we must sail, and not drift, nor lie at anchor.

New Electric Furnaces.

The success of electric heat in japan and varnish oven work has led to considerable investigation along the line of what might be termed low temperature heating; that is, heating with temperatures up to 600 degrees Fahrenheit. The results of these investigations have brought out numerous other applications, among which are electric core baking ovens, electric bread baking ovens, ovens for making cereals, drying woolen articles and equipment for sherardizing.

Translated Into English.

All books of the Old Testament apocrypha, 14 in number, have been translated into English, and are included as apochryphal books in some editions of the Bible. They were formerly printed under a distinctive heading between the Old and the New Testaments, and in that form can still be found in many old family Bibles, They are always included in the so-called Septuagint, a version of the Bible used by the Greek church.

"Turn a Deaf Ear."

To be able to hear well is a great blessing, but one should be able to "turn a deaf ear" to what is unwise or unfit to hear. If the angry words that stir up strife, or the harsh, critical words that hurt one's feelings, or defame another, never found listeners, how much less pain and trouble the world would know. Learn to use the "hearing ear" and the "deaf ear" upon the right occasions.—Exchange.

Time for Discretion.

"Why, I've got one foot in the grave and the other foot on a banana peel, so to speak," responds a man of sixty-five, sued for breach of promise in New York. Under such circumstances there is every reason why a man should exercise discretion.—Boston Globe.

A Hint To The Aged

If people past sixty years of age could be persuaded to go to bed as soon as they take cold and remain in bed for one or two days, they would recover much more quickly, especially if they take Chamberlain's Cough emedy. There would also be less danger of the cold being followed by any of the more serious diseases.

CANDIDATES LINE UP FOR MARRYING JOB

Four of the six present justices of the peace in Jeffersonville, all of whom are Democrats, will seek renomination at the May primary —Frank N. Ogden, Alonzo Paddacks, Thomas Coward, Albert Eich. William James aspires to be county assessor and Benson R. Veasey county recorder. Henry Krimpelman will be a candidate and so probably will be Walter Lutz and possibly Oscar Hay, the latter one of the champion "marrying 'equires" a few years ago.

Legislative Candidate

Oscar Johnson, who is one of the two or three Republicans who have been elected sheriff of Clark county during the past twenty-five years, has under consideration making the race for representative to the Legislature on that ticket. Amos H. Burtt will probably be renominated for the office by the Democrats.

BLAZING STABLE IN CITY'S CENTER

Flames Started By Rubbish Limited To One Building; Autos Burned

Approximately $1,000 worth of damage was caused Saturday afternoon by fire which destroyed a stable on the rear of Frank H. Spith's lot at 114 West Chestnut street, on the alley back of the Pfau building. The building owned by Mr. Spieth was damaged about $400 besides which he lost his chicken house which was built on to the stable. The stable was used by G. A. Schimpff, confectioner, who had a five passenger ford car, an auto delivery truck and a delivery wagon, all of which were badly damaged, a total loss of over $600. There was insurance in the Voigt agency on the building and on the passenger car but Mr. Schimpff had deferred too long taking out a policy on the truck. The fire started from sparks on the roof from rubbish being burned in an adjoining yard. The department saved the building from total destruction and prevented the flames from spreading. At one time they thraetened the rear of the Reilley hotel. But for the prompt action by the department the blaze might have been the start of a disastrous fire.

DOG NUISANCE AGAIN REPORT

With Garden Season Coming Should There Not Be Some Restraint

The usual spring complaints of dogs running at large, with canine indifference to other people's rights, have begun to reach The News office and in view of the near approach of the back yard garden season the question arises whether the city should not prepare to exercise some restraint.

Dogs at present run freely at large in the city and while some owners are careful of the rights of the public and of their neighbors it may be feared that others are less careful and do not restrain the animals as they should. In consequence the dogs visit the yards of neighbors and hold conventions on the beds which it is proposed to devote to the cultivation of vegetables and the success of gardens will be menaced by this canine custom. There was, years ago, some ordinance regulating the free movement of dogs without restraint about the city and while few would ask that there should be any persecution of the faithful friend of man most would be glad to see him, his free operations somewhat evhecked.

NO NEED FOR ATTORNEYS TO COLLECT SOLDIER INSURANCE.

The Secretary of the Treasury has announced that neither the soldiers, sailors, now their dependents or any beneficiaries under the soldier and sailor insurance law need employ attorneys or claim agents to collect the insurance; that the employment of such intermediaries is unnecesary and inadvisable and a needless expense.

The procedure for the presentation and collection of insurance claims is very simple and the proper blanks can be secured from the Bureau of War Risk Insurance in Washington. The name of the person in the service who was killed or ijured and the relationship which he bore to the person making the claim should be given. If further information or assistance is required by the claimant the Bureau of War Risk Insurance will gladly furnish it.

Circulars have been sent out by claim agents and attorneys offering to assist persons entitled in collecting their claims. The "pension sharks," who once thrived and fattened under our pension laws, are still a rank memory in this country

It was hoped that when they were legislated out of existence we would never see their like again. But their succesors seem to survive, and the action of Secretary McAdoo in giving prompt warning against these would-be profiteers under the insurance law will be commended by all.

SEED CORN MOST VITAL QUESTION

Testing Gains Hold With Farmers; Much Corn Found Dead

HELP MY NEIGHBORS

County Agent Gives Instructions For Testing; No Time For Guessing

The growth of the seed testing idea among the farmers of Clark county this year appears from all reports reaching The News, to have been remarkable and the need for it was never greater.

Carr Lentz, of Utica township, who has been testing seed for many farmers in that section, has found a very large proportion of dead seed and this in a section of the county that ranks with the best from the agricultural point of view, both as to soil conditions and the qualifications of the farmers. In many cases the seed offered for testing proved to be of no value as seed.

Those who have good seed corn are announcing that they are prepared to help out their less fortunate neighbors to the limit of their supplies. Good seed will of course command a price very much greater than corn which will not serve for that purpose so that the farmer who has seed corn —proved such by test —may readily dispose of this and buy other corn for feeding purposes and be money in pocket.

The plan of helping out the neighbor is approved and so far as possible seed corn will be obtained by the farmers from those living in the same township. There is said to be enough seed corn but only if it is not wasted and it if is made available where needed.

The Utica Township Farmers' Institute is doing good work in its section and had a fine meeting last week when sed corn was one of the subjects taken up and considered. The Institute re-elected most of the old officers and the following will serve during the ensuing year: Samuel Lentz, chairman; Wallace Jacobs, vice chairman; Hugh D. Marble, secretary; John Lentz, treasurer.

The following are some observations on the seed corn question of vital interest to the farmer, supplied to The News by H. A. Staevens, county agricultural agent:

* * * *

TEST; DON'T GUESS

A Problem For Each Individual Farmer

The gravity of the seed corn situation grows. Reports from all parts of the county indicate that a large proportion of our farmers have not enough seed corn for their own planting. Many of them, a couple of weks ago, believed they had an abundance. Testing out their corn ear by ear has made them wise as to the actual conditions. Germination per centages ranging from 0 to 99 per cent are such convicing arguments that each man who values a good corn crop is going to know the growing qualities of all the seed that he plants. One hundred per cent of the farmers are already using the sand box tester or the rag doll. Even old corn is not always reliable in its growing qualities.

If possible each farmer should use his own seed or that of his neighbors. This is the right thing to do even if the crib run shows from 30 to 50 per cent germation. This is the plan:

In the first jplace, determine the growing qualities of your "crib run" corn. Do this by taking 100 grains from as many ears which are representative of all the corn in the crib. In the germination per centage is 30 per cent or better, take the next step.

Second: Go to the crib and pick out ears that have the appearance of being matured and bright in appearance, in other words the ears you would select under ordinary conditions. After this has been done, examine several grains of each ear with a knife. If the grains taken out show a frozen mushy appearance discard the ear from which they came. Keep all ears, whose grains show live germs for the next step.

Third: Test each individual ear in any of the testers in common use, from 5 to 10 grains should be taken from each ear in this test. They should be taken from all parts of the ear. All ears showing a perfect or near perfect germination should be cared for in the best way possible If for any reason a farmer does not have seed enough of his own, or cannot obtain it in the vicinity of his farm he should register his need with the township leader, or the county leader.

H. A. STEVENS,
County Agricultural Agent

REGIMENTS OF FARMERS MIGHT AID

Suggestion That America Should Increase Crops In Europe

COULD SAVE SHIPPING

Grain Crops Could Be Greatly Increased In France And England

JaJmes B. Green, who has charge of the farm of the Louisville Cement Company and is president of the county farmers' association, has a suggestion as to a manner in which he believes the food shortage question might be solved in part for the western European allies of the United States.

Since the food problem is stated to have two sides—first the necessity of making lerger quantities of grain available for England and France and second that of transporting it across a submarine-infested ocean—Mr. Green believes the probem would be materially assisted by sending several regiments of trained farm workers with the best kind of American equipment to aid in farming the lands of England and France. Mr. Green would advocate as far as possible the removal of all boundaries between farms so that the work might be done on the broad scale customary in America with the aid of gang plows, tractors and other labor-saving devices.

If it is true Mr. Green said, that England raises but one-third of the grain she needs and France also much less than she requires, an effort that might easily double or treble the output during 1918 would be well worth the trying. The same labor that would raise an additional million bushels here would raise an additional million bushes there and the shipping would be set free for other tasks. Since the cost is comparatively speaking no object farming might be done on an intensive scale that should make one thousand acres of land in France or England produce as much as three thousand acres normally produce in this country.

EMPLOYES OF Q. M. D. ORGANIZE

W. D. Holmes President And Ed Wilcoxson Secretary Of Branch

FINE MEETING HELD

Expect Branch Of Federation Of Federal Employes To Lead Country

Further steps were taken at a meeting at Pfau's hall Tuesday night towards organizing the employes of the United States quartermaster's depot in Jeffersonville. A start was made with fifty-three members out of sixty who were present at the meeting, but a large membership is anticipated. One who was present said there was no doubt they would shortly have five hundred members while some sanguine supporters of the movement see a membership of 2,500 out of the more than 4,000 employes of the institution.

William D. Holmes, one of the older employes of the depot in point of service, holding a highly responsible and trusted position there, was elected temporary president, and Edward L. Wilcoxson, who has also been employed at the place in a responsible position for a number of years was made temporary secretary. Permanent officers will be elected when the charter shall be received at an early date.

The orkanization will be known as Branch 83 of the National Federation of Federal Employes and is affiliated with the National Federation of Labor. It is conducted along lines similar to the organization of postoffice employes and is for the purpose of promoting the interests of the employes by all legitimate means, especially by promoting legislation and backing up efforts of that kind. There is no strike clause in the constitution.

All employes of the quartermaster's depot, botah men and women, are eligfiible for membership and this includes clerks, skilled laborers, unskilled laborers and in fact the entire force of the big institution. It is asserted that the branch is destined to be one of the largest and strongest in the country.

The organization is in charge of Roy E. Peabody, national organizer. igmund Lee, of Louisville, who represents the postal employes' organization, assisted and addressed the gathering.

There was some hint of opposition to the organization when the first meeting of the employes was called a couple of weeks ago. This was due to a misunderstanding of the purpose and status of the organization and has been entirely removed. The organization is being formed with the entire goodwill of the officers of the institution. Recently Mr. Peabody visited the depot and he had an interview witah Col. W. S. Wood who gave the movement his approval after going into the matter. This was done not because of any law upon the subject but because ot was felt thar it was the better way to proceed. In fact no one has ever done more perhaps for a body of employes under his direction than Col. Wood has done for the employes of the government depot and his efforts on their behalf have been abundantly appreciated as has been shown recently. He obtained for the employes of different classes better conditions and increases of pay and will continue so to act in their benefit. The n wew organization accordingly starts under happy auspices and its success seems to be well assured.

POLES BLOWN ACROSS TRACK

Charlestown Trolley Service Delayed By Gale Monday Night

Many Charlestown people, in Jeffersonville or Louisville on business Monday, had trouble in getting home that night and some of them returned to the city About thirty were on the car that left soon after six o'clock but got no further than "Dogtown" when the gale, that was more violent there than in Jeffersonville, blew down the trolley poles for a distance of about half a mile. The car nearly ran into the first pole which lay across the track. It returned to Watson junction. Some got home by automobile and a few waited until the B. & O. train came along several hours later while others returned to town. Traffic was restored Tuesday.

DEATH OF OLD SOLDIER WEDNESDAY

William R. Norman Was Also Volunteer Fireman Years Ago

LEAVES BIG FAMILY

Born In Louisville, Had Resided Since Boyhood In This City

William Riker Norman, an old soldier and well known resident of Jeffersonville, died at 3:20 Wednesday morning at his residence at 1008 East Chestnut street. Death was due to senile gangrene after a long sickness and the end had been expected for some time.

Mr. Norman was born in Louisville August 23, 1844, the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Norman, but he had lived in this city from boyhood. He served in the federal armies during the Civil War and a few years after the close of that struggle he married Miss Catherine Miller who survives him after forty-eight years of married life.

Of a large family of children eight survive: Mrs. Kate Delanty wife of John Delanty; Mrs. Lucy Nolan, wife of Harry Nolan; Mrs. Nora Ogle, wife of John Ogle; Mrs. Susie Leppert, wife of Carl Leppert; Thomas Norman Harry Norman, John Norman and Otto Norman, all residents of this city except Mrs. Nolan who is at Los Angeles, Cal. Two other daughters died within the past year or two, Mrs. Ada Raines and Mrs. Walter Rager.

Besides being a veteran of the civil war Mr. Norman was also a veteran volunteer fireman and belonged for years to their organization. He was a member of Jeffersonville Post, No. 86, Grand Army of the Republic. Funeral services will be held at the house at 2 o'clock Thursday conducted by the Rev. E. O. Thomas, of Park M. E. church, Port Fulton and interment will be at the Eastern cemetery.

RETURNS FROM TRIP TO SOUTHERN STATES

Orlando Chandler of the American Car and Foundry Company, returned Tuesday from a combined business and pleasure trip which took him through Mississippi and Alabama and included a visit to relatives in that part of the country. He saw something of the big shipbuilding operations under way at New Orleans and Biloxi, Miss., and came back much impressed with what is pending in that direction.

Circuit Court Notes

H. M. Frank, executor of the will of John F. Fry, filed his final report accounting for $8,862.57 balance for distribution of which one-third goes to the widow, who was the second wife, and the remainder equally to four children —Herbert Fry, William Fry, Novella Frank and Howard Fry.

HEARING ON TRACTION PETITION

Public Service Commission Sets March 19; To Be Held In This City

Notice has been received by The News that the Public Service Commission of Indiana has set for hearing at the City Hall, this city for Tuesday, March 19 at 10 a. m. the petition of the Louisville & Southern Indiana Traction Company for authority to cancel and modify certain rates in Port Fulton and Jeffersonville, and to discontinue certain transfers and street car service in the City of Jeffersonville.

A hearing on similar petition affecting New Albany service will be held in that city the day following:

The petition as to this city requests authority to discontinue local car service on Spring Hill, to abolish transfers to and from New Albany cars, to establish a rate of five cents straight on city cars and to increase the price of school tickets.

The final report of Nathaniel H. White, administrator of the estate of Edward J. White, was approved and administrator was discharged. It accounted for $200.50 and balance of $24.25 and interest in real estate to go to the administrator who is a brother and sole heir of decedent. The costs included $100 received from the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern Railroad Company on account of the death of White who was killed while walking on the tracks on his way to Watson.

In the separate damage action of Rosa B. King and James H. King by his next friend Rosa B. King against Mary Kempf, defendant filed motion for the examination of plaintiffs.

On plaintiff's motion for change of venue the divorce suit of Claudia Schad against Andrew Schad was ordered sent to Scott county for trial. It came here from Floyd county.

William Brady filed bond of $600 with a surety company on the obligation and qualified as guardian of Ellen Brady, a person of unsound mind, who was recently committed to the Southeastern Hospital for the Insane.

The current report of George DeArk as guardian of Herbert Lee McGregor and William Earl McGregor was filed and approved accounting for receipts of $1,875.79 and showing balance of $1,758.43 for future accounting, made up of $1,128 in road bonds, $630 mortgage and 43 cents cash.

Default was made in the divorce proceeding of Elizabeth Ford against Warren Ford and the prosecuting attorney appeared for the defendant and filed answer in denial placing the case at issue and ready for trial. The couple were married February 4, 1910, and separated March 10, 1917.

In the suit of Louis Lovell against George W. Martin, to recover $230.28 alleged due on a contract under which the plaintiff was to saw 10,000 feet of lumber for the defendant, a motion was made by the defendant requiring the plaintiff to give a non-resident's bond for costs and the same was sustained by Judge James W. Fortune.

PART OF BUILDING AT DEPOT SINKING

A part of the new warehouse buildings northeast of the United States quartermaster's depot have settaled two or three inches and work has been discontinued there until it can be seen to what extent the stability of these and proposed structures is threatened. The buildings are on ground that formerly was unstable but has been filled with great quantities of dirt. It is probable that the settling will not be greater than might be expected and that can be provided for.

Cold feet may be habitual, constitutional or from general ill health, commonly they are so by habit. Tight shoes, a sedentary life and overeating are often guilty, asserts an authority. When there is too little ventilation of the feet or the stockings are too thick, the relief isn't easy. The feet are kept warm better by wearing thin hose and low shoes, cold baths and vigorous massage, active exercise outdoors—especially walking—than by inactive indoor life. Frequent daily washing of the feet helps to restore their warmth.

Concrete for Irrigation Gates.

Concrete as a material for gate structures in American irrigation canals is beginning to displace wood, its durability overcoming the disadvantage of higher cost.

[illegible]

Pennsylvania avenue [illegible] is usually listed among the world's famous streets, but to the Washingtonian this avenue has not half the importance and attractiveness of F street, the recognized parade ground of the fashionable on sunny afternoons. F street in Washington is an institution like the monument, the government clerk and band concerts in the parks. It dates back far enough to tax the memory of Washington's few oldest inhabitants, but no records of its origin are filed in the city hall.

Cleans Inside of Bottles.

THE WOMAN'S TOAST
(By EVA L. CRAWFORD

Kaiser, come drink a toast with me
Let the red wine reach to the brim;
Then you and I will drink to him
Whom I once proudly called my son.
Fate had decreed for me but one.
I ne'er shall see that boyish smile again,
Dead in the trenches—after Aisne.

Your gracious majesty will drink with me?
We'll fill our glasses, let them clink,
Then you and I a toast will drink
To him who held me to his heart
And told me we should never part
My husband—for one brief and happy day,
Dead on the battlefield—after Marne.

Oh, great and noble Kaiser, drink with me,
We'll fill our glasses to the brim,
Then you and I will drink to him
Who held me closely in his arms
At the first sound of war's alarm,
Kissed my brow tenderly and smoothed my hair,
Murmuring fervently the while this prayer,
"My child, my darling child,
God keep you always safe and undefiled."
My father, whom I loved so well,
The sea! the cruel sea—the submarine U-3.

Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Utrecht will observe their golden wedding anniversary today at their home on the Charlestown road east of New Albany, but on account of the ill health of both no entertainment will be given. They were married in Clark county not far from their present home, which they have occupied for thirty-five years, at the home of Mrs. Utrecht's sister Mrs. Louis Dreyer, the Rev. W. C. Young performing the ceremony. Mrs. Utrecht was Miss Henrietta Loheide. She is 70 and her husband is 77. Their entire lives have been spent in the same neighborhood. Their living children are Mrs. Frank Baumgartel, of Harrison County; Henry L. Utrecht, of New Albany, and William Utrecht who resides with his parents. They also have thirteen grandchildren.

On Lecture Platform

William H. Stout, formerly school principal here, has just completed a tour of several cities of Ohio on the lyceum lecture platform and will spend a few days visiting in this city. ### Clear Conscience.

Say, old fellow, don't carry the joke too far. Send the umbrella to Room 11, Fraternity Building. If the owner is not in just set it up beside the door. Or if you have that weak feeling and are in need of a tonic, and not able to climb the stairway, you can just stick the shower stick in at the lower door entrance and return home, or any old place you like, carrying a clear conscience of one having done a good and worthy deed. Try it once.—Winchester Sun.

About Constipation

Certain articles of diet tend to check movements of the bowels. The most common of thee are cheese, tea, and boiltd mik. On the other hand raw fruits, especially apples and bananas, also graham bread and whole wheat bread promote a movement of the bowels. When the bowels are badly constipated, however, the sure way is to take one or two of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper.

Live Right.

Right living and the right kind of work have changed many a stunted boy into a well-developed man, asserts an educator. Spiritual growth is not greatly aided by sitting down and thinking about it. Live in the sunshine of trust. Rely on a strength higher than your own. Reach out helpfully to others, and growth in the divine life will look after itself.

After such splendid results with "Seventy-seven" send for a free copy of Dr. Humphreys' Manual of all diseases and dip into its wealth of information on domestic practice, describing in simple language the maladies proper for a layman to treat. ### Translated Into English.

All books of the Old Testament apocrypha, 14 in number, have been translated into English, and are included as apochryphal books in some editions of the Bible. They were formerly printed under a distinctive heading between the Old and the New Testaments, and in that form can still be found in many old family Bibles. They are always included in the so-called Septuagint, a version of the Bible used by the Greek church.

A Hint To The Aged

If people past sixty years of age could be persuaded to go to bed as soon as they take cold and remain in bed for one or two days, they would recover much more quickly, especially if they take Chamberlain's Cough emedy. There would also be less danger of the cold being followed by any of the more serious diseases.

So It Seemed To This Lady, Until Cardui Relieved Her Suffering.

Wyandotte, Mich.—"About a year and a half ago," writes Mrs. Florence Rogers, now of this place, formerly of Florida, "I had got in very bad health. Everything was wrong. I couldn't eat anything that didn't make me suffer...My limbs also gave me great pain and the pains in the limbs extending down to the knees. I too had awful pains in the back and was very thin and run-down in health...was terribly nervous. Everything would startle me...

An acquaintance told me of the great benefit she had received from Cardui...I was so bad off I couldn't do my work. The little daughter had to take charge of the work, and I could hardly walk...

I began using Cardui, and in about a week I felt much improved...I got better right along, after taking the Cardui...In about 2 weeks after taking the Cardui, I was able to do all my work except the washing...In a month more, I could do all my work, and the washing too."

RED CROSS STILL IN NEED OF SUPPLIES

Impossible for American Women to Oversupply Hospitals With Surgical Dressings.

Startling as it may seem the assertion is true that French surgeons at times were forced to operate upon wounded soldiers without the use of anaesthetics or surgical dressings.

This information was given by Mrs. Benjamin G. Lathrop, director of the Paris depot of the American Fund for French Wounded, in answer to a question as to whether her organization and the Red Cross were not being oversupplied with hospital materials.

"It is impossible for American women to oversupply the Red Cross with surgical dressings when there are 4,000 military hospitals in France which need our help and in addition the civilian relief stations and last, but not least, the new American army hospitals."

Mrs. Lathrop worked to supply French hospitals with anaesthetics and bandages before the United States entered the war and before the Red Cross became a big factor in the situation. She explained the shortage of anaesthetics and other supplies as follows:

"When the Germans invaded France in 1914 they occupied, and still hold, the main manufacturing districts of the country. With most of the factories lost the French had to ask the United States for hospital [illegible]. The enormous number of wounded exceeded their facilities and it is true that some operations were performed without anaesthetics or surgical dressings.

"Rubber goods especially were scarce. Gloves made of French rubber split as soon as the surgeons tried them on. Hot water bottles broke at the first filling. In time we got enough rubber goods from the United States to improve the situation, but there is still acute need for all that possibly can be sent over there."

The Plattsburg Manual Advises the daily use of Foot-Ease in the Shoes There is nothing so good for the quick relief of Corns, Bunions, Chilblains, Blisters, Sore Spot or Callouses as this old standard remedy, Allen's Foot-Ease, the antiseptic powder to shake into the shoes. ### Thieves Bury Auto.

Somewhat out of the ordinary in making away with stolen cars was the method of Springfield, Mass., thieves, who buried a car in a lonely wooded spot not far from the state line. Boys passing discovered what appeared to be a newly made grave and notified the police, who when they dug a short time, uncovered a windshield. The car bore a Massachusetts license.

New Electric Furnaces.

The success of electric heat in japan and varnish oven work has led to considerable investigation along the line of what might be termed low temperature heating; that is, heating with temperatures up to 600 degrees Fahrenheit. The results of these investigations have brought out numerous other applications, among which are electric core baking ovens, electric bread baking ovens, ovens for making cereals, drying woolen articles and equipment for sherardizing.

Ball vs. Roller Bearings.

Ball bearings are a German invention, and it is only a few years ago that they made their appearance on the market. Roller bearings, both cylindrical and conical, are an American invention. The advantages claimed for the rollers over the balls are that they can sustain both the radial and the axial strain and they are more easily replaced when they become worn.

Lute Out of Existence.

The lute has vanished. It was one of the oldest of instruments, and had a beautiful vibrant tone somewhat like that of the harp. But its size and complexity were against it. It had a long tail and many strings, and while its size increased its power and range, it also increased its weight and made it cumbrous. The minstrel of today plays on the mandolin, the guitar or the banjo—and the lute is forgot.

Private Snow Sees Wonders of Modern Army Life at McClellan.

WATCHES BAYONET DRILLS

Relic of Confederate Days in Open-Mouthed Astonishment Watches Irish Instructor—Says Conditions Are Not as They Were in '60s.

Camp McClellan, Anniston, Ala.—Private Clark Snow, he of the Alabama "Yellow Hammers," who fought for the Confederacy back in the '60s, limped into Camp McClellan to give the boys of the Blue and Gray a few pointers on how to lick the Huns.

"I have had no experience with Mr. Kaiser, but I reckon what Colonel Johnston and I went through a few years back was a fair sample of what you youngsters are due to stack up against over yonder," declared the grizzled veteran of the struggle between the North and the South, as he introduced himself to the students of modern warfare.

"We didn't have those new-fangled gases, but we had a battle against the effects of some of the rottenest corn whisky that ever came from a still, and I reckon that's just as bad. Take it from me, youngsters, it's a good thing for Uncle Sam that these moonshiners have been scared into burying themselves away for the winter."

Private Clark Snow, with his chest puffed out to fill up a spick and span gray uniform made from the remnants of the one in which he fought for the Confederacy, was standing in the center of a modern soldier city of 30,000 men and nearly as many canvas canopies. He was escorted by a bunch of soldier enthusiasts who were proud to be a part of the Twenty-ninth division and wanted to show the gray-haired "vet" all the mysteries of present-day fighting.

Shown Bayonet School.

The first thing the sightseers tumbled into was the bayonet school. Here Sergeant "Bill" Madden, the fiery little Irishman delegated to Camp McClellan as a part of the British war mission, was trying to make a group of pink-cheeked ex-office clerks look bloodthirsty. A dozen or more bayonet blades glistened in the sunlight, and there was "Peppery Bill" Madden standing at the head of the class juggling a formidable-looking overgrown jackknife.

"Ataboy; put some beef behind that jab! If you don't get him he'll get you!" shouted Bill.

The embryo fighters were being taught to slice imaginary Germans to ribbons.

"Cut that sentiment stuff out!" bawled Bill to a baby-featured private whose face never had been introduced to a razor. "That's not a knitting needle you have in your hand. Poke it right through that guy's ribs and yank it out again before he's had a chance to realize that he's dead. Steady now. Rotten! That one went between his legs. You're as good as dead already. Carry your corpse over there and watch me do it."

With teeth gritted, face drawn into a million or more wrinkles and every muscle of his body at high tension, the spirited product of the Emerald Isle went through the move. If he didn't kill a German it was because there wasn't one around.

Could Lick Whole Army.

"I thought I knew a thing or two about using those hedge trimmers," gasped Private Clark Snow at the conclusion of the exhibition, "but that Irishman could lick a whole German army all by himself. If you youngsters ever get worked up to the same state of mind he's in there'll be a lot of the kaiser's gang snoozing with their toes to the sky this time next year."

In open-mouthed wonderment the relic of Confederate days watched the little foreign instructor disappear in the distance. It was mess time and the "Yellow Hammer" didn't have to be coaxed to eat with a company of the Blue and Gray.

Soup, roast beef, mashed potatoes, vegetables, coffee and rice pudding disappeared before the veteran's assault. He didn't have the heart to tell the boys of 1918 what he thought of the soldier meal until it was ended.

Too full for lengthy expression, Snow remarked: "And us fellers used to think we were kings when we had bread pudding once a week."

On all parts of the reservation the visitor found eyeopeners galore. Giant motor trucks hummed in and out of the well-laid winding camp streets in place of the old-time army mule. The whole camp was as spick and span as the best cared for front lawn. On every side there were evidences of "pep" and enthusiasm. And the peculiar part of the whole thing to Snow appeared the fact that everybody seemed busy performing some important task.

After paying his respects to the Stars and Stripes at retreat the veteran summarized his impressions of the inspection tour with tear-dimmed eyes: "If our boys had all the good things you have today there would be a lot more of us alive to tell the story. Conditions are not like they were back in the '60s."

YOUNGSTER SAVED SUGAR

Four-Year-Old Dropped It So Big Soldier Brother Might Have Some

In an article on food conservation in the February Farm and Fireside a writer says:

"I was visiting the home of a dry farmer away out in the new country of the West, far from a railroad. At dinner the youngest child, four years old, was sprinkling his baked apple liberally with sugar and incidentally spiling the sugar all a round the dish.

"Philip,' said his mother, 'if you waste sugar that way, Brother won't get any.'

"'Then I won't eat sugar,' said Philip, his eyes very wide as he thought of wonderful big brother, away with the soldiers having to get along without sugar.

"That was last summer, and the message had already found its way to practical working out in this remote Western home.

"'One of the hardest lessons I had to learn,' a Minnesota housewife said to me,' was that patriotic housekeeping no longer meant merely the most economical sousekeeping. War breads might cost more than wheat bread meat substitutes might be more expensive than meat, but for the sake of our soldiers and sailors and our overburdened allies, we must use substitutes regardless of cost."

LETTER FROM CAPT. DANIEL GLOSSBRENNER

Tells Of Conditions Existing In Flanders; Studies Artillery

INTERVIEWS GENERAL

Nephew Of Mrs. J. H. Warder Went Over With Rainbow Division

The News publishes below an interesting letter from a member of one of the best known of Jeffersonville families, though not himself a resident of this city, now serving his land and ours across the sea. The writer of the letter is Capt. Daniel Glossbrenner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred M. Glossbrenner of Indianapolis nephew of Mrs. Joseph H. Warder of this city and grandson of Mrs. Jennie Glossbrenner who is at presecent the guest of her daughter here. The young man's father was born in Jeffersonville.

Capt. Glossbrenner was given a commission as first lieutenant after going through a course at the officers' training camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison and later was promoted captain. He was attached to the First Indiana Field Artillery regiment which went abroad as the Hoosier element in the Rainbow Division which was made up of National Guard units representative of some forty states.

The letter was written January 27 from Flanders, which statement discloses no information relative to American troops as the young captain was at that time visiting the British lines, presumably in order to get some ideas from seeing artillery in action. The letter will be found very interesting to Jeffersonville readers and is as follows:

I have been unable to write for the last six days due to my "activity" in a very busy part of the line. I am enjoying a little visit with an English Battery.

We have a very interesting little "mess" in which I am writing. When I speak of "mess" I mean the recreation and eating rendezvous for the officers in the Battery. It is a little steel culvert in the ruins of an old building. It is "most extraordinary" (a la Anglais) how men can exist and make themselves cosy and cheerful in such ruins.

We were sitting at the table day before yesterday and heard the familiar whirr of "Fritz's" shell overhead. He was only shelling the remains of a railway station which was about a hundred and fifty yards in rear of our "dining room." He dropped only twelve shells. In the afternoon I went over to see the effect and investigate the shell holes.

You have been told and still hear of "Fanders mud" but you can't appreciate how nice old Indiana dust is until you see this sea. One can hardly realize the devastation and havoc wrought in the battle zones.

I had the pleasure of sending my "compliments" by shell route to the Hun the other day. I also made a trip to the line under fire. Fritz evidently knew I was coming as we were greeted by his 5.9 shells on a forward crest. One has to recall all of his athletic training in order to enjoy the dives, rolls and twists which are necessary to "good health" in a shelled area. We finally landed at our observation station from where I reviewed the Hun lines, some two to five hundred yards away. He is quite a worker but he does it most at night. The same old methodical German mind sticks out in all his lines and action.

I am seeing the whole show from A to 2 and only hope I will get a chance to put the knowledge and experience to use.

One of the Battery officers went to a balloon the other day and went up. Of course the Hun got a direct hit on the cable and the occupants found themselves going upwards; they both jumped from 4200 feet and 5400 feet respectively, and landed in our lines safely. It was quite an experience for our officer. By the way he is a Canadian from Winnipeg. He was a professor in a university. His name is Wilson.

We enjoyed (?) a whiff of gas the other night and if you want to imagine one with a gas helmet on take a good look at the next rail-welder working on some of the crossings down town.

I've been traveling in rather high army society, such as it is. Yesterday I visited tawo Infantry Generals in the front line, each of which was comfortably located in old Hun "pill boxes". (A pill box is a concrete Hun dugout which is generally of shell-proof construction). These pill boxes when in the Hun's hands were electrically lighted and elaborately furnished. Of course they move without their household belongings as in the above cases.

In the evening Gasper and myself dined at a General's headquarters some few miles in the rear. We spent a very enjoyable evening and I think I interviewed most every officer from a Second Lieutenant to the General. We returned in the Battery car to our "hones" amongst the shadows of ruined churches.

The "mess" had a little "Victor" machine which went bad just before I arrived and most everyone had worked on it trying to fix it. They are a great recreation and I may send up an "S O S" call for the "Victor" which I sent home from Camp Mills. We play bridge quite a good deal and some of the English officers can play, too, by the way.

I must close now as our evening meal is about ready.

I am feeling fine and getting lots of exercise.

ADDITIONAL FERRY BOAT SOON

Capt. E. L. Dorsey Expects To Have It Ready In Two Weeks

Capt. E. L. Dorsey expects to have the auxiiiary ferry steamer, which was bought at Pittsburg, in service in about two weeks. The boat is now at Fern Grove undergoing extensive repairs made necessary by the pounding it received at Cincinnati when the gorge broke. The boat was tied up behind the City of Cincinnati which saved it when every other boat there was severey damaged and most of them sunk. When the Cincinnati was hit she turned haf ovtr on the ferry boat breaking down the guards and damaging the top structure. The boat was however saved from serious damage.

The additional boat will, Capt. Dorsey expects, materially aid the company in handling passenger traffice this year. The boat is a small side-wheeler with capacity for about ten wagons but by her addition a regular fifteen minute schedule may be established and maintained with punctuality and thereby the passenger traffic be properly catered to. It is not frequent that awgons area left behind now but the wait of thirfy minues is too long and tends to drive business away.

SOLDIERS PAY VISIT TO INDIANA REFORMATORY

BIG DRIVE FOR INDIANA STARTS APRIL 19

Women To Be Registered And Enrolled For War Work

VOLUNTARY SERVICE

Expect To Make Record; Showing Will Be Matter Of Pride

Enrollment and registration for war service as a patriotic duty in the war emergency, was the point driven home in a state-wide conference, aturday, February 16, at the state house, Indianapolis, of women war workers from all parts of Indiana.

More than eighty women were present for the session, which was in the nature of a taraining school or school of instruction for the women who are to be in charge of the big registration drive, starting April 19, when, in a period of ten days Hoosier women are to be enrolled and registered, classified and listed as to their capacities for usefulness along patriotic and voluntary service lines such as the war emergency suggests.

The women from over the state were instructed in their duties in connection with the details of organization, preparatory publicity and educational work, and registration, and printed matter was distributed covering the points made by Mrs. Angeline B. Cook, who represented Mrs. Anne Studebaker Carlisle, head of the women's section of the state council of defense.

Miss Julia Landers, chairman of the state committee on women's enrollment and registration for war service, made a stirring patriotic address in which she declared that no loyal Indiana woman, understanding the situation, would refuse to register for service, and that the woman who refused to register after the matter had been made clear should not be permitted to do so, as her registration under duress would be of small value and would constitute an insult to the United States government which has asked the women to register as a patriotic act made necessary by the demands of the war and the needs of the hour.

It is estimated Indiana has 838,000 women 21 and over. The April registration, starting on the anniversary of the battle of Lexington, is to include not only women of voting age, but girls from 16 to 21 which means two armies of Indiana women for service in the war where women can be most useful.

It is confidently believed that the April drive will enroll more than 500,000 Hoosier women and that those who register at that time will help in still further effors to get a full roster of Indiana womanhood pledged to war service on a volunteer basis.

One thing Miss Landers and Mrs. A. B. Cook, who will assist in the administration of the work, especially impressed on the conference of women was the fact that the registration has been asked for by the war administration at Washington as a war measure. Other states, many of them, already have registered their women for war service under the instructions of the council of national defense and the president. It is expected that Indiana's spring drive will put the state out in front, where it stands in practically all other war activities, including the enlistments of men in various branches of military and patriotic service.

Reegistration cards classifying the capabilities and talents and voluntary offers of service of Indiana women will be preserved in the county seats by the county councils of defense. Each county will send its summary and classification recapitulation to the state council of defense, to Washington for the information of the national war administration.

One point emphasized at the conference was the fact that the housewife and mother,—the home maker, —is performing in her proper pace and in the proper way a very definite patrioti c duty which is not to be disturbed, and which must be done. The mother and home-maker, with her hands full of household cares, will register and be classified with the other patriotic women, but will not in any case be called on to lay down the fundamentals in order to take on purely war tasks. She will be credited for such Red Cross or other work as she is able to do in addition to her household business, but will not be expected to go out of her classification to perform war tasks that other women should perform. The fact that a woman is busy as a home-maker does not relieve her from the duty of registering as a patriot in her proper classification in order that the federal government may know she is on the home job helping to make the nation safe by operating a true American home on the American basis of loyalty and full observance of war-time rules and requirements.

"Indiana women are out to make a record, and there is good reason to expect that our showing will be a matter for pride. In the meantime there is a lot of work to be done, and the next few weeks will see much educational effort preparatory to the registration and enrollment drive."

INITIATES THIRD GENERATION

William White, The Third Becomes Member Of Myrtle Lodge, K. P.

A very interesting ceremony took place Tuesday evening at the meeting of Myrtle lodge, No. 19, Knights of Pythias, when the rank of page was conferred upon William L. White, of Port Fulton who was 21 last October and who is the third genueration of "William Whites" to be initiated into the lodge.

The first member of the family was William A. White, of Port Fulton, who was initiated many years ago and has been dead for several years. The second member was his son, William E. White, who is a merchant and who is still a member in good standing in the lodge. The third generation is represented by his son who received the first rank Thursday night.

A further concidence was that the principal part of the duty of conferring the degree was discharged by George White of this city. The second and third ranks, raising the young man to the position of "knight" will be conferred next Tuesday evening. At that time there will also be held a social session. There was a good attendance on Tuesday night and even better is expected at the next meeting.

SHELLS AND ALL

"What in the name of goodness Gloriosa, is the matter with this cake?" the young farmer asked.

"Why, there can be nothing the matter with it," explained the city brde. "I followed the recipe exactly. Maybe it was the fault of the eggs. I thought eggs were soft and yellow inside, but these were white and brittle all through, and I had to powder them with the flatiron, and——"

"Where did you get them?"

"In the henhouse, darling. There was only one egg in each nest, and ——"

"Great Scott, Gloriosa, you have used my china nest eggs!"

DEATH OF WATCHMAN ON BOAT

Henry Kirker, Of Cincinnati, Stricken With Scant Warning

ON 'ISLAND QUEEN'

Was Member Of Crew Which Brought Boat Safely Through Ice

Henry Kirker, age 74, of Cincinnati, night watchman on the steamer "Island Queen" and one of the crew of seven men which brought her safely down to this port when the gorge broke, died at 7:30 Thursday morning of organic heart disease.

When Kirker went off duty he complained of having felt sick during the night and he went up on the bank at Howards shipyards whese the boat is undergoing repairs after the gruelling she received in the ice on her adventrous trip down the river. A short time afterwards some of the men at Howards yards noticed him staggering around as though suffering and they called to the boat. Capt. William Eakins sent John Carrico and David Richie up the bank to bring him back to the boat but the stricken man died just as they were reaching the deck with their burden.

Coroner Fromian M. Coots was called to hold an inquest and pronounced that death was due to organic heart disease, evidence showing he had previously suffered similar spells which sometimes caused him to fall. The body was pretared for burial and will be shipped to his home at Cincinnati where members of the crew said he had a wife and family. He was said by them to be a man of good standing and much regret was felt among the members of the crew at his demise.

The "Island Queen" arrived here February 2 after battling with very heavy ice. She was one of several boats that were in the mouth of the Kentucky river at Carrollton when the first big ice gorge came down. Most of the craft were sunk, but the "Island Queen", thanks to the nerve and skill of her captain, the pluck and devotion of the crew, aided by a certain amount of good fortune, weathered the buffeting and got safely through. She is being put in shape to resume her service in the excursion business in which she was engaged at Cincinnati.

Fred Dickow, chief engineer and Dud Howard are the other members of the crew besides Richard Lacey who happened to be on the boat when he was cut off with his own craft from the shore and who was arrested after his arrival at Louisville.

GAVE WHEAT TO HIS HORSES

Farmer Tells Of Case He Heard Of At Livery Stable

A farmer in the city a day or two ago told of an incident which occurred at a livery stable in the city recently. A farmer in from the country, he said, left his horse and rig at a livery stable and instructed the stableman that he would find feed for the horse in the rig. When it came time to feed the horse the stableman went to get the feed but opening th esack found wheat there. Supposing that the farmer had made a mistake he fed the horse corn from the stable and when the owner came later for the horse told him what he had done and called his attention to the supposed mistake in bringing wheat as feed for his beast. But the farmer was annoyed at his having fed corn and declared that he had intentionally brought wheat, said that they were feeding that to heir horses and took it away with him again to be used in that manner.

Large Family Survives Aged Woman Who Was Born In Germany

Mrs. Frances Miller, age 71, wife of Peter Miller, 730 East Chestnut street, died at 8:50 Thursday morning at the home of her son, Bernard Miller, 1409 East Market street, New Albany where she had gone Wednesday to spend the night, intending to return home Thursday morning.

It is supposed that Mrs. Miller suffered an attack of vertigo in her bedroom which caused her to fall. Her jawbone was fractured and a hemorrhage also resulted which proved fatal. The body was later brought to the family residence in this city.

Mrs. Miller was born in Germany March 25, 1846, her maiden name being Miss Frances Armbruster. She was brought here as a child in 1853 and was married here to her surviving husband. She leaves seven children: George T. Miller, Mrs. William Biedenbach, Louisville; Edward Miller, Frank A. Miller, Mrs. eHury Reed, Jeffersonville; John Miller and Bernard Miller of New Albany. There are also seventeen grandchildren, three great grand children and two sisters, Mrs. Frank Berbet of this city and Mrs. Frank Egg of Lonisville. She was a member of St. Anthony's Catholic church where the funeral will be held, probably Saturday morning.

Ignored Body Evaporation.

In the early days of steam vessels a firing suit was invented. A thin metal or asbestos cover was lined with rubber. The wearer carried a small water tank on his back. By opening a small valve near his shoulder he could sprinkle his bare skin. The inventor scalded to death, notes a writer, trying to prove his point. The sad part of it was that he was on the wrong track entirely. The suit made body evaporation nearly impossible, and that is really what cools us.

Lute Out of Existence.

The lute has vanished. It was one of the oldest of instruments, and had a beautiful vibrant tone somewhat like that of the harp. But its size and complexity were against it. It had a long tail and many strings, and while its size increased its power and range, it also increased its weight and made it cumbrous. The minstrel of today plays on the mandolin, the guitar or the banjo—and the lute is forgot.

STRENGTH AND ENDURANCE

Are factors of the greatest success.

No person can do full justice to himself without them.

In no season of the year are they more easily exhausted than in the spring.

We need not discuss the reason for this here. It's enough to say there is one, and that Hood's Sarsaparilla gives strength and endurance, as thousands annually testify.

GROWING LESS

(By Sue Finley Read)

This war has put us in a mess,
And everything grows less and less,
At first, we did not mind the strain
Of self-denial, thus to gain,
But, now, they've gone a bit too far,
And, some of these things we ought to bar.

For some of our checks are passless,
And surely our stoves are gasless,
And, it's plain to see, and you will agree,
That few of our young girls are fastless.

Our automobiles, they are crankless,
And most of our dear wives are thankless.
And, it has been said, before we are dead,
That all of our banks will be bankless.

Now, some of our days, they are breadless,
And often our bodies feel headless—
When we come to know, that it is quite so,
That our precious kiddies are fedless.

Our once cozy flats are now heatless,
Our tables are many times meatless,
And, during the ice, we fall just as nice,
Because we are oftentimes feetless.

Each Sunday and Thursday are lightless,
Making the show windows sightless,
And, take it from me, you have found it to be,
That when you buy spare-ribs, they're biteless.

Our stocks and our bonds have proved gainless,
And most of the railroads are trainless.
But I'm going to quit, I can't help a bit,
And someone might say I am brainless.

Louisville.

HUNTS FOR BURIED CITY

Scientist Seeking It on the Dolores River.

In search of a buried city on the Dolores river, in southwestern Colorado, Dr. Jesse Walter Fewkes, ethnologist of the Smithsonian institution, Washington, has left for the "Big Bend" district and plans to spend several weeks in his efforts to unearth the Pueblo ruins.

From government archives in Washington Doctor Fewkes learned that two Spanish explorers who passed through southwestern Colorado more than 200 years ago told of communal houses located along the Dolores, and as there is no trace of these dwellings now, it is believed they have been covered by sand drift. The archeological quest may result in the finding of a prehistoric city, Doctor Fewkes believes.

HE'S OLDEST RAILROADER

James Frew Has Been in the Business for Sixty-Five Years.

James Frew of Fort Madison, Ia., recently retired as a Santa Fe employee, lays claim to being the oldest railroad man in the United States in point of service. He has worked for 65 years on the railroads of England and America.

Frew is seventy-eight years old and began work as a laborer on the English roads when thirteen years old. Coming to this country as a young man, he continued as general foreman, master mechanic and division superintendent.

As he grew older he was forced to give up these responsible positions, but he continued railroading, as that was before the day of pensions for worthy employees retiring on account of age.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Working and Thinking.

There is no less virtue, rather more, in events, tasks, duties, obligations, than there is in books. Work itself has a singular power to unfold and develop our nature. The difference is not between working people and thinking people, but between people who work without thinking and people who think while they work.—Henry Van Dyke.

Age of the Fountain Pen.

The fountain pen is not a recent invention, as might be imagined; for it is referred to in Samuel Taylor's "Universal System of Shorthand Writing," published in 1786.

A Hint To The Aged

If people past sixty years of age could be persuaded to go to bed as soon as they take cold and remain in bed for one or two days, they would recover much more quickly, especially if they take Chamberlain's Cough emedy. There would also be less danger of the cold being followed by any of the more serious diseases.

The Shawm.

A shawm was a wind instrument of the [illegible] class but with a wider bell. It is a very old type of musical instrument, as it is spoken of by the Psalmist. The Romans used it freely. There were treble shawms and bass shawms, and the name gradually gave way about the sixteenth century to "hoboy" or "howboy," eventually evolving to "oboe."

Needless to Copy Others.

To do anything because others do it, and not because the thing is good, or kind, or honest in its own right, is to resign all moral control and captaincy upon yourself, and go post haste to the devil with the greatest number.—Stevenson.

America's Natural Bridges.

There are probably more natural bridges in America than in any other country. Rainbow, the largest in existence, is 308 feet high. Its span is six times as great as that of the natural bridge of Virginia. Utah has three natural bridges that are higher and of greater span than any other natural bridges in the world.

EVERY CITIZEN SOLDIER ON DUTY AT HIS HOME

Everyone must help if we are to win. The soldier must obey orders or there will be no army. The people must be one or there will be no nation. So that we win, all of us must follow directions.

This is your war guide for use in your home.

It tells you what foods we must save to provision ourselves and our allies; it tells how we can stretch our supplies so everyone will have enough—without any hurt to your health or your strength.

Your government does not ask you to give up three square meals a day—nor even one. All it asks is that you eat less of the foods we need to keep the armies going and eat all you want of the other things that we have in plenty.

Eat plenty—keep up your strength and your vim to help win the war. You have dedicated to the nation everything that you have; you are asked now to give up—just some habits of the kitchen and table.

America and her allies must not run out of wheat, meat, or fats. If we let that happen, Germany will win the war.

We must save sugar, use every drop of milk, and—we must learn to follow directions.

An Indian Dawn.

I awoke—and beyond the great trees I saw the dawn come up like thunder, as it does on Mandaley. Exactly like thunder it came up, rolling, rising, crashing clouds of copper and dull gold, reddening, breaking, mounting, out-topping one another.—Atlantic.

The descriptions are so clear, plain and simpe, that anyone can name their aiment by reading Dr. Humphreys' Manual, a compact little Medical Volume that fits the side pocket, mailed free on request, address; Humphreys' Homeopathic Medicine Co., 156 William St., New York.

KEEPS MEN CONTENTED

Canteen Service of Red Cross Has Good Influence.

Soldiers Are Given the Home Touches and Little Attentions That Mother Understands.

Washington.—Canteen service as provided by the American Red Cross for our soldiers in France is one of the most potent influences for keeping the men contented and in the right frame of mind to smash the Germans, says Mrs. Jean Hull, who is in this country on two months' leave.

"A canteen is a long shack where the soldiers are served coffee, sandwiches and more substantial food, as well as sweets. Here a soldier may get his clothes mended, may have them cleaned after the filth of the trenches, and if he is homesick may pour out his heart to one of the American women in charge."

In other words, the canteen furnishes that homelike touch which means so much to a man three or four thousand miles from his family and friends.

Mothers with boys in France or in training to go to France will be made happy in knowing that such care is given to their sons by the Red Cross. The American women who have volunteered to run the canteens are among the nation's most cultivated women. They are enduring conditions which are in marked contrast with the surroundings of their own homes.

"Lots of times an American soldier will come into the canteen," said Mrs. Hull, "with a spell of the blues. He has been out in the mud, is tired and hungry, and most of all wants sympathy. When he sees us women cheerfully washing in a mud puddle, sleeping in cold rooms and working long hours on a stretch, he gets ashamed of his feelings and braces up. They are mighty glad to see a woman from home and find our reading room, music and chatter most alluring. We have to run them out at times, they are so eager to stay even after regular hours."

The Plattsburg Manual Advises the daily use of Foot-Etse in the Shoes There is nothing so good for the quick relief of Corns, Bunions, Chilblains, Blisters, Sore Spot or Callouses as this old standard remedy, Allen's Foot-Ease, the antiseptic powder to shake into the shoes. ### California's Weeping Trees.

California has but two species of native trees that are normally of weeping habit. One is Quercus lobata, the valley oak, having its most southerly range near Burbank. The other is Picea Breweriana, the weeping spruce, which is found in a few isolated mountainous sections in the northwestern corner of the state.

THE MANAGEMENT

Genuine Home Thirft means managing the home so well that none of the Father-energy it takes to earn money, or none of the Mother-energy it takes to spend it, is wasted by foolish purchases, extravagant housekeeping or niggardly economy.

In order to achieve these ends the housekeeper must learn how to take care of her savings, even the smallest ones, by business mehods, how to balance her household budget, how to pay her bills by checks, and how to manage her bank account to the best advantage.

WARNING ## TO AUTOMOBILE PURCHASERS.

Prospective purchasersof automobiles are warned, for their own good, against accepting any machine on which the motor number does not appear, as the absence of the figures may be the source of much trouble. Those who apply for license plates cannot secure them without giving the motor number and are liable to arrest for not having the tags displayed, there being a heavy fine. Where motor numbers are lacking trouble, perhaps entire loss, will follow the destruction of a machine by fire, as insurance companies base settlements on the number proof.

Automobile thieves are operating all over the country and one of their first acts is to destroy the motor numbers to prevent identification of a stolen car. There are dealers, who are not authorized agents, but who in some manner get hold of cars, who have adopted the practice of filing off the numbers to carry on a business that is shady. The Ford machines have been the bright mark for those who resort to dishonest or unscrupulous methods to dispose of cars, a number of which have been sold in Clark county.

As the authorized agents for the sale of Ford Automobiles we warn persons who contemplate purchasing machines that if they accept those on which the motor numbers are missing they do so at their peril and may become involved in trouble. In some States it is a felony, punishable by imprisonment to remove a motor number, but such law has not been enacted in Indiana, but probably will be.

We guarantee that all machines purchased from us are backed by the factory owners and bear the original motor numbers.

NUX IRON PEPSIN and SARSAPARILLA — Effective Spring Medicine Combination.

As comprised in Hood's Sarsaparilla and Peptiron, taken in conjunction, these valuable remedies possess unequalled value for the quick relief of a long trail of ailments common in the Spring season. You know well the great tonic properties of iron. They are much increased and improved in this combination—Hood's Sarsaparilla before meals and Peptiron after.

In these days of rushing and pushing, beyond the endurance of even the most robust, nearly every man and woman needs this blood-purifying, cleansing, up-building in the Spring. If it is not supplied, the depletion of the blood and the broken-down nerves may soon give way to permanent ill-health.

If a cathartic is needed, as where there is biliousness or constipation, Hood's Pills should be taken. They are purely vegetable, do not irritate, and work all right with Hood's Sarsaparilla and Peptiron.
